Recognizing the Romantic Novel Jillian Heydt-Stevenson, Charlotte Sussman, 2010-01-01 The field of literature changed dramatically at the end of the eighteenth century as under the shadow of Romanticism the novel became the most important literary genre of its day Often neglected the novels of the Romantic era puzzle critics yet are much more concerned with the unexpected the unconventional and the uncanny than their immediate predecessors or successors and their authors include some of the most important novelists of British literary history Jane Austen Fanny Burney James Hogg Mary Shelley and Sir Walter Scott among them Featuring contributions from distinguished scholars in the field Recognizing the Romantic Novel evaluates the vibrancy and centrality of the Romantic novel showcasing the important new voices and directions in the field and showing it can hold its own in the canon of literary scholarship These essays offer us a lens through which we may recognize the Romantic novel as it has never been recognized before Times Literary Supplement

Romantic Prose Fiction Gerald Ernest Paul Gillespie, Manfred Engel, Bernard Dieterle, 2008 In this volume a team of three dozen international experts presents a fresh picture of literary prose fiction in the Romantic age seen from cross cultural and interdisciplinary perspectives The work treats the appearance of major themes in characteristically Romantic versions the power of Romantic discourse to reshape imaginative writing and a series of crucial reactions to the impact of Romanticism on cultural life down to the present both in Europe and in the New World Through its combination of chapters on thematic generic and discursive features Romantic Prose Fiction achieves a unique theoretical stance by considering the opinions of primary Romantics and their successors not as guiding truths by which to define the permanent meaning of Romanticism but as data of cultural history that shed important light on an evolving civilization

The Romanticism series in the Comparative History of Literatures in European Languages is the result of a remarkable international collaboration The editorial team coordinated the efforts of over 100 experts from more than two dozen countries to produce five independently conceived yet interrelated volumes that show not only how Romanticism developed and spread in its principal European homelands and throughout the New World but also the ways in which the affected literatures in reaction to Romanticism have redefined themselves on into Modernism A glance at the index of each volume quickly reveals the extraordinary richness of the series total contents

Romantic Irony sets the broader experimental parameters of comparison by concentrating on the myriad expressions of irony as one of the major impulses in the Romantic philosophical and artistic revolution and by combining cross cultural and interdisciplinary studies with special attention also to literatures in less widely diffused language streams

Romantic Drama traces creative innovations that deeply altered the understanding of genre at large fed popular imagination through vehicles like the opera and laid the foundations for a modernist theater of the absurd

Romantic Poetry demonstrates deep patterns and a sharing of crucial themes of the revolutionary age which underlie the lyrical expression that flourished in so many languages and environments

Nonfictional Romantic Prose assists us in coping with the vast array of writings from the personal and intimate sphere to modes of public discourse including Romanticism s own self commentary in theoretical statements on the arts society life the sciences and more

Nor are the discursive dimensions of imaginative literature neglected in the closing volume Romantic Prose Fiction where the basic Romantic themes and story types the romance novel novella short story and other narrative forms are considered throughout Europe and the New World

This enormous realm is seen not just in terms of Romantic theorizing but in the light of the impact of Romantic ideas and narration on later generations

As an aid to readers the introduction to Romantic Prose Fiction explains the relationships among the volumes in the series and carries a listing of their tables of contents in an appendix

No other series exists comparable to these volumes which treat the entirety of Romanticism as a cultural happening across the whole breadth of the Old and New Worlds and thus render a complex picture of European spiritual strivings in the late eighteenth and the nineteenth centuries a heritage still very close to our age

Love Letters and the Romantic Novel during the Napoleonic Wars Sharon Worley, 2017-01-06

Love letters during the Napoleonic wars were largely framed by concepts of love which were promoted through novels and philosophy The standard texts so to speak which were written by major authors who inherited this Enlightenment bearing responded to the emerging concepts of love found in novels and philosophical essays

Love among this Napoleonic coterie is unique because it demonstrates the reciprocal relationship between the love letter and the romantic novel

Germaine de Sta l Juliette R camier

Chateaubriand Benjamin Constant Lady Emma Hamilton Napoleon Bonaparte and his brother Lucien Bonaparte were the authors and recipients of some of the most passionate love letters of this period They were also avid readers of the newly emerging genre of the romantic novel and many of them were also authors of such works where they projected their personal romances onto the characterization of their fictional heroes and heroines In addition these authors had lived through the recent French Revolution and the Terror Imprisoned during the Revolution or branded as emigrés upon their return to Paris their mature adult lives were spent in the shadows of the Napoleonic wars in which they shifted political loyalties as the specter of Napoleon's powers grew from First Consul to Emperor of Europe The looming threat of war ignited the depths of their passions and inspired their intellectual analysis of love happiness and suicide Their evolving concept of love was a romantic all consuming passion which gripped the lovers in fatal embraces This book's analysis of their love letters and romantic novels reveals the emerging political landscape of the period through extended metaphors of love and patriotism

