Seeing Anthropology W Video:

Seeing Anthropology Karl G. Heider, 2004 Seeing Anthropology continues to be the only cultural anthropology text available that allows for easy integration of ethnographic films into the introductory cultural anthropology course. This text truly incorporates films within the text by blending textbook content with fourteen ethnographic film clips that are put in the hands of students. More flexible ordering options are available with the new edition. See New to this Edition section below. One reviewer says: "The greatest strengths of this text are its unique and skillful use of film clips to enhance student learning. I can think of no better way to extend student learning in anthropology than the use of films and there is no one more qualified to select and present anthropological films than the author of this book." Visual Research Jerome W. Crowder, Jonathan S. Marion, 2020-06-11 Visual Research: A Concise Introduction to Thinking Visually is the first text to present a concise overview of the significant ethical, theoretical, and practical considerations for conducting research with images. The capacity to take photos and video on handheld devices and the ability to store, post, and share such imagery online all offer tremendous opportunities for social research. The rapid development and popularity of such technology means that little technological proficiency is required and even less theoretical and ethical consideration. This book provides an accessible introduction to doing visual research in the social sciences. Beginning with ethical considerations, this book highlights the importance of thinking visually before engaging in visual research. Further themes involve creating, organizing, and using images and are presented so as to help readers think about and work with their own visual data. Boxed case studies and further reading suggestions enhance the utility of this primer. Concise and highly focused, Visual Research will be an invaluable resource for visual media and communications students and researchers and others interested in visual research in the social sciences.

The Routledge International Handbook of Ethnographic Film and Video Phillip Vannini, 2020-04-02 The Routledge International Handbook of Ethnographic Film and Video is a state-of-the-art book which encompasses the breadth and depth of the field of ethnographic film and video-based research. With more and more researchers turning to film and video as a key element of their projects and as research video production becomes more practical due to technological advances as well as the growing acceptance of video in everyday life, this critical book supports young researchers looking to develop the skills necessary to produce meaningful ethnographic films and videos and serves as a comprehensive resource for social scientists looking to better understand and appreciate the unique ways in which film and video can serve as ways of knowing and as tools of knowledge mobilization. Comprised of 31 chapters authored by some of the world's leading experts in their respective fields, the book's contributors synthesize existing literature, introduce the historical and conceptual dimensions of the field, illustrate innovative methodologies and techniques, survey traditional and new technologies, reflect on ethics and moral imperatives, outline ways to work with people, objects, and tools, and shape the future agenda of the field. With a particular focus on making ethnographic film and video as opposed to analyzing or critiquing it from a variety of methodological approaches and styles the Handbook provides both a comprehensive introduction and up to date survey of the field for a vast variety of audiovisual researchers such as scholars and students in sociology anthropology geography communication and media studies education cultural studies film studies visual arts and related social science and humanities As such it will appeal to a multidisciplinary and international audience and features a dynamic forward thinking innovative and contemporary focus oriented toward the very latest developments in the field as well as future possibilities

Seeing and Being Seen Hilary E. Kahn, 2010-01-01 The practice of morality and the formation of identity among an indigenous Latin American culture are framed in a pioneering ethnography of sight that attempts to reverse the trend of anthropological fieldwork and theory overshadowing one another In this vital and richly detailed work methodology and theory are treated as complementary partners as the author explores the dynamic Mayan customs of the Q'eqchi' people living in the cultural crossroads of Livingston Guatemala Here Q'eqchi' Ladino and Garifuna Caribbean coast Afro Indians societies interact among themselves and with others ranging from government officials to capitalists to contemporary tourists The fieldwork explores the politics of sight and incorporates a video camera operated by multiple people the author and the Q'eqchi' people themselves to watch unobtrusively the traditions rituals and everyday actions that exemplify the long standing moral concepts guiding the Q'eqchi' in their relationships and tribulations Sharing the camera lens as well as the lens of ethnographic authority allows the author to slip into the world of the Q'eqchi' and capture their moral social political economic and spiritual constructs shaped by history ancestry external forces and time itself A comprehensive history of the Q'eqchi' illustrates how these former plantation laborers migrated to lands far from their Mayan ancestral homes to co exist as one of several competing cultures and what impact this had on maintaining continuity in their identities moral codes of conduct and perception of the changing outside world With the innovative use of visual methods and theories the author's reflexive sensory oriented ethnographic approach makes this a study that itself becomes a reflection of the complex set of social structures embodied in its subject

