Finding Our Tongues Dean Falk,2010-10 Scientists have long theorized that abstract symbolic thinking evolved to help humans negotiate such classically male activities as hunting tool making and warfare and eventually developed into spoken language In Finding Our Tongues Dean Falk overturns this established idea offering a daring new theory that springs from a simple observation parents all over the world in all cultures talk to infants by using baby talk or Motherese Falk shows how Motherese developed as a way of reassuring babies when mothers had to put them down in order to do work The melodic vocalizations of early Motherese not only provided the basis of language but also contributed to the growth of music and art Combining cutting edge neuroscience with classic anthropology Falk offers a potent challenge to conventional wisdom about the emergence of human language

Traditional World Music Influences in Contemporary

Solo Piano Literature Elizabeth C. Axford, 1997-11-06 Identifies pieces in contemporary solo piano literature that show world music influences not traditionally associated with the standard repertoire of Western European art music The resulting annotated bibliography therefore includes pieces which use or attempt to emulate non Western scales modes and folk tunes and rhythmic percussive or harmonic devices and timbres
