Romantic Prose Fiction Gerald Ernest Paul Gillespie, Manfred Engel, Bernard Dieterle, 2008 In this volume a team of three dozen international experts presents a fresh picture of literary prose fiction in the Romantic age seen from cross cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives The work treats the appearance of major themes in characteristically Romantic versions the power of Romantic discourse to reshape imaginative writing and a series of crucial reactions to the impact of Romanticism on cultural life down to the present both in Europe and in the New World Through its combination of chapters on thematic generic and discursive features Romantic Prose Fiction achieves a unique theoretical stance by considering the opinions of primary Romantics and their successors not as guiding truths by which to define the permanent meaning of Romanticism but as data of cultural history that shed important light on an evolving civilization

SPECIAL OFFER 30% discount for a complete set order 5 vols The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series total contents Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism s own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age

Melville's Intervisionary Network John Haydock,2016-10-18 The romances of Herman Melville author of Moby Dick and Billy Budd Sailor are usually examined from some setting almost exclusively American European or other planetary contexts are subordinated to local considerations But while this isolated approach plays well in an arena constructed on American exclusiveness it does not express the reality of the literary processes swirling around Melville in the middle of the nineteenth century A series of expanding literary and technological networks was active that made his writing part of a global complex Honor de Balzac popular French writer and creator of realism in the novel was also in the web of these same networks both preceding and at the height of Melville s creativity Because they engaged in similar intentions there developed an almost inevitable attraction that brought their works together Until recently however Balzac has not been recognized as a significant influence on Melville during his most creative period Over the last decade scholars began to explore literary networks by new methodologies and the criticism developed out of these strategies pertains usually to modernist postcolonial contemporary situations Remarkably however the intertextuality of Melville with Balzac is quite exactly a casebook study in transcultural comparativism Looking at Melville s innovative environment reveals meaningful results where the networks take on significant roles equivalent to what have been traditionally classed as genetic contacts Intervisionary Network explores a range of these connections and reveals that Melville was dependent on Balzac and his universal vision in much of his prose writing

Satanic Feminism Per Faxneld,2017 The notion of woman as the Devil s accomplice is prominent throughout Christian history and was used to legitimise the subordination of wives and daughters In the 19th century rebellious females performed counter readings of this misogynist tradition and Lucifer was reconceptualised as a feminist liberator Per Faxneld shows how this surprising Satanic feminism was expressed in a wide range of 19th century texts and artistic productions
