Sternbach, 2023-01-10 Latina theater and solo performance emerged in the 1990s as vibrant energetic new genres found on stages from New York to Los Angeles Many women now work in all aspects of Latina theater often as playwrights or solo performers with practitioners ranging from teenagers to grandmothers Alberto Sandoval S nchez and Nancy Saporta Sternbach have previously published a groundbreaking anthology of Latina theater Puro Teatro They now offer a critical analysis of theatrical works presenting a theoretical perspective from which to examine understand and contextualize Latina theater as a genre in its own right This is the first in depth study of the entire corpus of Latina theater based on close readings of works both published and in manuscript It considers a large body of productions and performances including works by such internationally known authors as Dolores Prida Cherr e Moraga and Janis Astor del Valle Applying feminist and postcolonial theory as well as theories of transculturation Sandoval S nchez and Sternbach show how despite cultural differences among Latinas their works share a common poetics by building upon the politics of representation identity and location In addition to covering theater this study also shows that solo performance has its own history properties structure and poetics It examines performances of Carmelita Tropicana Monica Palacios and Marga Gomez artists whose hybrid identities as Latina lesbians constitute living examples of transculturation in the making to show how solo performance has roots in and digresses from more traditional modes of theater With their Latina heritage as a unifying link these women reflect common traits patterns dramatic structures and properties that overcome regional differences Stages of Life reads these eclectic cultural productions as a unified body of work that contributes to the formation of Latina identity in America today Performing Farmscapes Susan C. Haedicke, 2021-12-06 This book argues that the performance based work in the featured case studies contributes to the construction of food democracy where the public takes back decision making in shaping the food system It explores how contemporary artists translate scientific research about local and global agricultural issues into life stories that inform and engage their audiences and in so doing transform passive food consumers into proactive food citizens The pairing of performing and farmscapes complex webs of farmlands and storylines enables artists to use embodied practices to encourage audiences to imagine a just and sustainable agri food system and to collaborate on making it a reality The book arranges the case studies on a trajectory that moves from projects that foreground knowledge acquisition to ones that emphasize social engagement by creating conversations and coalitions between farming and nonfarming communities to a final one that pairs protest art and political activism to achieve legally binding changes in the agricultural landscape Actors and Activists David Schlossman, 2017-09-25 This scholarly work looks at the issue of politics and performance in America today with particular attention paid to performances produced by activists the NEA Four and Miss Saigon Encyclopedia of Hispanic-American Literature Luz Elena Ramirez, 2015-04-22 Presents a reference
