A guide for home business and small business companies to develop online strategies for online presence using the advantages of Web 2.0: web development, online promotion, and social media. Web 2.0 is the evolution of the Web towards greater simplicity, requiring no technical knowledge or computer for users, and interactivity, allowing everyone individually or collectively to contribute, share, and collaborate in various forms. Crowdsourcing or participatory production, one of the emerging areas of knowledge management, is the use of creativity, intelligence, and know-how of a large number of people outsourcing to perform certain tasks traditionally performed by an employee or contractor. Web development can take different forms, from a simple static page to dynamic pages with a connection to a database. Agile methods are groups of practices for the development of projects in IT software design that can be applied to various types of projects. They involve the maximum participation of the client and allow greater responsiveness to requests. They aim to realize customer satisfaction as a priority under a development agreement. A successful web development is primarily based on iterative refinement of needs implemented in functionality in progress and even already completed. The marketing strategy aims to put the company in line with the implicit or explicit requirements of the market in which it operates. The foundations of the strategy are to discover and, especially, to influence the needs of potential customers and identify products and services. E-marketing or Internet marketing is used to manage a
