Seeing Through The Dark Blind And Sighted A Vision Shared:

Everybody Belongs Arthur Shapiro, 2003-09-01 The evil prosthesis of Captain Hook the comical speech of Porky Pig and the bumbling antics of Mr Magoo are all examples of images in our culture which can become the basis of negative attitudes and subliminal prejudice towards persons with disabilities These attitudes influence and underlie discriminatory acts resulting in negative treatment and segregation A teacher's ability to recognize and counter such images may well determine the success of inclusion and mainstreaming programs in our schools and society Well researched and well written this book offers practical guidance as grounded in solid research to schools that are wrestling with how to mainstream children with disabilities

For Younger Readers, 1981 Libre Acceso Susan Antebi, Beth E. Jørgensen, 2015-12-02 Libre Acceso stages an innovative encounter between disciplines that have remained quite separate Latin American literary film and cultural studies and disability studies It offers a much needed framework to engage the representation construction embodiment and contestation of human differences and provides tools for the urgent resignification of a robust and diverse Latin American literary and filmic tradition The contributors discuss such topics as impairment trauma illness and the body performance queer theory subaltern studies and human rights while analyzing literature and film from Argentina Brazil Chile Colombia Cuba Mexico and Peru They explore these issues through the work of canonical figures Jorge Luis Borges Gabriel García Márquez João Guimarães Rosa and others as well as less well known figures including Mario Bellatin and Miriam Alves

Body Genre David Scott Diffrient, 2023-11-27 In this groundbreaking work author David Scott Diffrient explores largely understudied facets of cinematic horror from the various odors permeating classic and contemporary films to the wetness sliminess and stickiness of these productions which he argues practically scream out for a tactile mode of textural analysis as much as they call for more traditional forms of textual analysis Dating back to Carol Clover's and Linda Williams's pioneering work on horror cinema film scholars have long conceptualized this once disreputable category of cultural production as a body genre However despite the growing recognition that horror serves important biological and social functions in our lives scholars have only scratched the surface of this genre with regard to its affective corporeal and sensorial appeals Diffrient anatomizes horror films in much the same way that a mad scientist might handle the body separating and recombining constitutive parts into a new analytical whole Further he challenges the tendency of scholars to privilege human over nonhuman beings and calls into question ableist assumptions about the centrality to horror films of sight and sound to the near exclusion of other forms of sense experience In addition to examining the role that animals living or dead real or fake play in human centered fictions this volume asks what it means for audiences to consume motion pictures in which actors stunt performers and other creative personnel have put their own bodies and lives at risk for our amusement Historically grounded and theoretically expansive Body Genre Anatomy of the Horror Film moves the study of cinematic horror into previously uncharted waters and breathes life into a subject that not coincidentally is intimately connected to breathing as our most cherished dividing line between life and death

Traveling Blind Susan Krieger, 2010 TRAVELING BLIND is a deeply reflective description of coming to terms with lack of sight It reveals the invisible work of navigating with a guide dog while learning to perceive the world in new ways The author travels with Teela her lively golden dog through airports city streets and Southwest desert landscapes exploring these surroundings with changed sight

The Sense of Sight in Rabbinic Culture Rachel Neis, 2013-08-29 This book studies the significance of sight in rabbinic cultures across Palestine and Mesopotamia approximately from the first to seventh centuries It tracks the extent and effect to which the rabbis living in the Greco Roman and Persian worlds sought to appropriate recast and discipline contemporaneous understandings of sight Sight had a crucial role to play in the realms of divinity sexuality and gender idolatry and ultimately rabbinic subjectivity The rabbis lived in a world in which the eyes were at once potent and vulnerable eyes were thought to touch objects of vision while also acting as an entryway into the viewer Rabbis Romans Zoroastrians Christians and others were all concerned with the protection and exploitation of vision Employing many different sources Professor Neis considers how the rabbis engaged varieties of late antique visualities along with rabbinic narrative exegetical and legal strategies as part of an effort to cultivate and mark a rabbinic eye

Vieira, 2011-01-01

When confronting twentieth century political oppression and violence writers and artists in Portugal and South America have often emphasized the complex relationship between freedom and tyranny In Seeing Politics Otherwise Patricia Vieira uses an interdisciplinary approach to explore the interrelation of politics and representations of vision and blindness in Latin American and Iberian literature film and art Vieira's discussion focuses on three literary works Graciliano Ramos's Memoirs of Prison Ariel Dorfman's Death and the Maiden and Jos Saramago's Blindness with supplemental analyses of sculpture and film by Ana Maria Pacheco Bruno Barreto and Marco Bechis These artists use metaphors of blindness to denounce the totalizing gaze of dictatorial regimes Rather than equating blindness with deprivation Vieira argues that shadows blindfolds and blindness are necessary elements for reimagining the political world and re-acquiring a political voice Seeing Politics Otherwise offers a compelling analysis of vision and its forcible deprivation in the context of art and political protest
