The Madonna of Excelsior

A Novel

"A generous, patient, wry, and intelligent voice . . . [that] suggests not just a writer who can seduce us through beautiful language and unfailing humor. We also encounter a writer who has the power to shock and frighten us, to astound and anger and unsettle us. . . . In short, this is a voice for which one should feel not only affection but admiration."

Madonna Of Excelsior A Novel:

The Madonna of Excelsior Zakes Mda, 2007-05-15 A new novel by a towering presence in contemporary South African literature In 1971 nineteen citizens of Excelsior in South Africa's white ruled Free State were charged with breaking apartheid's Immorality Act which forbade sex between blacks and whites Taking this case as raw material for his alchemic imagination Zakes Mda tells the story of a family at the heart of the scandal and of a country in which apartheid concealed interracial liaisons of every kind Niki the fallen madonna transgresses boundaries for the sake of love her choices have repercussions in the lives of her black son and mixed race daughter who come of age in post apartheid South Africa where freedom prompts them to reexamine their country's troubled history at first hand By turns earthy witty and tragic The Madonna of Excelsior is a brilliant depiction of life in South Africa and of the dramatic changes between the 1970s and the present

The Madonna of Excelsior Z. Mda, The Madonna of Excelsior Zakes Mda, 2002 In 1971 nineteen citizens of Excelsior a farming community in South Africa's rural Free States were charged with breaking apartheid's Immorality Act which forbade sexual relations between blacks and whites on the pretext of avoiding miscegenation The women were jailed as they awaited trial and their white counterparts were released on bail In the end the state withdrew the charges but the accused women's lives already complicated became harder than ever Mda tells the story of a family at the heart of the scandal revealing a country in which apartheid even as it sought to keep the races apart concealed interracial liaisons of every kind Niki the fallen Madonna transgresses boundaries for the sake of love her choices have profound repercussions in the lives of her black son Viliki and her mixed race daughter Popi who come of age in the years after the end of apartheid when freedom allows them indeed compels them to figure out their racial identities for themselves As the story advances to the present the mixed society of Excelsior comes to suggest South Africa today a society far more complex and more dramatic than conventional notions of black and white will allow

BOOK JACKET Trauma, Memory, and Narrative in the Contemporary South African Novel, 2012-01-01 The contributions to this volume probe the complex relationship of trauma memory and narrative By looking at the South African situation through the lens of trauma they make clear how the psychic deformations and injuries left behind by racism and colonialism cannot be mended by material reparation or by simply reversing economic and political power structures Western trauma theories as developed by scholars such as Caruth van der Kolk Herman and others are insufficient for analysing the more complex situation in a postcolony such as South Africa This is because Western trauma concepts focus on the individual traumatized by a single identifiable event that causes PTSD Post Traumatic Stress Disorder What we need is an understanding of trauma that sees it not only as a result of an identifiable event but also as the consequence of an historical condition in the case of South Africa that of colonialism and more specifically of apartheid For most black and coloured South Africans the structural violence of apartheid's laws were the existential condition under which they had to exist The living conditions in the townships pass laws relocation and racial segregation affected great parts of the South African population and were responsible for the collective traumatization of several generations. This trauma however is not an unclaimed and unclaimable experience. Postcolonial thinkers who have been reflecting on the experience of violence and trauma in a colonial context, writing from within a Fanonian tradition, have on the contrary believed in the importance of reclaiming the past and of transcending mechanisms of victimization and resentment so typical of traumatized consciousnesses. Narration and the novel have a decisive role to play here.

Word & Image in Colonial and Postcolonial Literatures and Cultures Michael Meyer, 2009. Verbal imagery and visual images as well as the intricate relationships between verbal and visual representations have long shaped the imagination and the practice of intercultural relationships. The contributions to this volume take a fresh look at the ideology of form, especially the gendered and racial implications of the gaze and the voice in various media and intermedial transformations. Analyses of how culturally specific forms of visual and verbal expression are individually understood and manipulated complement reflections on the potential and limitations of representation. The juxtaposition of visual and verbal signifiers explores the gap between them as a space beyond cultural boundaries. Topics treated include Caliban, English satirical iconotexts, Oriental travel writing and illustration, expatriate description and picturesque illustration of Edinburgh, ethnographic film, African studio photography, South African cartoons, imagery, ekphrasis and race in South African art and fiction, face and visuality, representation and memory in Asian fiction, Bollywood, Asian historical film, Asian British pop music, Australian landscape in painting and fiction, indigenous children's fiction from Aotearoa, New Zealand, Canada and the USA, Canadian photography, Native Americans in film. Writers and artists discussed include Philip Kwame Apagya, the Asian Dub Foundation, Breyten Breytenbach, Richard Burton, Peter Carey, Gurinder Chadha, Daniel Chodowiecki, J. M. Coetzee, Ashutosh Gowariker, Patricia Grace, W. G. Sebald, Hogarth, Francis K. Honny, Jim Jarmusch, Robyn Kahukiwa, Seydou Keita, Thomas King, Vladyslava Kruk, Alfred Kubin, Michael Arvaarluk Kusugak, Kathleen and Michael Lacapa, Leszek Lakner, George Littlechild, Ken Lum, Franz Marc, Zakes Mda, Ketan Mehta, M. Zapiro.

Dance of Life Gail Fincham, 2012-04-22. In recent years the work of Zakes Mda, novelist, painter, composer, theater director and filmmaker, has attracted worldwide critical attention. Gail Fincham's book examines the five novels Mda has written since South Africa's transition to democracy: Ways of Dying (1995), The Heart of Redness (2000), The Madonna of Excelsior (2002), The Whale Caller (2005) and Cion (2007). Dance of Life explores how refigured identity is rooted in Mda's strongly painterly imagination that creates changed spaces in memory and culture. Through a combination of magic realism, African orature and intertextuality with the Western canon, Mda rejects dualistic thinking of the past and the present, the human and the nonhuman, the living and the dead, the rural and the urban. He imbues his fictional characters with the power to orchestrate a reconfigured subjectivity that is simultaneously political, social and aesthetic.
