Regional Agencies And Area Based Regeneration:

Developing Australia's Regions Andrew Beer, Alaric Maude, Bill Pritchard, 2003 This is a book that recognises that regions matter what takes place in our diverse regions fundamentally determines the nation's quality of life It delves behind the headlines and speeches and considers the true state of Australia's metropolitan and non metropolitan regions and what can be done to improve their economic social and environmental wellbeing This practical book draws upon regional development theory and national and international experience to set out the principles and strategies that can be used to establish a stronger future for our regions back cover

Cities and Regions in Crisis Martin Jones, 2019 This book offers a new geographical political economy approach to our understanding of regional and local economic development in Western Europe over the last twenty years It suggests that governance failure is occurring at a variety of spatial scales and an impedimenta state is emerging This is derived from the state responding to state intervention and economic development that has become irrational ambivalent and disoriented The book blends theoretical approaches to crisis and contradiction theory with empirical examples from cities and regions

Regional Agencies and Area-based Regeneration Brian Robson, Jamie Peck, Adam Holden, 2000 Regional Development Agencies RDAs were established in April 1999 as non departmental public bodies Their remit is to promote the economic well being of the English regions and to further the goals of sustainable development and social inclusion This report explores the interface between the regional agenda for RDAs and the local delivery of area based regeneration The study is based on interviews with those involved in RDAs at senior board and executive levels and provides analysis of the regional strategies of the eight existing RDAs Regional agencies and area based regeneration looks at new forms of governance developed alongside the implementation of the RDAs communication and consultation with regional stakeholders the development and implementation of regional strategies the role of RDAs in managing local regeneration the complexities contradictions and positive possibilities that devolution provides for regional development

Regional agencies and area based regeneration is essential reading for policy makers and those working in RDAs urban regeneration partnerships communities involved in urban regeneration and national and local government as well as anyone with an interest in area regeneration strategies and practice

The New Governance of the English Regions M. Sandford, 2005-11-22 English regions appeared to have been killed off by the massive no vote in the referendum in the North East on 4 November 2004 By contrast this book analyzes the many institutions and networks established at the English regional tier since 1997 It argues that a new form of governance is developing in the English regions characterized by processes rather than specific policy concerns strategic co ordination scrutiny and civic engagement

Regional Development Agencies and Business Change Gill Bentley, John Gibney, 2017-11-01 This title was first published in 2000 Providing an introduction to contemporary regional economic development issues this book analyzes whether the Regional Development Agencies ROAs have the organizational capacities to cope with complex business and economic development challenges The Futures of the City Region Michael Neuman, Angela Hull, 2013-09-13 Does the city region constitute a new departure in urbanisation If so what are the key elements of that departure The realities of the urban in the 21st century are increasingly complex and polychromatic The rise of global networks enabled by supranational administrations both governmental and corporate strongly influences and structures the management of urban life How we conceive the city region has intellectual and practical consequences First in helping us grasp rapidly changing realities and second in facilitating the flow of resources ideas and learning to enhance the quality of life of citizens Two themes interweave through this collection within this broad palette First are the socio spatial constructs and their relationship to the empirical evidence of change in the physical and functional aspects of urban form Second is what they mean for the spatial scales of governance This latter theme explores territorially based understandings of intervention and the changing set of political concerns in selected case studies In efforts to address these issues and improve upon knowledge this collection brings together international scholars building new data driven cross disciplinary theories to create new images of the city region that may prove to supplement if not supplant old ones The book illustrates the dialectical interplay of theory and fact time and space and spatial and institutional which expands on our intellectual grasp of the theoretical debates on city regions through practical knowing citing examples from Europe the United States Australasia and beyond This book was originally published as a Special Issue of Regional Studies Developing Locally , Developing Locally Beer, Andrew, Haughton, Graham, Alaric Maude, 2003-11-26 This work offers comparisons of local and regional economic development organisations objectives activities and effectiveness across four English speaking nations Regional Development Agencies and the Local Democracy, Economic Development and Construction Bill: Oral and written evidence Great Britain. Innovative Measurement and Evaluation of Community Development Practices Norman Walzer, Jane

Leonard, Mary Emery, 2017-10-02 Finding innovative and useful measurement practices for community development projects is gaining in importance as policymakers increase the demands for accountability This book examines some of the latest efforts to document the effectiveness of local development efforts The types of documentation differ by types of project jurisdiction and country but they have a common focus of recognizing the importance of the Community Capitals framework Public agencies in the past have often measured development successes by the number of jobs created and or amount of private investment forthcoming However the impacts of community development reach much deeper than those indicators Strengthening local decision making capacity is a common component of development efforts as is engaging populations that in the past have not been active in decision making These and other considerations are explored in more detail by authors in this volume Local policymakers and practitioners will be continually pressured to provide more documentation of outcomes and readers will gain considerable insights into alternative approaches that can be included in projects but can also see the common elements needed to create a solid measurement system International insights are a special strength of the discussions in this book This book was published as a special issue of Community Development Sustainable City

Regions: Tetsuo Kidokoro, Noboru Harata, L.P. Subanu, J. Jessen, A. Motte, E.P. Seltzer, 2008-08-27 How should regional cities develop regional development strategies for their sustainable future How can such strategies work effectively Regional cities are now at a crossroads will they decline or be regenerated under the impacts of globalization Their sustainable regeneration as creative regional centers will play a decisive role in their sustainable development as a whole but only with viable regional spatial strategies that strengthen the network of cities and their hinterlands The concern here lies in urban regeneration and strategic spatial planning at the city region level This book records observations of 12 dynamically changing regional cities in Asia Europe and the United States The form of the city region urban regeneration and strategic spatial planning as well as the local and regional governance of each city are examined Through this empirical and comparative analysis essential lessons are drawn which will add a new perspective to discussions on the sustainable future of regional cities in an age of globalization Towards an Urban Renaissance The Urban Task Force, 2003-09-02 The Urban Task Force headed by Lord Rogers one of the UK's leading architects was established by the Department of Environment Transport and Regions DETR to stimulate debate about our urban environment and to identify ways of creating urban areas in direct response to people's needs and aspirations Their findings conclusions and recommendations were presented in a final report to Government Ministers in Summer 1999 and form the basis of this important new illustrated book