Pleasure With Products William S. Green, Patrick W. Jordan, 2002-04-18 The last five years have seen a major paradigm shift in the role of human factors in product design Previously this was seen as pertaining almost exclusively to product usability but new recognition is being given to pleasure based human factors This emphasizes the holistic nature of the experience of person product interaction While tradition

Doing Visual Ethnography Sarah Pink, 2007 Those already proficient in ethnographic methods will find Doing Visual Ethnography a foray into what should be an increasingly normative terrain and what is certainly a much needed addition to the literature They will be challenged to simultaneously take on new methodological conceits and their application beyond traditional boundaries Library Information Science Research Following on from the success of Doing Visual Ethnography this fully revised and updated second edition explores the use and potential of photography video and hypermedia in ethnographic and social research It offers a reflexive approach to theoretical methodological practical and ethical issues of using these media now that they are increasingly being incorporated into field research Sarah Pink adopts the viewpoint that visual research methods should be rooted in a critical understanding of local and academic visual cultures the visual media and technologies being used and the ethical issues they raise The book demonstrates that these new challenges that shape ethnographic knowledge can be met by understanding the reflexivity and experience through which visual and ethnographic materials are produced and interpreted New to the Second Edition General updating of figures terminology and literature to bring the book up to date with recent innovations in theory practice and technology Annotated reading lists added to each chapter to guide the reader to further literature Completely rewritten chapter on digital technology to ensure the text is in line with the latest developments in technology and methodological thinking Drawing from her own experiences of using photography video and hypermedia in research as well as the work of others the author follows the research process from project design planning and implementing and practising fieldwork to analysis and representation suggesting how visual images and technologies can be combined to form an integrated process throughout the different stages of research The Second Edition of Doing Visual Ethnography is an excellent resource for students of sociology anthropology cultural studies media studies and those doing ethnographic and qualitative research It also provides valuable reading for researchers and postgraduates

Arts-Based Educational Research and Qualitative Inquiry Thalia M. Mulvihill, Raji Swaminathan, 2019-11-04 Awarded QRSIG s Honorable Mention for 2021 2020 AESA Critics Choice Book Award Winner Arts Based Educational Research and Qualitative Inquiry introduces novice qualitative researchers within education and related fields to arts based educational research ABER Abundant prompts and exercises are provided to help readers apply the concepts and experiment with various applications of the ideas presented The authors walk the path with novice researchers offering a variety of approaches to the practice of arts based methods while providing a guided overview of ABER and include pedagogical features in each chapter Exercises are designed to assist educational researchers who wish to expand their repertoire of methodologies The authors also weave into the discussion the possibilities and limitations of many types of arts based methods while introducing readers to the growing methodological literature By offering a tapestry of ways to engage the novice researcher the book illustrates that it is not always possible to separate cognitive findings from aesthetic knowing This book will help qualitative researchers to expand their methodologies to include arts based approaches to their projects and by doing so reshape their identities as qualitative researchers It also offers some evaluative criteria and tool kits for experimenting with various arts and educational research

Power and Informality in Urban Africa Laura Stark, Annika Björnsdotter Teppo, 2021-12-16 Urban Africa is undergoing a transformation unlike anywhere else in the world as unprecedented numbers of people migrate to rapidly expanding cities But despite the growing body of work on urban Africa the lives of these new city dwellers have received relatively little attention particularly when it comes to crucial issues of power and inequality This interdisciplinary collection brings together contributions from urban studies geography and anthropology to provide new insights into the social and political dynamics of African cities as well as uncovering the causes and consequences of urban inequality Featuring rich new ethnographic research data and case studies drawn from across the continent the collection shows that Africa s new urbanites have adapted to their environs in ways which often defy the assumptions of urban planners By examining the experiences of these urban residents in confronting issues of power and agency the contributors consider how such insights can inform more effective approaches to research city planning and development both in Africa and beyond The Cambridge Handbook of Play Peter K. Smith,Jaipaul L.

