Advanced Introduction to Regional Innovation Systems Bjørn T. Asheim, Arne Isaksen, Michaela Trippel, 2019 Over the past 25 years the regional innovation system RIS approach has become a powerful framework for explaining the uneven geographical distribution of innovation in space as well as for developing policies geared towards boosting the innovation capability of regional economies This Advanced Introduction provides a critical review and discussion of research on RIS to answer a set of core questions covering the origins of the concept and its theoretical underpinnings to the challenges for future scholarly work on RIS

New Avenues for Regional Innovation Systems - Theoretical Advances, Empirical Cases and Policy Lessons Arne Isaksen, Roman Martin, Michaela Trippel, 2018-03-01 This book discusses the latest theoretical advances in regional innovation research presents empirical cases involving the development of regional innovation systems RISs and explores regional innovation policy approaches Grounded in the extensive literature on RISs it addresses state of the art developments in light of recent theoretical advances in economic geography and related disciplines Written in honor of Bjørn Asheim's seventieth birthday the book includes novel and carefully selected chapters prepared by collaborators colleagues and former PhD students of one of the founding fathers of RIS research Further it makes a significant contribution to the academic debate on regional innovation and growth and offers valuable insights for scholars and policymakers alike

Innovation Governance in an Open Economy Annika Rickne, Staffan Laestadius, Henry Etzkowitz, 2012-05-04 In an increasingly globalised world paradoxically regional innovation clusters have moved to the forefront of attention as a strategy for economic and social development Transcending international success cases like Silicon Valley and Route 128 as sources of lessons successful high tech clusters in niche areas have had a significant impact on peripheral regions Are these successful innovation clusters born or made If they are subject to planning and direction what is the shape that it takes top down bottom up or lateral

Globalizing Regional Development in East Asia Henry Wai-chung Yeung, 2013-09-13 Significant historical and geographical differences account for the many processes and trajectories of regional development in East Asia These historical and geographical specificities in East Asia have prompted serious re examination of existing theories in regional development and in particular the new regionalism approach associated with such ideas as the learning region institutional thickness relational assets and regional innovation system This book brings together a group of leading researchers specializing in local and regional development in East Asian economies Through in depth empirical studies of specific regions and localities these authors offer fresh and innovative perspectives on how regions evolve and develop over time in the world s most dynamic macro regional economy In particular their work points to the critical importance of local and trans local processes in shaping regional development trajectories The book is timely given that the debate on the nature and dynamics of regional development in both academic and policy circles has now moved on From the earlier focus on endogenous regional assets such as localized networks of association and trust scholars and policymakers are now analyzing the complex relationship between economic globalization and regional change This high calibre collection makes a significant contribution to the literature on local and regional development in Asia and provides an important resource for researchers students and policy makers interested in East Asia This book was published as a special issue of Regional Studies

Rethinking Regional Innovation and Change: Path Dependency or Regional Breakthrough Gerhard Fuchs, Philip Shapira, 2006-02-17 Rethinking Regional Innovation and Change brings together papers from leading international scholars in the field of regional development and policy The contributors examine the interactions between path dependent developments institutions and governance structures that influence regional innovation capacity Up to date case studies present diverse theoretical perspectives from economics political science geography planning and public policy Taken as a whole the volume offers a broad and up to date perspective on the inheritance aspect of an area s future Without exception the chapters are insightful interesting and a pleasure to read Let us hope that this excellent work will find its way to the desks of authorities in charge for regional policy If anything the book still urges policy makers to start from the simple piece of wisdom that regions tend to go from where they are coming