Caricature and Realism in the Romantic Novel Olivia Ferguson, 2023-10-25 What was caricature to novelists in the Romantic period Why does Jane Austen call Mr Dashwood's wife a strong caricature of himself Why does Mary Shelley describe the body of Frankenstein's creature as in proportion but then distorted in its proportions and does caricature have anything to do with it This book answers those questions shifting our understanding of caricature as a literary critical term in the decades when the English novel was first defined and canonised as a distinct literary entity Novels incorporated caricature talk and anti caricature rhetoric to tell readers what different realisms purported to show them Recovering the period's concept of caricature Caricature and Realism in the Romantic Novel sheds light on formal realism's self reflexivity about the caricature of artifice exaggeration and imagination This title is part of the Flip it Open Programme and may also be available Open Access Check our website Cambridge Core for details Populism, Gender, and Sympathy in the Romantic Novel J. Carson, 2010-04-26 Populism Gender and Sympathy in the Romantic Novel is a richly historicized account that explores anxieties about crowds fiction and disguise women authors and unstable gender roles James P Carson argues that the Romantic novel is a form individualizing in its address which exploits popular materials and stretches formal boundaries in an attempt to come to terms with the masses Informed by Bakhtin Foucault and Freud this book offers fresh new readings of works by Sir Walter Scott William Godwin Matthew Lewis Charles Robert Maturin and Mary Shelley German

Romantic Literary Theory Ernst Behler, 1993-04-22 Professor Behler provides a view of the literary work and the artistic process developed in the German Romantic period Write Romantic Novels ...And Live on It Corinna

Taylor, 2021-08-20 These types of novels are not the same as the historical ones that were established in the period of the regency They are usually shorter usually paying attention to the society of the regency and dialogue around action and sex although Mary Balogh and other authors have introduced sex in this genre it can be said that these romances should Much to authors as I arrived Georgette Heyer one of the favorite writers of the SF author of Lois McMaster Bujold also to Jane Austen

In spite of everything the regency of today does not have to be a sitcom This subgenre can deal with distressed characters discovering the importance of family life with heroines forced to sexual abuse protagonists or women heroines forced to become prostitutes Mary Balogh The Secret Pearl Some writers began writing these types of novels before entering historical romance Notable names in this genre especially the humorous regency are Emma Jensen Barbara Metzger Diane Farr Marion Chesney and Kasey Michaels Notable authors of more serious regencies include Mary Balogh Carla Kelly Joan Wolf Patricia Oliver Mary Jo Putney Alison Lane Elisabeth Fairchild and Jo Beverley

The Romantic Movement Alan Menhennet, 2018-10-24 First published in 1981 This study concentrates on the exponents of the central period of German Romanticism regarding as characteristic the mode in which the poet's self becomes active only in response to external stimuli most notably those of landscape The author traces the main strands of thought and interests that preoccupy Romantic writers the revolutionary attitude that is yet differentiated from that of writers like Byron by the lack of emphasis on individualism the dualism of the bourgeois world and the inner self the interest in language as an agency for the regeneration of the German spirit and the concentration on folk themes and the idea of Wanderung This title will be of interest to students of literature

The Cambridge Companion to Fiction in the Romantic Period Richard Maxwell, Katie Trumpener, 2008-02-21 While poetry has been the genre most closely associated with the Romantic period the novel of the late eighteenth and early nineteenth centuries has attracted many more readers and students in recent years Its canon has been widened to include less well known authors alongside Jane Austen Walter Scott Maria Edgeworth and Thomas Love Peacock Over the last generation especially a remarkable range of popular works from the period have been re-discovered and reread intensively This Companion offers an overview of British fiction written between roughly the mid 1760s and the early 1830s and is an ideal guide to the major authors historical and cultural contexts and later critical reception The contributors to this volume represent the most up to date directions in scholarship charting the ways in which the period's social political and intellectual redefinitions created new fictional subjects forms and audiences

The Family, Marriage, and Radicalism in British Women's Novels of the 1790s Jennifer Golightly, 2012-02-01 This book explores the ways in which five female radical novelists of the 1790s Elizabeth Inchbald Eliza Fenwick Mary Hays Charlotte Smith and Mary Wollstonecraft attempted to use the components of private life to work toward widespread social reform These writers depict the conjugal family as the site for a potential reformation of the prejudices and flaws of the biological family The biological family in the radical novels of female writers is fraught with problems greed and selfishness pervert the relationships between siblings and neglect and ignorance characterize the parenting received by the heroines Additionally the radical novelists responding to representations of biological families as inherently restrictive for unmarried women develop the notion of marriage to a certain type of man as a social duty Marriage between two properly sensible people who have both cultivated their reason and understanding and who can live together as equals sharing domestic responsibilities is shown to be an ideal with the power to create social change Positioning their depictions of marriage in opposition to earlier feminist depictions of female utopian societies the female radical novelists of the 1790s strive to depict relationships between men and women that are characterized by cooperation individual autonomy and equality What is most important about these depictions is their ultimate failure Most of the female radical novelists find such marriages nearly impossible to conceptualize Marriage for many of the female radical novelists was an institution they perceived as inextricably related to male concerns about property and inescapably patriarchal under the marriage laws of late eighteenth century British society Unions between two worthy individuals outside the boundaries of marriage are shown in the female radical novels to be equally problematic sex inevitably is the basis for such unions yet sex leaves women vulnerable to exploitation by men Rather than the triumph therefore of what comes to be in these novels the male associated values of property and power through marriage the female radical novels end by suggesting an alternative community one that will shelter those members of society who are most frequently exploited in male attempts to accumulate this property and power women servants and children

The Fictions of Romantic Tourism George Dekker, 2005 This book explores the interrelationships between British fiction and tourism 1745 1830 especially as these are exemplified in the novels and tours of three of the most important Romantic novelists Its author shows that the imaginative reshaping of humdrum reality characteristic of the fiction of Ann Radcliffe Mary Shelley and Sir Walter Scott was also widely practiced by tourists who shared the same liberating Romantic aesthetic
