

J.M.W. Turner
RAINY DAY
1828
Oil on paper, 18.5 x 14.5 cm
The painting shows a woman in a blue dress and hat sitting on a green sofa, reading a newspaper. The background is a mix of pink and blue tones, suggesting an indoor setting. The sofa has large green cushions with red floral patterns. The overall composition is simple and focuses on the figure and her activity.

Lydia Cassatt Reading The Morning Paper:

Lydia Cassat Reading the Morning Paper Harriet Scott Chessman, 2001-10-02 Harriet Scott Chessman takes us into the world of Mary Cassatt's early Impressionist paintings through Mary's sister Lydia whom the author sees as Cassatt's most inspiring muse Chessman hauntingly brings to life Paris in 1880 with its thriving art world The novel's subtle power rises out of a sustained inquiry into art's relation to the ragged world of desire and mortality Ill with Bright's disease and conscious of her approaching death Lydia contemplates her world narrowing With the rising emotional tension between the loving sisters between one who sees and one who is seen Lydia asks moving questions about love and art's capacity to remember Chessman illuminates Cassatt's brilliant paintings and creates a compelling portrait of the brave and memorable model who inhabits them with such grace Lydia Cassatt Reading the Morning Paper includes five full color plates the entire group of paintings Mary Cassatt made of her sister

Lydia Cassatt Harriet Scott Chessman, 2003 The year is 1878 Paris is the centre of the art world and in the heart of its thriving vibrant community live two sisters Mary and Lydia Cassatt One is at the peak of her career as the other reaches her moment of greatest frailty Lydia Cassatt is dying of Bright's disease Conscious of her approaching death she contemplates the narrowing of her world with courage openness and dignity But for Mary an independent ambitious painter life is unimaginable without her beloved sister Torn apart by the idea of losing Lydia Mary embarks on a series of five paintings And as the emotional tension between the sisters rises they become unable to avoid inevitable questions about love and passion about life and death Lyrical and tender Lydia Cassatt Reading the Morning Paper is a profoundly moving unsentimental and hugely life affirming story of the immortality which both love and art can bestow

William and Lucy Angela Thirlwell, 2003-01-01 The marriage of William Michael Rossetti 1829 1919 and Lucy Madox Brown 1843 1894 united two of the most resonant Pre Raphaelite family names Their passionate and ultimately tragic relationship described here for the first time provides a fresh perspective on nineteenth century marriage and on the private lives of eminent Victorians Sibling of Dante Gabriel and Christina Rossetti William was one of the original Pre Raphaelite Brothers a Bohemian radical author poet critic artist connoisseur biographer historian and taxman Lucy the intense intellectual daughter of Ford Madox Brown was an ambitious artist and biographer of Mary Shelley in spite of struggling with tuberculosis for nearly a decade Drawing on hundreds of previously unpublished sources and a wealth of new visual material including art by William Lucy and others of their circle and striking contemporary photographs the book follows William and Lucy through their separate professional careers marriage continental travels and Lucy's illness and death At the crossover between art history literary criticism social history and biography the book rewrites Pre Raphaelite history and brings to life two fascinating people who were both of their time and ahead of it Women Readers in French Painting 1870-1890

Kathryn J. Brown, 2012 The first monograph to examine the depiction of reading women in French art of the early Third Republic Women Readers in French Painting 1870-1890 evaluates the pictorial significance of this imagery its critical reception and its impact on nineteenth century notions of femininity and social relations Artists discussed in the volume range from Manet Cassatt and Degas to less familiar figures such as Lavieille Carrière Toulmouche and Tissot Our Bodies Are Selves Philip Hefner, 2015-12-31 Our Bodies Are Selves is a look at what it means to be human in a world where medical technology and emerging ethical insight force us to rethink the boundaries of humanity spirit and man machine This book gives us a fresh look at how our expanding biological views of ourselves and our shared evolutionary history shows us a picture that may not always illumine who and where we are as Christians Offering up Christian theological views of embodiment the authors give everyday examples of lives of love faith and bodily realities that offer the potential to create new definitions of what it means to be a faith community in an increasingly technological age of medicine Study Abroad:

