challenge to always love and honor God with all your life I request that you not forget the poor that Jesus died for and that you carry on my ministry of Compassion Acts to the world Michal Ann Goll February 4 2008 Great Women of Faith

Nancy Hardesty,1980 Throughout history women have been at the forefront of church activity In Great Women of Faith Dr Nancy Hardesty details the strength and influence of Christian women since the early Christian era She documents the lives and activities of women from the ancient medieval Reformation and early American churches whose devotion and virtue caused them to assume leadership roles in the church Women such as Marcella and Paula fourth century Catherine of Siena fourteenth century Mary Fisk seventeenth century Phoebe Palmer Antoinette Brown Blackwell Catherine Booth nineteenth century and many others found God's grace sufficient and God's wisdom ample to meet any situation These women were mystics nuns community leaders social workers and missionaries dedicated to education evangelism and social justice

How to Start and Sustain a Faith-Based Women's Spirituality Group Patricia D. Brown,2010-10-01 This book will be a resource for those who are interested in starting and sustaining a faith based small group for women It will include tools for organizing creating and sustaining the group which the author calls a circle The book invites women to develop their spiritual side and to model their relationship with God as they envision ever new ways to inspire encourage and affirm one another Deviating Voices Sydney Wayne Jackman,2003 The strongest voices in Christian history regarding the place of women in religious and secular society gave them only a very limited role but there have always been those who disagreed with that view and with much other church orthodoxy Often reviled by the Church many of these women nevertheless had significant influence in their times Some of them were considered to be heretics unsurprisingly since they made great claims for themselves and their written and spoken words Maximilla a Montanist announced that After me there will be no further prophets while Joanna Southcott later claimed to be The Greatest Prophet that ever came into the world As this demonstrates they did not speak with a single voice but included Montanists Jansenists Pelagians Antinomians Spiritualists and Theosophists as well as Saints This book describes the lives of twelve such women outlining their beliefs their attempts to make themselves heard their clashes with the spiritual authorities the influence they achieved and the legacies they left behind Elizabeth Barton Teresa Sanchez de Cepeda y Ahumada Jeanne Marie Guyon Selina Countess of Huntingdon Ann Lee Joanna Southcott Barbara Juliana Baroness De Krudener Lydia Sellon Mary Baker Eddy Helena Petrovna Blavatsky Ethel Cecilia Dodd Aimee Semple Macpherson Some of these women saw themselves as reformers others as revolutionaries some saw their mission as lying within the Church others broke with established religion completely What they had in common was that each of them had a vision some literally others in a more figurative sense None of them had any doubts as to the rightness of the mission to which they were called While some of the opprobrium that they attracted from the ecclesiastical authorities related to their heterodox opinions it is clear that had they been men their ideas might well have found more support and their activities greater approbation Everyone who has an interest in Christian history and in women in the church as well as in men's reaction to them will want to read this book

Pleasant memories: a woman's thoughts and life-work John Baillie, 1878 Great Women of the Christian Faith Edith Deen, 1959 Women and Stress Jean Lush, Pam Vredevelt, 2011-11-01 This popular book shows readers how to deal with stress that is unique to women in healthy productive ways It examines troublesome emotions and shows how to manage tension with practical tried and true methods gained from research personal experience and enlightening case studies Autobiography of Madame Guyon Madame Guyon, 2006-10-01 Madame Guyon in her autobiography records her spiritual journey from a vain beauty to become a true disciple of God The descriptions of how she shared her faith in a culture that was not tolerant to women having an outward influence on society or any voice in religion It gives hope to many who feel that they cannot share their faith in society

Light for My Path for Women , 2013-09-01 What does God say about guilt What about hope or forgiveness or lust His guidance on these issues and more are covered in Light for My Path for Women This wonderful book is full of God's words on more than sixty topics arranged alphabetically that provide real and powerful promises from the Creator of the universe Light for My Path for Women offers readers true refreshment for the spirit and a renewed sense of God's commitment to His children This deluxe makes a perfect gift for yourself or a friend Naked Faith Elaine A Heath, 2010-08-27 Phoebe Palmer's honour was lost posthumously for within a few decades after her death her name all but disappeared Palmer's sanctification theology was separated from its apophatic spiritual moorings even as her memory was lost To this day the Mother of the Holiness Movement still awaits her place of recognition as a Christian mystic equal to Catherine of Siena Teresa of Avila or Therese of Lisieux This book locates Palmer's life and thought within the great Christian mystical traditions identifying her importance within Methodism and the church universal It also presents a Wesleyan theological framework for understanding and valuing Christian mysticism while connecting it with the larger mystical traditions in Catholic Anglican and Orthodox communions While Palmer was a powerful revivalist in her own day in many ways she could be the patron saint for contemporary Methodists who are drawn to the new monasticism and who long for the renewal of the church Saint Phoebe is precisely the one who can help Methodists envision new forms of Christian community mission and witness in a postmodern world

Publishing Women's Life Stories in France, 1647-1720 Elizabeth C. Goldsmith, 2017-03-02 In this new study Elizabeth Goldsmith continues her pursuit of issues treated in her earlier books on conversation epistolary writing and the female voice in literature She examines how French women in the seventeenth and early eighteenth centuries first came to publish their private life stories in doing so she explores what the writers have to say about why they decide to write about themselves what they choose to write how they get their stories circulated and printed and what they do to defend themselves against the threat to personal reputation and credibility that was implied by such public self exposure Goldsmith scrutinizes the autobiographical writing of six women all of whom were for different reasons the objects of fairly intense publicity during their lifetime at the historical moment when the idea of publicity via the printed word was still a new concept

Three of the women Jeanne des Anges Marie de l'Incarnation and Jeanne Guyon were charismatic religious figures whose writings were widely circulated. The other three writers the sisters Hortense and Marie Mancini and Madame de Villedieu are more worldly but like their spiritual counterparts they undertook self publication as a form of conversation with the world and a way of participating in other forms of public discourse. Publishing Women's Life Stories in France 1647-1720 considers the different forms that the life writing of these three women took: autobiographies, letter correspondences which in four of the six cases have never before been published, trial transcripts, testimonials published as part of other authors' works, and written self portraits that were circulated among friends. Drawing on the work of Michel de Certeau on voice and communities of readers in the 17th century as well as the work of Roger Chartier and other historians of the book and print culture, Goldsmith retraces the complicated networks of human interaction that underlie these early works. The Good Fight of Faith Edward King Elliott, 1877

Woman Remove Thy Veil Barbara Cassada, 2002-06 Facing head on the controversies of women's roles in ministry, Cassada herself a full time minister, challenges the long held traditional theologies that have kept women from entering into the fullness of their calling. Facts that Call for Faith David Gregg, 1898

How They Kept the Faith Grace Raymond, 1895 How They Kept the Faith Annie Raymond Stillman, 1889
