the development of new varieties of plants His ability to perform experiments that produced plants with favorable characteristics depended more on his sense of intuition than on strict scientific methodology However Burbank was influenced by certain scientific theories such as the formerly accepted theory of the inheritance of acquired characteristics affirmed by Jean de Lamarck and others Burbank s writings include Luther Burbank His Methods and Discoveries 12 vol 1914 15 and How Plants Are Trained to Work for Man 8 vol 1921 This set was prepared from the author s original field notes covering more than 100 000 experiments made during forty years devoted to plant improvement Luther Burbank John Whitson,Robert John,Luther Burbank Society,2018-10-11 This work has been selected by scholars as being culturally important and is part of the knowledge base of civilization as we know it This work is in the public domain in the United States of America and possibly other nations Within the United States you may freely copy and distribute this work as no entity individual or corporate has a copyright on the body of the work Scholars believe and we concur that this work is important enough to be preserved reproduced and made generally available to the public To ensure a quality reading experience this work has been proofread and republished using a format that seamlessly blends the original graphical elements with text in an easy to read typeface We appreciate your support of the preservation process and thank you for being an important part of keeping this knowledge alive and relevant
