Romance In The Headlines:

Romance in the Headlines Mary Ann Taylor, 1977 Idol of Suburbia Annette Federico, 2000 Despite the ridicule of reviewers Marie Corelli 1855 1924 was the most popular novelist of her time Federico English James Madison University points out the creative combative and contradictory nature of Corelli's participation in the culture and argues that her attempts to create her own image illuminate continuing debates about literary value class hegemony and gender politics Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR Neighborhood Stories Zona Gale, 2021-05-19 In Neighborhood Stories Zona Gale masterfully captures the essence of small town life in early 20th century America weaving together a rich tapestry of character driven narratives Through a series of interconnected vignettes set in the fictional town of Friendship Village Gale employs a tone that is both colloquial and lyrical inviting readers into the intimate realities of her characters The stories deftly explore themes of community identity and the unspoken complexities of human relationships all while reflecting the broader social issues of her time including gender roles and economic challenges facing rural America A revered figure in American literature Zona Gale was a pioneering voice who broke ground for women writers in her era Born in Portage Wisconsin her experiences in small town America deeply influenced her writing offering her unique insight into the lives of ordinary people Gale's engagement with social reform and her career as a journalist also shaped her prose allowing her to articulate the nuances and struggles of her characters with authenticity and empathy Neighborhood Stories is a must read for anyone seeking a profound understanding of the human spirit as expressed through community life Gale's keen observations and rich characterizations resonate with today's readers reminding us of the enduring nature of connection and belonging making this collection both timeless and relevant Romance and Rights Alex Lubin, 2009-09-18 Romance and Rights The Politics of Interracial Intimacy 1945 1954 studies the meaning of interracial romance love and sex in the ten years after World War II How was interracial romance treated in popular culture by civil rights leaders African American soldiers and white segregationists Previous studies focus on the period beginning in 1967 when the Supreme Court overturned the last state anti miscegenation law Loving v Virginia Lubin's study however suggests that we cannot fully understand contemporary debates about hybridity or mixed race identity without first comprehending how WWII changed the terrain The book focuses on the years immediately after the war when ideologies of race gender and sexuality were being reformulated and solidified in both the academy and the public Lubin shows that interracial romance particularly between blacks and whites was a testing ground for both the general American public and the American government The government wanted interracial relationships to be treated primarily as private affairs to keep attention off contradictions between its outward aura of cultural freedom and the realities of Jim Crow politics and anti miscegenation laws Activists however wanted interracial intimacy treated as a public act one that could be used symbolically to promote equal rights and expanded opportunities These contradictory impulses helped shape our current perceptions about interracial romances and their broader significance in American culture Romance and Rights ends in 1954 the year of the Brown v Board of Education decision before the civil rights movement became well organized By closely examining postwar popular culture African American literature NAACP manuscripts miscegenation laws and segregationist protest letters among other resources the author analyzes postwar attitudes towards interracial romance showing how complex and often contradictory those attitudes could be
