Marian Engel's Notebooks Christl Verduyn, 2006-01-01 Marian Engel emerged as a writer during that period in Canada when nationalism increased and new feminism dawned. Although she is recognized as a distinguished woman of letters, she has not been widely studied; consequently, we know relatively little about her and her craft. The material collected in Marian Engel's Notebooks Ah mon cahier coute is a major step in redressing that neglect. Extracts carefully chosen by Christl Verduyn from Marian Engel's forty-nine notebooks, which Engel began in the late 1940s and which she maintained until her death in 1985, track Engel's creative development, illustrate her commitment to the craft of writing, and document her growth as a major Canadian writer. The notebooks also portray Engel's surprising leaps of logic, her fascination with the bizarre, the eclecticism of her reading, and the depth and variety of her thinking. Finally, they present moving documentation of a woman facing cancer and early death. Christl Verduyn's illuminating introductory discussions to each of the notebooks unobtrusively guide us in the reading of these sometimes difficult writings. Marian Engel's Notebooks Ah mon cahier coute leaves readers with a vivid sense of Canadian culture during the 1960s and 1970s. It provides insight into the literary life of one of Canada's significant women writers, including her connections with other Canadian writers, and will be of special interest to scholars working in the field of literature.

Marian Engel Marian Engel, 2004-01-01 Admired by a generation of Canadian authors and critics, Marian Engel was a writer's writer. This compilation offers an incomparable view into Canadian literature from 1965 to Engel's early death in 1985.

Roads of Her Own Alexandra Ganser, 2009-01-01 Reading Jack Kerouac's classic On the Road through Virginia Woolf's canonical A Room of One's Own, the author of this book examines a genre in North American literature which, despite its popularity, has received little attention in literary and cultural criticism: women's road narratives. The study shows how women's literature has inscribed itself into the American discourse of the Whitmanesque open road, or more generally the freedom of the road. Women writers have participated in this powerful American myth, yet at the same time also have rejected that myth as fundamentally based on gendered and racial/ethnic hierarchies and power structures, and modified it in the process of writing back to it. The book analyzes stories about female runaways, outlaws, questers, adventurers, kidnappers, biker chicks, travelling saleswomen, and picares, and makes theoretical observations on the debates regarding discourses of spatiality and mobility, debates which have defined the so-called spatial turn in the humanities. The analytical concept of transdifference is introduced to theorize the dissonant plurality of social and cultural affiliations, as well as the narrative tensions produced by such pluralities, in order to better understand the textual worlds of women's multiple belongings as they are present in these writings. Roads of Her Own is thus not only situated in the broader context of a constructivist cultural studies, but also by discussing narrative mobility under the sign of gender, combines insights from social theory and philosophy, feminist cultural geography, and literary studies.
