the King's Royal Rifle Corps during the Second Boer War. He went on to serve as Divisional Corps liaison officer in 1914-15. His correspondence offers a rare insight into the changing face of the British Army at this time. In 1916 he took over the 113th Brigade in a New Army Division 38th Welsh. The first major test was on the Somme at Mametz Wood where the divisional commander was sacked. He describes this famous fight and eventual capture of the wood in dramatic detail. Once again in the thick of the fighting at Pilckem Ridge in 1917 on the first day of Third Ypres his letters show the importance of this battle's success. In 1918 he travelled to Italy where his diaries reveal for the first time how the Allied Command functioned in this theatre. His constant correspondence with his brother-in-law Henry Wilson the CIGS is a unique insight into British Army High Command and this legendary Field Marshal. This rare collection of letters offers a broad and detailed insight into the First World War that will fascinate any enthusiast.

John J. Pershing and the American Expeditionary Forces in World War I, 1917-1919 John T. Greenwood, 2021-09-07

General of the Armies John J. Pershing 1860-1948 had a long and distinguished military career but he is most famous for leading the American Expeditionary Forces in World War I. He published a memoir My Experiences in the World War and has been the subject of numerous biographies but the literature regarding this towering figure and his enormous role in the First World War deserves to be expanded to include a collection of his wartime correspondence. Meticulously edited by John T. Greenwood volume 1 of John J. Pershing and the American Expeditionary Forces in World War I 1917-1919 covers the period of April 7 through September 30 1917. The letters speak to such topics as Pershing's appointment to command the US expeditionary force his initial preparations and early meetings with Allied civilian and military leaders including Field Marshal Sir Douglas Haig and General Henri Philippe Pétain. Drawing heavily on Pershing's extensive personal papers this collection includes his letters and cablegrams exchanged with Secretary of War Newton D. Baker and Chiefs of Staff Hugh L. Scott and Tasker H. Bliss. Extracts from the large volume of rarely referenced cablegrams represent an important contribution to Pershing's wartime story. Two appendices provide the reader with details of Pershing's relations with the Allied governments and armies as he reported them in an unpublished part of his Final Report of Gen John J. Pershing in 1920 and his personal appraisal of Marshal Ferdinand Foch as he knew him during the war. These volumes of wartime correspondence provide new insight into the work of a legendary soldier and the historic events in which he participated and offer a valuable resource for any serious Pershing or World War I scholar.
