Pauling more than 50 years ago is about to become a major issue in American medicine Uncannily Pauling's early focus on vitamin C has pointed the way to the whole catalogue of free radical scavengers which we in medicine will be using in the coming decade In ophthalmology the basic scientists have been talking about the role of free radical induction by light for some time They have accumulated an increasing amount of evidence supporting the idea that prolonged light exposure contributes to cataract development and retinal degeneration Through Clinical Light Damage to the Eye we hope to bring this message to the practicing ophthalmologist Because Dr Pauling's work bears so strongly on the key issue of free radical damage and because of my own great respect for him as a scientist and a man of rare courage I invited Dr Pauling to write the foreword to Clinical Light Damage to the Eye which follows United States Armed Forces Medical Journal ,1950

Current Trends in Computing Shusaku Tsumoto, Roman Slowiński, Jan Komorowski, Jerzy W. Grzymala-Busse, 2004-05-21 In recent years, rough set theory has attracted the attention of many researchers and practitioners all over the world who have contributed essentially to its development and applications.

We are observing a growing research interest in the foundations of rough sets, including the various logical, mathematical, and philosophical aspects of rough sets. Some relationships have already been established between rough sets and other approaches, and also with a wide range of hybrid systems. As a result, rough sets are linked with decision system modeling and analysis of complex systems, fuzzy sets, neural networks, evolutionary computing, data mining, and knowledge discovery, pattern recognition, machine learning, and approximate reasoning. In particular, rough sets are used in probabilistic reasoning, granular computing, including information granule calculi based on rough mereology, intelligent control, intelligent agent modeling, identification of autonomous systems, and process specification. Methods based on rough set theory alone or in combination with other approaches have been discovered with a wide range of applications in such areas as acoustics, bioinformatics, business and finance, chemistry, computer engineering (e.g., data compression, digital image processing, digital signal processing, parallel and distributed computer systems, sensor fusion, fractal engineering, decision analysis, and systems economics), electrical engineering (e.g., control, signal analysis, power systems), environmental studies, informatics, medicine, molecular biology, musicology, neurology, robotics, social science, software engineering, spatial visualization, Web engineering, and Web mining.

Telemedicine and Teledermatology Günter Burg, 2003 Telemedicine, the practice of transferring medical data using interactive audio-visual and data communication systems, is fast becoming indispensable in modern medicine, healthcare, and education. This volume reviews the rapidly expanding and changing field of telemedicine in general, with a special focus on teledermatology. As well as presenting historical and technological aspects, the book also describes several of the many fields of application in detail, one of them being teleteaching, which already forms an essential part of medical training. Another major issue in telemedicine is the discussion of legal and ethical aspects of teleconsulting. Further contributions acquaint the reader with the various possibilities of telemedicine, such as telemedicine for the family doctor, teleradiology, applications in surgery, telepathology, telecardiology, telemedicine in oncology and ophthalmology, and telepsychiatry. The particular aspects of teledermatology are discussed in detail in a separate section. All healthcare professionals, from the medical practitioner to the pharmacist, healthcare manager, nurse, or technician, will find this compilation of up-to-date data valuable reading. The detailed discussion of teledermatology makes it indispensable for the dermatologist

Information Processing and Web Mining Mieczyslaw A. Klopotek, Slawomir T. Wierzchon, Krzysztof Trojanowski, 2013-06-05 This volume contains articles accepted for presentation during The Intelligent Information Processing and Web Mining Conference IIS IIPWM 03 which was held in Zakopane Poland on June 2-5 2003 This conference extends a series of 12 successful symposia on Intelligent Information Systems organized by the Institute of Computer Science of Polish Academy of Sciences devoted to new trends in broadly understood Artificial Intelligence The idea of organizing such meetings dates back to 1992 Our main intention guided the first rather small audience workshop in the series was to resume the results gained in Polish scientific centers as well as contrast them with the research performed by Polish scientists working at the universities in Europe and USA and their foreign collaborators This idea proved to be attractive enough that we decided to continue such meetings As the years went by the workshops has transformed into regular symposia devoted to such fields like Machine Learning Knowledge Discovery Natural Language Processing Knowledge Based Systems and Reasoning and Soft Computing i e Fuzzy and Rough Sets Bayesian Networks Neural Networks and Evolutionary Algorithms At present about 50 papers prepared by researches from Poland and other countries are usually presented This year conference is an attempt to draw a much broader international audience on the one hand and to devote much more attention to the newest developments in the area of Artificial Intelligence Therefore special calls for contributions on artificial immune systems and search engines