Roopnarine,2018-11-15 Play takes up much of the time budget of young children and many animals but its importance in development remains contested This comprehensive collection brings together multidisciplinary and developmental perspectives on the forms and functions of play in animals children in different societies and through the lifespan The Cambridge Handbook of Play covers the evolution of play in animals especially mammals the development of play from infancy through childhood and into adulthood historical and anthropological perspectives on play theories and methodologies the role of play in children s learning play in special groups such as children with impairments or suffering political violence and the practical applications of playwork and play therapy Written by an international team of scholars from diverse disciplines such as psychology education neuroscience sociology evolutionary biology and anthropology this essential reference presents the current state of the field in play research Visual Methods in Social Research Marcus

Banks,2001-03-09 There has been an explosion of interest in visual culture coming largely from work in sociology anthropology and cultural studies and while there are a number of practical and technical manuals available for film photographic and other visual media there is a dearth of writing that combines both the practical and the technical This book redresses this with a balanced approach that is written primarily for students in the social sciences who wish to use visual materials in the course of empirical qualitative field research It should also be of interest to experienced researchers who wish to expand their methodological approaches Visual methods provides empirical approaches to both image creation and image analysis drawing on a wide range of examples from research conducted on Egyptian television soap opera to the sale of ethnographic photographs in London auction houses to pornographic images on the Web New technologies are also included with image digitization and computer based multimedia extensively covered There are sections on using film and photographic archives and useful practical advice on publishing and presenting the results of visual research Marcus Banks stresses the material nature of visual media as objects that are entangled in social relations and argues for a humanistic engaged and reflexive approach to social research This book will be an indispensable guide for the use and study of social images Handbook of Emergent Methods Sharlene Nagy Hesse-Biber,Patricia Leavy,2013-10-15 Social researchers increasingly find themselves looking beyond conventional methods to address complex research questions This is the first book to comprehensively examine emergent qualitative and quantitative theories and methods across the social and behavioral sciences Providing scholars and students with a way to retool their research choices the volume presents cutting edge approaches to data collection analysis and representation Leading researchers describe alternative uses of traditional quantitative and qualitative tools innovative hybrid or mixed methods and new techniques facilitated by technological advances Consistently formatted chapters explore the strengths and limitations of each method for studying different types of research questions and offer practical in depth examples Images, Ethics, Technology Sharrona Pearl, 2015-10-05 Images Ethics Technology explores the changing ethical implications of images and the ways they are communicated and understood It emphasises how images change not only through their modes of representation but through our relationship to them In order to understand images we must understand how they are produced communicated and displayed Each of the 14 essays chart the relationship to technology as part of a larger complex social and cultural matrix highlighting how these relations constrain and enable notions of responsibility with respect to images and what they represent They demonstrate that as technology develops and changes the images themselves change not just with respect to content but in the very meanings and indices they produce This is a collection that not only asks who speaks for the art But also who speaks for the witnesses the cameras the documented the landscape the institutional platforms the taboos those wishing to be forgotten those being seen and the experience of viewing itself Images Ethics Technology is ideal for advanced level students and researchers in media and communications visual culture and cultural studies New Frontiers in International Communication

Theory Mehdi Semati, 2004-10-26 New Frontiers in International Communication Theory offers a wide ranging assessment of the present state of the field of international communication and charts new directions for theory and research It brings together renowned and emerging scholars who challenge the field to move beyond the limits of existing formulations approaches and trajectories providing an alternative and a supplement to traditional approaches in analysis and study In rethinking the central problematics of the field exploring established and new tools and models of inquiry and articulating new research agendas this interdisciplinary collection anticipates the future of international communication studies

