Programming Languages and Systems in Computational Economics and Finance Soren Bo Nielsen,2012-12-06 The developments within the computationally and numerically oriented areas of Operations Research Finance Statistics and Economics have been significant over the past few decades Each area has been developing its own computer systems and languages that suit its needs but there is relatively little cross fertilization among them yet This volume contains a collection of papers that each highlights a particular system language model or paradigm from one of the computational disciplines aimed at researchers and practitioners from the other fields The 15 papers cover a number of relevant topics Models and Modelling in Operations Research and Economics novel High level and Object Oriented approaches to programming through advanced uses of Maple and MATLAB and applications and solution of Differential Equations in Finance It is hoped that the material in this volume will whet the reader's appetite for discovering and exploring new approaches to old problems and in the longer run facilitate cross fertilization among the fields. We would like to thank the contributing authors, the reviewers, the publisher and last but not least Jesper Saxtorph, Anders Nielsen and Thomas Stidsen for invaluable technical assistance.

Evolutionary Economics: Program and Scope Kurt Dopfer, 2001-06-30. Eleven papers written by economists from Europe and the US address the paradigmatic foundations and basic theoretical propositions of economics. Contributions address foundational issues including an interpretive survey looking at the most important contributions of modern evolutionary economics and the ontological basis of evolutionary economics. Next, evolutionary macroeconomics is addressed, including issues relating to evolutionary macrostatics and evolutionary macrodynamics. Evolutionary microeconomics is next featured in essays addressing the dynamic aspects of an evolutionary microdynamics. Other topics include early signs of a revolution in microeconomics and the reconstruction of major evolutionary theories of the firm with relation to transaction and contract theories. c. Book News Inc. Public Administration Series--Bibliography, 1987.

Macroeconomics and Health Jeffrey Sachs, World Health Organization. Commission on Macroeconomics and Health, World Health Organization, 2001-12. Describes a strategy for investing in health for economic development especially in the world's poorest countries. The report proposes a partnership of developing and developed countries to save eight million lives yearly in developing countries from infectious diseases and maternal conditions.

The Economics of Green Growth Shunsuke Managi, 2015-06-05. The Economics of Green Growth investigates the possibility of creating an integrated indicator covering three pillars of sustainable development: economy, society and the environment. The excessive pursuit of economic efficiency has resulted in severe environmental problems such as climate change and biodiversity loss and societal human issues such as inequality and disparity. The book aims to change the direction of economic growth towards one which is more sustainable. It explores beyond the conventional indicator the GDP that measures economic growth and human well being. It also introduces new indicators relevant to sustainable development and a green economy and discusses the key issues for these indicators.
