Rehabilitation Of Street Children In Kenya:

Rehabilitation of Street Children in Kenya John Kabutha Mugo, 2004 The reality of children working and living on the streets has posed a great challenge in Kenya. Scholars have made efforts to explain why it occurs and what might be done about the situation through various studies and research projects. However, research with these children has so far been centered mainly on the causal factors and the nature and impact of life on the streets through bibliographic details. This book offers an analysis of present interventions. Through qualitative social research, the author focuses on the dynamics in the educational rehabilitation of children working and living on the streets of Kenya. John Kabutha Mugo studied music education at Kenyatta University in Kenya and education for children with special needs at the University of Hannover where he was awarded a doctorate. He has written about children, child labor, and violation of children's rights. Street Children in Kenya Philip L. Kilbride, Collette A. Suda, Enos Njeru, 2000-03-30 As kinship relationships and support networks across family lines weaken with modernization, economic stressors take a great toll on children. Kenya, like some other nations in Africa and around the globe, has witnessed a rapid rise in street children. The street children in Nairobi come from single-parent families which are mostly headed by women. Another group are AIDS orphans. This study documents how street children in Nairobi follow survival strategies including, for boys, collecting garbage and for girls, prostitution. Gender is emphasized throughout the book. Although impoverished families are the most likely to produce street children, not all poor families have their children on the streets. The problem of street children is a complex one that calls for a comprehensive and coordinated policy and program for intervention at all levels and in all sectors of society. Alleviating poverty and rebuilding the family institution should be among the first steps in addressing the problem. Kenya National Assembly Official Record (Hansard), 2001-06-06 The official records of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya, the House of Representatives of the Government of Kenya, and the National Assembly of the Republic of Kenya. Kenya National Assembly Official Record (Hansard), 1997-06-11 The official records of the proceedings of the Legislative Council of the Colony and Protectorate of Kenya, the House of Representatives of the Government of Kenya, and the National Assembly of the Republic of Kenya. Effects of Stigma on the Rehabilitation of Street Children in Kenya Kennedy Karani, 2014-06-19 This book is based on my experiences of working with street children for years in Nairobi. Street children are ostracized from the main stream society and they are invisible to the society. They are children who come from troubled and dysfunctional families. They are associated with crime and therefore not entertained at all by the society. They scavenge for food and as a result, they have been labelled Chokora. Chokora in Kenya is a derogatory Swahili term synonymous with scavenging. It is treatment like this that plunges street children into deep abysmal stigma that impedes the process of rehabilitation. The research that bore this book vividly brings to light the dynamics of stigma and what can be done to curb it. Educators, planners, and social practitioners working for and with street children can find this handbook handy. Kenya

Children's Lived Experience of Poverty and Vulnerability in Kenya
Elizabeth Ngutuku,2025-01-29 Drawing from ethnographic research this book presents children s lived experience of poverty and vulnerability in Kenya By taking the case of Siaya Kenya which has some of the lowest indicators of child well being the book presents children s complex lived experience from three interlinked everyday spaces of the home the school and support programmes It argues that children s experience is formed at the interstices of material lack historically as well as politically located factors and the complex context of social relations The book is anchored in an innovative methodology of listening softly to children s voice Aimed at fully capturing children s experience listening softly focusses on the different ways that children s voice happen The book challenges scholarship to go beyond multi dimensionality and re imagine children s experience as complex and entangled use methods that are attuned to capturing children s messy experience of poverty and be widely awake in each intervention context to capture the emergent fluid experience of children Presenting a non linear contextual entangled and complex experience of poverty and vulnerability this book will be of interest to scholars and students in the field of Poverty Studies Development Studies Childhood Studies Social Policy Critical studies Human and Child Rights and African Studies