Points of Viewing Children's Thinking Ricki Goldman-Segall, Ricki Goldman, 2014-04-08 This book is about learning and ethnography in the context of technologies Simultaneously it portrays young people s thinking attitudes in computer based learning environments and it describes how the practice of ethnography is changing in a digital world The author likens this form of interaction to the double helix where learning and ethnography are intertwined to tell an emergent story about partnerships with technology Two school computer cultures were videotaped for this study Separated not only by geography one school is on the east coast of New England and the other on the west coast of British Columbia on Vancouver Island they are also separated in other ways ethnic make up and inner city vs rural settings to name only two Yet these two schools are joined by a strong thread a change in their respective cultures with the advent of intensive computer use on the part of the students Both school communities have watched their young people gain literacy and competence and their tools have changed from pen to computer video camera multimedia and the Internet Perhaps most striking is that the way they think of themselves as learners has also changed they see themselves as an active participant in the pilot's seat or director's chair as they chart new connections between diverse and often unpredictable worlds of knowledge We've Scene it All Before Brian C. Johnson, 2009-01-01 A revolutionary tool for corporate and academic trainers We've Scene It All Before harnesses the power of mainstream Hollywood film to enhance educational sessions about diversity and social justice This resource manual offers practical guidance on how to effectively use the concept of difference as a starting point towards true inclusion Seasoned and novice trainers will appreciate the suggested strategies and best practices on facilitating diversity dialogues which are coupled with a set of twenty-five definitions that introduce and raise awareness of the personal and systemic nature of difference discrimination and power Workshops on human relations and workplace diversity must move beyond the superficial celebration of diversity to the dismantling of systems of privilege and oppression that create environments where members of the organization are disenfranchised and disempowered Using clips from a variety of genres of mainstream film allows the trainer to make intercultural concepts visible and offers a way for us to challenge our own values and assumptions Participants will enjoy the presentations more as they view some of their favorite films in a whole new way using this familiar medium creates a common basis for entering the discussions all the while giving us the permission to talk about serious and often controversial subjects We've Scene It All Before Using Film Clips in Diversity Awareness Training is a learning tool which will be tremendously useful in reducing resistance and increasing thoughtful cross-cultural dialogue Viewpoints Mary Strong, Laena Wilder, 2009-05-01 Early in its history anthropology was a visual as well as verbal discipline But as time passed visually oriented professionals became a minority among their colleagues and most anthropologists used written words rather than audiovisual modes as their professional means of communication Today however contemporary electronic and interactive media once more place visual anthropologists and anthropologically oriented artists within the mainstream Digital media small sized and easy to use equipment and the Internet with its interactive and public forum websites democratize roles once relegated to highly trained professionals alone However having access to a good set of tools does not guarantee accurate and reliable work Visual anthropology involves much more than media alone This book presents visual anthropology as a work in progress open to the myriad innovations that the new audiovisual communications technologies bring to the field It is intended to aid in contextualizing explaining and humanizing the storehouse of visual knowledge that university students and general readers now encounter and to help inform them about how these new media tools can be used for intellectually and socially beneficial purposes Concentrating on documentary photography and ethnographic film as well as lesser known areas of study and presentation including dance painting architecture archaeology and primate research the book's fifteen contributors feature populations living on all of the world's continents as well as within the United States The final chapter gives readers practical advice about how to use the most current digital and interactive technologies to present research findings

Interaction and Mobility Pentti Haddington, Lorenza Mondada, Maurice Nevile, 2013-05-28 How do people interact when they are on the move How do people interact in order to be mobile How do people coordinate the mobility of others How does mobility feature in social interaction Multimodal interaction and mobility are of increasing interest to scholars across disciplines Interaction and mobility is the first book to study these aspects comprehensively It provides cutting edge research by international scholars who use video recordings of real life everyday interactions for studying in close detail human social interaction in such diverse multimodal settings as airplanes cars traffic control centres dance schools museums and other public places and as part of such activities as instructing navigating identifying an enemy on the battlefield organising a meeting playing videogames shopping performing and dancing Together these studies highlight features of social interaction including language embodied conduct and spatial and material orientation for being mobile for interacting on the move so that mobility becomes a ubiquitous feature of our lives This book is a valuable resource to anyone interested in multimodal interaction and mobility

Ethnographic Film Karl G. Heider, 2009-04-20 From reviews of the first edition Ethnographic Film can rightly be considered a film primer for anthropologists Choice This is an interesting and useful book about what it means to be ethnographic and how this might affect ethnographic filmmaking for the better It obviously belongs in all departments of anthropology and most ethnographic filmmakers will want to read it Ethnohistory Even before Robert Flaherty released Nanook of the North in 1922 anthropologists were producing films about the lifeways of native peoples for a public audience as well as for research and teaching Ethnographic Film 1976 was one of the first books to provide a comprehensive introduction to this field of visual anthropology and it quickly became the standard reference In this new edition Karl G Heider thoroughly updates Ethnographic Film to reflect developments in the field over the three decades since its publication focusing on the work of four seminal filmmakers Jean Rouch John Marshall Robert Gardner and Timothy Asch He begins with an introduction to ethnographic film and a history of the medium He then considers many attributes of ethnographic film including the crucial need to present whole acts whole bodies whole interactions and whole people to preserve the integrity of the cultural context Heider also discusses numerous aspects of making ethnographic films from ethics and finances to technical considerations such as film versus video and preserving the filmed record He concludes with a look at using ethnographic film in teaching

Music and Minorities from Around the World Ursula Hemetek, Essica Marks, Adelaida Reyes, 2014-11-10 The acceleration of mobility among the worlds peoples the growth of populations resettling in places other than their homelands and world events that have propelled these developments have brought minorities unprecedented attention Their significance as subjects for study has grown correspondingly and the study of their music has become an important gateway into understanding the culture of minorities

Working Images Ana Isabel Alfonso, Laszlo Kurti, Sarah Pink, 2004-08-02 In Working Images prominent visual anthropologists and artists explore how old and new visual media can be integrated into contemporary forms of research and representation
