Christopher A. Bartlett, Sumantra Ghoshal, Julian M. Birkinshaw, 2004 Publisher Description      Made in Korea Richard M. Steers, 2013-08-21 American business folklore is awash with the adventures of successful entrepreneurs Still most of these stories are about Americans neglecting important and courageous entrepreneurs from other countries Made in Korea recounts the story of how Chung Ju Yung rose from poverty to build one of the world s largest and most successful building empires Hyundai through a combination of creative thinking tenacity timing political skills and a business strategy that few competitors ever understood Chung entered the shipbuilding business with no experience and went on to create the world s largest shipyard He began making automobiles when foreign experts unanimously predicted he would fail and he started a global construction company that has built some of today s greatest architectural wonders He even convinced the International Olympic Committee to select South Korea over Japan as the site for the highly successful 1988 Olympics Unlike most CEO s of major firms Chung has always preferred the company of his workers to that of the global executive elite Hard work creativity and a capacity to never give up this is the essence of Chung s life In each of his ventures he exhibited a sheer determination to succeed regardless of the obstacles and he worked tirelessly to instil this drive in all of his employees Even today in the midst of Korea s worst economic crisis in over four decades Chung s company is busy implementing plans to emerge as an even stronger contender in the world economy Illustrated with 32 pages of colour photographs not previously seen in the West including photos of Chung s recent historic visit to North Korea in 1998 Made in Korea takes stock of Chung s entire life highlighting both his contributions to society and the lessons his work can teach to aspiring entrepreneurs

Tinkerers Honghong Tinn, 2025-01-07 How Taiwan rose to global prominence in high-tech manufacturing from computer maker to the world's leading chip manufacturer. How did Taiwan, a former Japanese colony and the last fortress of the defeated Chinese Nationalists, ascend to such heights in high-tech manufacturing? In Island Tinkerers, Honghong Tinn tells the critical history of how hobbyists and enthusiasts in Taiwan, including engineers, technologists, technocrats, computer users, and engineers-turned-entrepreneurs, helped transform the country with their hands-on engagement with computers. Rather than engaging in wholesale imitation of US sources, she explains, these technologists tinkered with imported computing technology and experimented with manufacturing their own versions, resulting in their own brand of successful innovation. Defying the stereotype of the West innovates and the East imitates, Tinn tells the story of Taiwanese technologists' efforts over the past six decades. Beginning in the 1960s, they grappled with the black-boxed computers that were newly available through international technical aid programs. Shortly after multinational corporations that outsourced transistor and integrated circuit assembly overseas began employing Taiwanese engineers and factory workers, Island Tinkerers developed strategies to adapt, modify, assemble, and work with computers in an inventive manner. It was through this creative and ingenious tinkering with computers that they were able to gain a better understanding of the technology, opening the door to future manufacturing endeavors that now include Acer, Foxconn, Asus, and Taiwan Semiconductor Manufacturing Company (TSMC).

Manufacturing Competitiveness in Asia Jomo K. S., 2005-06-27 There are competing theories to explain the reasons behind the international competitiveness of manufacturing in Asia. Analysing these different theories will bring important lessons not just for Asia but for developing economies the world over. This lucid book studies industries and firms in East Asia and examines the major determinants of their economic performance. With contributions from such leading thinkers as Ha Joon Chang and Rajah Rasiah, the book covers such themes as industrial policy and East Asia. Taiwan's information technology industry, the role of the government in technological capability building, Manufacturing Competitiveness in Asia touches on many important themes and issues and, as such, will be of great interest to students, academics, and policy makers involved in industrial economics, international trade, and Asian studies. Strategic Human Resource Management
