Decolonising Australian History Education Rebecca Cairns, Aleryk Fricker, Sara Weuffen, 2024-06-25. This book is the first of its kind to showcase a range of fresh and expert perspectives on decolonising history education in Australia. The research-informed chapters by First Nations and non-Indigenous educators and scholars provide guidance on applying practical strategies for decolonising learning and teaching and moving beyond the history wars. History has long been the most contentious area of education in Australia. This book tackles the narrow and overtly politicised history wars debates and foregrounds the need to re-examine impacts of settler colonialism on Australia's history. First-hand knowledge and much-needed teaching practices are presented, demonstrating how decolonisation can be put into action through Australian history education. The chapters present a range of perspectives from the early years right through to higher education settings and argue that there is an increased need for greater awareness, appreciation and willingness to explore and engage with multiple narratives of truth-telling that are so often contested. Readers are guided to discover how this translates to classroom practice through unique, provocative and research-informed strategies that foreground applied decolonising approaches. Combining theoretical perspectives and practical ideas, this book is an essential resource to support pre and in-service teachers in all education contexts in navigating the decolonisation of Australian history education. This makes it an important contribution to local as well as global decolonising efforts. A Teachers' Manual in the Use of the Educational Scales Marvin James Van Wagenen, 1928.