Paradoxically it is from this very notion of path dependency that most regional breakthroughs can be expected Gert Jan Hospers Regions Volume 256 April 2005 The Routledge Handbook of Digital Sport Management Michael L. Naraine, Ted Hayduk III, Jason P. Doyle, 2022-12-01 The Routledge Handbook of Digital Sport Management provides students researchers and practitioners with a contemporary roadmap of the impact of digital technologies in sport management at all levels and in all sectors in a global context Divided into three sections addressing digital transformations digital tools and emerging digital issues this book explores the impact of digital technology in the core functional areas of sport management such as sponsorship event management and human resources It introduces essential digital innovations such as esports social media VR wearables analytics and artificial intelligence and examines the debates and issues that are likely to shape and transform sport business over the next decade The only book to survey the full sweep of digital sport management this book is an essential reference for all serious students of sport business and management any researcher working in the nexus of sport business and digital and all managers policy makers or associated professionals working in the sport industry Innovation In Forestry Gerhard Weiss, 2011 Innovation is increasingly recognized as a key factor in environmental protection and balanced sustainable development within the forestry sector This volume provides a comprehensive theoretical foundation for the analysis of innovation processes and policies in a traditional rural sector as well as presenting empirical analyses of innovation processes from major innovation areas Territorial services of the forest sector are examined including various types of forest ecosystem services such as carbon sequestration or recreation and wood value chains including timber frame construction and High-technology Clusters, Networking and Collective Learning in Europe David Keeble, Frank Wilkinson, 2017-11-22 This title was first published in 2000 This text presents a study of collective learning networking and high technology regions in Europe It first provides an overview of the subject area then goes on to discuss topics such as the role of inter SME networking and collective learning processes in European high technology milieux Bargaining with Multinationals H. Loewendahl, 2001-07-19 In Bargaining with Multinationals Loewendahl scrutinises the relationship between multinational companies regional development and governments using an international political economy framework of bargaining between government and multinationals He critically analyses the role of foreign investment in economic development and examines how governments can link inward investment to regional economic development Based on extensive use of data interviews and case studies of Siemens and Nissan s UK investment the book shows why MNCs have invested in the UK in the past how they bargained with the government and what the impact was on the national and regional economies In particular through linking the strategy of multinationals to the location advantages of the UK it is argued that labour flexibility and incentives were crucial to investment decisions Loewendahl recommends a framework to integrate endogenous and exogenous approaches to developments and proposes a greater role for the region and the EU to control incentives and monitor multinationals Innovation Networks Andreas Pyka, Andrea Scharnhorst, 2010-05-17 The science of graphs and networks is now an established tool for modeling and analyzing systems with a large number of interacting components The contributions to this anthology address different aspects of the relationship between innovation and networks

Enterprising Worlds Jay D. Gatrell, Neil Reid, 2007-05-16 Enterprising World represents the culmination of several years of work by geographers planners and economists The chapters represent the collective efforts of the International Geographical Union's Commission on the Dynamics of Economic Spaces This collection is the result of the 2005 annual meeting in Toledo Ohio USA The chapters have been selected based on their contribution to the broader community of economic geographers and policymakers and to demonstrate the inherent interconnectedness of these themes and at times the conceptual tension that exists between ethics economics and the environment insofar as these important issues shape the contours and cleavages of contemporary regional development In particular the chapters represent the diversity of perspectives on these issues The authors provide insight into the workings of a variety of communities regions and nations as they seek to balance economic growth with the growing necessity to simultaneously promote ethical and sustainable regional development As such this book is truly international in both scale and scope and provides the reader with a survey of emerging and established concepts theories and conflicts in economic geography

Global Competition and Local Networks Rod B. McNaughton, 2018-02-06 This title was first published in 2002 The interest in becoming globally competitive through network strategies particularly networks between small and medium sized firms in local business communities is high among academic researchers economic development agencies and growth orientated firms Important contributions to our understanding of the strategic use of networks are coming from a number of disciplinary and theoretical perspectives This volume provides a unique opportunity to both synthesize this diverse literature and report the results of original research It is particularly relevant to scholars of business and management geography and economics

Handbook of Research on Global Competitive Advantage through Innovation and Entrepreneurship Carmo Farinha, Luís M., Ferreira, João J. M., Smith, Helen Lawton, Bagchi-Sen, Sharmistha, 2015-04-30 As businesses seek to compete on a global stage they must be constantly aware of pressures from all levels regional local and worldwide The organizations that can best build advantages in diverse environments achieve the greatest success The Handbook of Research on Global Competitive Advantage through Innovation and Entrepreneurship explores the emergence of new ideas and opportunities in various markets and provides organizational leaders with the tools they need to take full advantage of those opportunities With a focus on economic growth in a fast paced environment this handbook is a critical reference for business leaders economists and students of economic theory

Towards a Dynamic Regional Innovation System Wenying Fu, 2015-01-05 Embedding the theoretical discussion on the framework of evolutionary regional innovation systems RIS this book reveals the informal nature of the emerging RIS in China within which interactive learning is organized on the basis of social networks Furthermore in a comparative study in the Pearl River Delta China demonstrates that dirigiste governance in the initial industrialization phase leads to a more mature and developed RIS than does grassroots governance The theoretical developments and empirical investigation presented in this book will grant readers a deeper understanding of the specific features of RIS within the transitional context of emerging economies The Globalizing Learning Economy Daniele Archibugi, Bengt-Ake Lundvall, 2002-10-03 This volume analyses some of the major current trends and policy challenges in the new economy from the point of view of technical innovation and competence building It brings together the leading European expertise on different topics in this field Together the authors give a picture of the most dramatic new challenges in a world where competition is becoming increasingly knowledge based and global Why has the US economy been able to realise a so called new economy based on the effective exploitation of information technology while Europe still suffers from chronic high rates of unemployment How is it that contemporary economic systems have become more knowledge intensive but social inequality both within and across countries is increasing The contributors to this volume share the belief that knowledge is a fundamental component of economic growth and welfare However the ways in which knowledge is transmitted and distributed among economic agents requires shaping by public policies The individual chapters report on the most significant policies adopted and assess them in the light of the European experience in comparison with the United States and Japan
