President (1981-1989 : Reagan),1982 The President, the State and the Cold War James Bilsland,2015-02-11 US foreign policy during the Cold War has been analysed from a number of perspectives generating large bodies of literature attempting to explain its origins its development and its conclusion However there are still many questions left only partially explained In large part this is because these accounts restrict themselves to a single level of analysis either the international system or the structure of the state and society The first level of analysis focusing on the role of individuals has largely been excluded This book argues that structural theories and any approach that limits itself to one level of analysis are inadequate to explain the development of US foreign policy Instead it is necessary to incorporate the first level of analysis in order to bring human agency back and provide a more detailed explanation of US foreign policy Bilsland proposes an analytical framework which incorporates presidential agency into a multi level analysis of US foreign policy during the Cold War constructing a multi level case study comparison of the foreign policies of Presidents Truman and Reagan He argues that the worldview of the president is central to agenda setting in US foreign policy making and that the management style of the president influences both decision making and the implementation of US foreign policy Evidence to support this is drawn from detailed empirical analysis of Truman s foreign policy of containment in Korea and Reagan s foreign policy of rollback in Nicaragua This work will be of interest to students and scholars of US Foreign Policy US History and International Relations Memorial Services in the Congress of the United States and Tributes in Eulogy of Ronald Reagan, Late a President of the United States ,2005 Congressional Record United States. President, 1984 The Presidents vs. the Press Harold Holzer, 2020-08-25 An award winning presidential historian offers an authoritative account of American presidents attacks on our freedom of the press The FAKE NEWS media Donald Trump has tweeted is not my enemy it is the enemy of the American People Has our free press ever faced as great a threat Perhaps not but the tension between presidents and journalists is as old as the republic itself Every president has been convinced of his own honesty and transparency every reporter who has covered the White House beat has believed with equal fervency that his or her journalistic rigor protects the country from danger Our first president George Washington was also the first to grouse about his treatment in the newspapers although he kept his complaints private Subsequent chiefs like John Adams Abraham Lincoln Woodrow Wilson and Barack Obama were not so reticent going so far as to wield executive power to overturn press freedoms and even to prosecute journalists Theodore Roosevelt was the first president to actively manage the stable of reporters who followed him doling out information steering coverage and squashing stories that interfered with his agenda It was a strategy that galvanized TR s public support but the lesson was lost on Woodrow Wilson who never accepted reporters into his inner circle Franklin Roosevelt transformed media relations forever holding more than a thousand presidential press conferences and harnessing the new power of radio at times bypassing the press altogether John F Kennedy excelled on television and charmed reporters to hide his personal life while

Richard Nixon was the first to cast the press as a public enemy. From the days of newsprint and pamphlets to the rise of Facebook and Twitter, each president has harnessed the media, whether intentional or not, to imprint his own character on the office. In this remarkable new history, acclaimed scholar Harold Holzer examines the dual rise of the American presidency and the media that shaped it. From Washington to Trump, he chronicles the disputes and distrust between these core institutions that define the United States of America, revealing that the essence of their confrontation is built into the fabric of the nation.
