Language Arts in Asia 2 Christina DeCoursey, 2014-06-19 This volume is the second of a series deepening the research understanding and academic study of Language Arts as an English language teaching paradigm Previously used extensively in native speaking countries Language Arts has been taken up in the past decade in many parts of Asia Language Arts uses intrinsically motivating materials such as literature drama and popular culture to help students develop mastery of written and spoken language and text types In recent years Language Arts has embraced media and multiliteracies as well as critical and creative thinking intercultural sensitivity civics and ethics This volume offers a breadth of topics which embody methodologically sophisticated and contemporary language arts research These include multimodal analysis virtual environments the use of comics anime and film in second language teaching and learners experiences of drama and literary tourism The use of literature and the arts in humanist education has a long history within Europe It was traditionally appreciated for its ability to instil ethics and finer sensibilities and teach leadership But the traditional program was marred by its function in inculcating and preserving elitist high culture voices texts and values The post colonial incarnation of Language Arts has been informed by critical and linguistic theory helping it to embrace a popular scope and include a wide array of authentic social and media texts The movement of English language teaching beyond native speaker shores has given rise to a vibrant variety of World Englishes whose literary and media works are now represented within Language Arts The explosion of media over the past few decades has given rise to an increasing array of media to use in language teaching These trends invite scholarly analysis and this is clearly reflected in the chapters in this volume

Linguistics has long had a connection to and a natural role to play in analysing the creative verbal and visual arts As a paradigm Language Arts now takes an inclusive view of the continuum of spoken written and performed languages and texts Cutting edge Language Arts research is now also supported through the new journal Language Arts and Linguistics Taylor and Francis

Collecting the Self Sing-chen Lydia Chiang, 2021-12-28 Chinese strange tale collections contain short stories about ghosts and animal spirits supra human heroes and freaks exotic lands and haunted homes earthquake and floods and other perceived anomalies to accepted cosmic and social norms As such this body of literature is a rich repository of Chinese myths folklore and unofficial histories These collections also reflect Chinese attitudes towards normalcy and strangeness perceptions of civilization and barbarism and fantasies about self and other Inspired in part by Freud's theory of the uncanny this book explores the emotive subtexts of late imperial strange tale collections to consider what these stories tell us about suppressed cultural anxieties the construction of gender and authorial self identity

Chinese Translation Studies in the 21st Century Roberto Valdeon, 2018-11-09 Chinese Translation Studies in the 21st Century which presents a selection of some of the best articles published in the journal Perspectives in a five year period 2012-2017 highlights the vitality of Translation Studies as a profession and as a field of enquiry in China. As the country has gradually opened up to the West, translation academic programmes have burgeoned to cater for the needs of Chinese corporations and political institutions. The book is divided into four sections in which authors explore theoretical and conceptual issues such as the connection between translation and adaptation, multimodality and the nature of norms, audiovisual translation including studies on news translation and the translation of children's movies, bibliographies and bibliometrics to assess for example the international visibility of Chinese scholars and interpreting, analyzing pauses in simultaneous interpreting and sign language among other aspects. The book brings together well established authors and younger scholars from universities in mainland China, Hong Kong, Macao and Taiwan. The chapters in this book were originally published in various issues of Perspectives Studies in Translatology.

Transcultural Poetics Yifeng Sun, Dechao Li, 2023-02-09. This book examines many facets of transcultural poetics in the English translation of Chinese literature from 12 different expert contributors. Translating Chinese literature into English is a special challenge. There is a pressing need to overcome a slew of obstacles to the understanding and appreciation of Chinese literary works by readers in the English speaking world. Hitherto only intermittent attempts have been made to theorize and explore the exact role of the translator as a cultural and aesthetic mediator informed by cross cultural knowledge, awareness and sensitivity. Given the complexity of literary translation, sophisticated poetics of translation in terms of literary value and aesthetic taste needs to be developed and elaborated more fully from a cross cultural perspective. It is therefore necessary to examine attempts to reconcile the desire for authentic transmission of Chinese culture with the need for cultural mediation and appropriation in terms of the production and reception of texts subject to the multiplicity of constraints in order to shed new light on the longstanding conundrum of Chinese-English literary translation by addressing Chinese literature in the multiple contexts of nationalism, cross cultural hybridity, literary untranslatability, the reception of translation and also world literature. The book will be of great interest to students and scholars of translation studies, Chinese literature and East Asian studies.

News Framing through English-Chinese Translation Nancy Liu, 2018-11-14. News Framing Through English-Chinese Translation provides a useful tool to depict how Chinese news translation can be examined in the era of globalization. The author has integrated framing theory in journalism studies with translation studies and developed a new theoretical model framework named Transframing. This interdisciplinary model is pioneering and will make theoretical and conceptual contributions to translation studies. This book aims to reveal ideological, sociocultural and linguistic factors creating media discourse by examining Chinese media discourse in comparison to its counterpart in English. Through the analysis of both quantitative and qualitative methods, it is concluded that the transframing model can be applied to interpreting, describing, explaining as well as predicting the practice of news translation.
