

The background of the cover is an abstract composition of organic, cellular shapes in warm, earthy tones. A large, central, light-brown shape with several dark, circular voids dominates the left side. To its right, a smaller, lighter-colored shape with a grid of small dark dots is visible. Below the central shape, a darker, more textured shape with a fine grid pattern is partially seen. The overall effect is one of depth and texture, reminiscent of biological or geological structures.
