Encyclopedia of African American History, 1896 to the Present Paul Finkelman, 2009 Alphabetically arranged entries from A to C that explores significant events major persons organizations and political and social movements in African American history from 1896 to the twenty first century The Ethnographer's Magic and Other Essays in the History of Anthropology George W. Stocking, 1992 George Stocking has been widely recognized as the premier historian of anthropology ever since the publication of his first volume of essays Race Culture and Evolution in 1968 As editor of several publications including the highly acclaimed History of Anthropology series he has led the movement to establish the history of anthropology as a recognized research specialization In addition to the study Victorian Anthropology his work includes numerous essays covering a wide range of anthropological topics The eight essays collected in The Ethnographer's Magic consider the emergence of anthropology since the late nineteenth century as an academic discipline grounded in systematic fieldwork Drawing extensively on unpublished manuscript materials the essays focus primarily on Franz Boas and Bronislaw Malinowski the leading figures in the American and the British academic fieldwork traditions According to George Marcus of Rice University the essays represent the most informative and insightful writings on Malinowski and Boas and their legacies that are yet available Beyond their biographical material the essays here touch upon major themes in the history of anthropology its powerfully mythic aspect and persistent strain of romantic primitivism the contradictions of its relationship to the larger sociopolitical sphere its problematic integration of a variety of natural scientific and humanistic inquiries and the tension between its scientific aspirations and its subjectively acquired data To provide an overview against which to read the other essays Stocking has also included a sketch of the history of anthropology from the ancient Greeks to the present For this collection Stocking has written prefatory commentaries for each of the essays as well as two more extended contextualizing pieces An introductory essay Retrospective Prescriptive Reflections places the volume in autobiographical and historiographical context the Afterword Postscriptive Prospective Reflections reconsiders major themes of the essays in relation to the recent past and present situation of academic anthropology Mystic Chords of Memory Michael Kammen, 2011-08-17 Mystic Chords of Memory Illustrated with hundreds of well chosen anecdotes and minute observations Kammen is a demon researcher who seems to have mined his nuggets from the entire corpus of American cultural history insightful and sardonic Washington Post Book World In this ground breaking panoramic work of American cultural history the Pulitzer Prize winning author of A Machine That Would Go of Itself examines a central paradox of our national identity How did the land of the future acquire a past And to what extent has our collective memory of that past as embodied in our traditions have been distorted or even manufactured Ranging from John Adams to Ronald Reagan from the origins of Independence Day celebrations to the controversies surrounding the Vietnam War Memorial from the Daughters of the American Revolution to immigrant associations and filled with incisive analyses of such phenonema as Americana and its collectors historic villages and Disneyland Mystic Chords of Memory is a brilliant immensely readable and enormously important book Fascinating a subtle and teeming narrative masterly Time This is a big ambitious book and Kammen pulls it off admirably He brings a prodigious mind and much scholarly rigor to his task an importnat book and a revealing look at how Americans look at themselves Milwaukee Journal Jean Toomer and the Terrors of American History Charles Scruggs, Lee VanDemarr, 2016-11-11 Jean Toomer's Cane was the first major text of the Harlem Renaissance and the first important modernist text by an African American writer It powerfully depicts the terror in the history of American race relations a public world of lynchings race riots and Jim Crow and a private world of internalized conflict over identity and race which mirrored struggles in the culture at large Toomer's own life reflected that internal conflict and he has been an ambiguous figure in literary history an author who wrote a text that had a tremendous impact on African American authors but who eventually tried to distance himself from Cane and from his identification as a black writer In Jean Toomer and the Terrors of American History Charles Scruggs and Lee VanDemarr examine original sources Toomer's rediscovered early writings on politics and race his extensive correspondence with Waldo Frank and unpublished portions of his autobiographies to show how the cultural wars of the 1920s influenced the shaping of Toomer's book and his subsequent efforts to escape the racial definitions of American society That those definitions remain crucial for American society even today is one reason Toomer's work continues to fascinate and to influence contemporary writers and readers Against Amnesia Nancy J.
