Sierra Club Desert Reader A Literary Companion:

The Sierra Club Desert Reader Gregory McNamee, 1995 The Sierra Club Desert Reader is the inaugural volume in a new series of literary celebrations of the Earth's biomes the major ecological communities that have shaped the collective human experience This unprecedented global anthology of fiction poetry folklore natural history travel commentary and more collected and introduced by a preeminent environmental writer demonstrates the desert's power to enthrall and inspire our finest thinkers and writers Represented in this distinguished volume are poets from ancient China translated by Ezra Pound Egyptian inscriptions the logs of Captain James Cook and the chilling fantasies of Edgar Allan Poe Among other names drawn from many genres are Charles Doughty Marco Polo Mark Twain Antoine de Saint Exupery Herodotus Pliny the Elder T E Lawrence Bruce Chatwin Edith Wharton Percy Bysshe Shelley Jorge Luis Borges as well as classic desert advocates Mary Austin John Muir and Edward Abbey Avowed desert rats and the city bound anyone drawn to the magical realm of open skies and space and dust will find The Sierra Club Desert Reader a trove of literary riches The Desert Reader Gregory McNamee, 2003 First published in 1995 as The Sierra Club Desert Reader this wide ranging anthology is now published only by the University of New Mexico Press Represented in this global selection are poets from ancient China translated by Ezra Pound Egyptian inscriptions the logs of Captain Cook and the chilling fantasies of Edgar Allan Poe as well as the lore of native peoples from around the world Also included are writings from many genres by among others Herodotus Marco Polo Shelley Twain Saint Exupery T E Lawrence Chatwin and Borges A Desert Bestiary Gregory McNamee, 1996 Essays on desert animals Desert Meteorology Thomas T. Warner, 2009-01-18 Aridity prevails over more than one third of the land area of the Earth and over a significant fraction of the oceans as well Yet to date there has been no comprehensive reference volume or textbook dealing with the weather processes that define the character of desert areas Desert Meteorology fills this gap by treating all aspects of desert weather such as large scale and local scale causes of aridity precipitation characteristics in deserts dust storms floods climate change in deserts precipitation processes desertification land surface physics of deserts numerical modelling of desert atmospheres and the effect of desert weather on humans A summary is provided of the climates and surface properties of the desert areas of the world The book is written with the assumption that the reader has only a basic knowledge of meteorology physics and calculus making it useful to those in a wide range of disciplines It includes review questions and problems for the student This comprehensive volume will satisfy all who need to know more about the weather and climate of arid lands It will appeal especially to advanced students and researchers in environmental science meteorology physical geography hydrology and engineering The Desert Michael Welland, 2014-09-15 From endless sand dunes and prickly cacti to shimmering mirages and green oases deserts evoke contradictory images in us They are lands of desolation but also of romance of blistering Mojave heat and biting Gobi cold Covering a quarter of the earth's land mass and providing a home to half a billion people they are both a physical reality and landscapes of the mind The idea of the desert has long captured Western imagination put on display in films and literature but these portrayals often fail to capture the true scope and diversity of the people living there Bridging the scientific and cultural gaps between perception and reality The Desert celebrates our fascination with these arid lands and their inhabitants as well as their importance both throughout history and in the world today Covering an immense geographical range Michael Welland wanders from the Sahara to the Atacama depicting the often bizarre adaptations of plants and animals to these hostile environments He also looks at these seemingly infertile landscapes in the context of their place in history as the birthplaces not only of critical evolutionary adaptations civilizations and social progress but also of ideologies Telling the stories of the diverse peoples who call the desert home he describes how people have survived there their contributions to agricultural development and their emphasis on water and its scarcity He also delves into the allure of deserts and how they have been used in literature and film and their influence on fashion art and architecture As Welland reveals deserts may be difficult to define but they play an active role in the evolution of our global climate and society at large and their future is of the utmost importance

Entertaining informative and surprising The Desert is an intriguing new look at these seemingly harsh and inhospitable landscapes The Desert Encyclopedia Robert Hauptman,2024-08-06 This reference work is the first English language A Z compendium on all topics related to deserts including geography geology meteorology climatology hydrology botany zoology anthropology art music film culture sports as well as the specific and diversely different deserts that one finds in all parts of the world Definitions explanations and clarifications will be contained in more than 2 300 entries that vary in length from a brief sentence to detailed overviews of more complex subjects The Desert Encyclopedia will be invaluable as a source of data and information but it is also enjoyable to read straight through It is also replete with line drawings black and white illustrations maps and images from outstanding photographers Getting Over the Color Green Scott Slovic,2001 Desert vistas are often deemed vacant inhospitable wastelands Don't suggest that to Joy Harjo Pat Mora or other contemporary southwestern writers In these arid stretches often devoid of green today's southwestern writers see pyrotechnic colors and Gothic shapes that excite and often overwhelm the imagination And they capture this excitement in words that fix these desert images in the minds of readers who may too often look at the world through green colored glasses This anthology of contemporary nature writing from the Greater Southwest brings together a host of writers including peers of Edward Abbey such as Charles Bowden and Ann Zwinger and representatives of a new generation of writers such as Rick Bass and Terry Tempest Williams The book is an eclectic blend of nonfiction and fiction field notes and poetry through which artists of diverse backgrounds both celebrate and illuminate the unique vitality and complexity of southwestern literature proving that green is only one of many colors on their palette The selections included here range all across the southwestern landscape and explore adventures in the wild topics in natural history living close to the land and efforts at conservation and restoration They clearly demonstrate that there is grace and beauty in this often maligned part of the world both in the human traditions