Traditions and New Directions Miriam Fuchs, Sarita Rai, Yves Loiseau, 2019-03-01 Thanks to an increasingly interconnected global economy the role of study abroad in twenty first century education has expanded Student participation continues to grow as disciplinary offerings broaden meanwhile programs face persistent challenges to maximize access strengthen language learning and multicultural awareness reduce research bias ensure funding and maintain safety and security Designed as a resource for use in creating and conducting courses and programs overseas Study Abroad Traditions and New Directions presents a diverse picture of options for study abroad Contributors experiences teaching in Asia Africa Europe the Caribbean and Central America inform analyses of global trends recommendations for enhanced learning and course models that can be adapted for a variety of programs and locations Essays discuss current policies procedures and formats including language immersion interdisciplinary studies mentored research professional training abroad service learning and institutional partnerships The Ekphrastic Writer Janée J. Baugher, 2020-07-03 A common definition of ekphrasis is descriptive writing influenced by the visual arts Beyond the written word however responding to art can engender self reflection creativity and help writers to build characters plot and setting This book unites the history and tradition of ekphrasis its conventions the writing process and multi genre writing prompts In addition to subjects such as early art engagement psychology and the eye brain perception relationship this book discusses artists creative processes tools and techniques and offers instruction on how to read art by way of deep looking The Greater Journey David McCullough, 2011 New York Times bestselling two time Pulitzer Prize winning author McCullough presents the enthralling story of the American painters writers sculptors and doctors who journeyed to Paris between 1830 and 1900 and how they altered American history The Book That Changed My Life Roxanne J. Coady, Joy Johannessen, 2007-10-18 Now in paperback a delightful collection of essays on the transformative power of reading In The Book That Changed My Life our most admired writers doctors professors religious leaders politicians chefs and CEO s share the books that mean the most to them For Doris Kearns Goodwin it was Barbara Tuchman s The Guns of August which inspired her to enter a field history writing traditionally reserved for men For Jacques P pin it was The Myth of Sisyphus which taught him the importance of personal responsibility dignity and goodness in the midst of existentialist France A testament to the life altering importance of literature this book inspires us to return to old favorites and seek out new treasures All proceeds go to The Read to Grow Foundation which partners with urban hospitals to provide books and literacy information to newborns and their families

The Readers' Advisory Guide to Historical Fiction Jennifer S. Baker, 2015 Whether set in ancient Egypt Feudal Japan the Victorian Age or Civil War era America historical fiction places readers squarely at the center of fascinating times and places making it one of the most popular genres in contemporary publishing The definitive resource for librarians and other book professionals this guide Provides an overview of historical fiction s roots highlighting foundational classics and explores the genre in terms of its scope and style Covers the latest and most popular authors and titles Discusses appeal characteristics and shows how librarians can use a reader s favorite qualities to make suggestions Includes lists of recommendations with a compendium of print and web based resources Offers marketing tips for getting the word out to readers Emphasizing an appreciation of historical fiction in its many forms and focusing on what fans enjoy this guide provides a fresh take on a durable genre The Geography of God's Incarnation Ann Pederson, 2013-07-25 What does geography have to do with the incarnation of God and with our spiritual lives as Christians We will embark on a theological road trip that explores how geographies are at the heart of understanding of God s incarnation in the world It is no surprise to Christians that the center of the incarnation is the person of Jesus Christ God in flesh made manifest However it might be a stretch for some Christians to imagine that the promise that God has become flesh is not only in a person but also in a place in the creation Christians need to expand what incarnation means and what it means to be created in the image of God so that the scope of God s creative and redemptive action and work indeed reaches to the scope of all things from the outer reaches of space to the inner reaches of our hearts To be the creatures of God that God calls us to be requires a kind of dual citizenship within the details of our daily life attending to the needs of our neighbors simultaneously knowing we are part of a greater cosmos whose future is still unfolding

Ohio Angels Harriet Scott Chessman, 2002-10-01 Harriet Scott Chessman s Ohio Angels is an intimate and a lyrical story about friendship and family struggles Hallie a painter who now lives in Brooklyn returns to her family home in Ohio where she unearths a secret about her parents Her discovery sheds light on her mother s depression which shadowed her own childhood and helps her understand her own inability to have children In her hometown Hallie reconnects with a beloved childhood friend Rose who is now a writer and pregnant with her third child Chessman beautifully evokes the childhood memories of the two friends illuminating their very different lives As in Lydia Cassatt Reading the Morning Paper Chessman s compassionate and perceptive gaze reveals an entire new world for us one that is subtle alive and deeply honest Relational Designs in Literature and the Arts ,2012-01-01 This collection focuses on texts that address the other arts from painting to photography from the stage to the screen and from avant garde experiments to mass culture Despite their diversity of object and approach the essays in Relational Designs coalesce around the argument that representations are defined by relations and dynamics rather than intrinsic features This rationale is supported by the discourses and methodologies favoured by the book s contributors their approaches offer a cross section of the intellectual and critical environment of our time The book illustrates the critical possibilities that derive from the broad range of modes of inquiry poststructuralist criticism gender studies postcolonial studies new historicism that the book s four sections bring to bear on a wealth of intermedial practices But Relational Designs compounds such critical emphases with the voice of the practitioner the book is rounded off by an interview in which a contemporary novelist discusses her attraction to the other arts in terms that extend the book s insights and bridge the gap between academic discourse and artistic practice
