Gordon B. Corbet, 1978 The Mammals of the Palaearctic Region Gordon Barclay Corbet, 1984 Mammals of the Palaearctic Region, 1984 The Mammals of the Palaearctic Region Gordon Barclay Corbet, 1980 The Mammals of the Palaearctic Region G.B. Corbet, 1980 A Guide to the Mammals of China Andrew T. Smith, Yan Xie, Robert S. Hoffmann, Darrin Lunde, John MacKinnon, Don E. Wilson, W. Chris Wozencraft, 2010-04-23 China's stunning diversity of natural habitats from parched deserts to lush tropical forests is home to more than 10 percent of the world's mammal species. A Guide to the Mammals of China is the most comprehensive guide to all 556 species of mammals found in China. It is the only single volume reference of its kind to fully describe the physical characteristics, geographic distribution, natural history, and conservation status of every species. An up-to-date distribution map accompanies each species account, and color plates illustrate a majority of species. Written by a team of leading specialists including Professor Wang Sung, who provides a history of Chinese mammalogy, A Guide to the Mammals of China is the ideal reference for researchers and a delight for anyone interested in China's rich mammal fauna. The definitive comprehensive up-to-date guide to all of China's 556 mammal species. High quality color plates accompany the detailed text. Each species account comes with a distribution map. Organized taxonomically for easy reference. Includes an extensive bibliography. Field Guide to Mammals of Europe, North Africa and the Middle East Stephane Aulagnier, Patrick Haffner, A.J. Mitchell-Jones, Francois Moutou, Jan Zima, 2025-01-16 An excellent useful guide. BBC Wildlife. Fully revised and updated, this major work presents all species that occur in the Western Palearctic, serving as the perfect field guide to the great diversity of mammals in the region. This new edition presents 86 new species, including 40 cetaceans, and reports on the latest scientific advances and taxonomic changes. Species accounts are concise and authoritative, giving information on size, distribution, habitat, behaviour, reproduction, and feeding. Each account is supported by distribution maps and superb colour illustrations. The book features over 125 plates comprising more than 650 colour species artworks. Variation between the sexes is illustrated, and anatomical diagrams, including tooth arrays, are provided to assist identification. Field Guide to Mammals of Europe, North Africa and the Middle East is the only guide you'll need to identify any mammal across this vast and diverse region. Taxonomy of Australian Mammals Stephen Matthew Jackson, Stephen Jackson, Colin Groves, 2015-06-16 Taxonomy of Australian Mammals utilises the latest morphometric and genetic research to develop the most up-to-date and comprehensive revision of the taxonomy of Australian mammals undertaken to date. It proposes significant changes to the higher ranks of a number of groups and recognises several genera and species that have only very recently been identified as distinct. This easy-to-use reference also includes a complete listing of all species, subspecies, and synonyms for all of Australia's mammals, both native and introduced, as well as terrestrial and marine. This book lays a foundation for future taxonomic work and identifies areas where taxonomic studies

Environments Daniel J. Harrison, Angela K. Fuller, Gilbert Proulx, 2006-02-28 Martens and Fishers Martes in Human Altered Environments An International Perspective examines the conditions where humans and martens are compatible and incompatible and promotes land use practices that allow Martes to be representatively distributed and viable All Martes have been documented to use forested habitats and 6 species excluding the stone marten are generally considered to require complex mid to late successional forests throughout much of their geographic ranges All species in the genus require complex horizontal and vertical structure to provide escape cover protection from predators habitat for their prey access to food resources and protection from the elements Martens and the fisher have high metabolic rates have large spatial requirements have high surface area to volume ratios for animals that often inhabit high latitudes and often require among the largest home range areas per unit body weight of any group of mammals Resulting from these unique life history characteristics this genus is particularly sensitive to human influences on their habitats including habitat loss stand scale simplification of forest structure via some forms of logging and landscape scale effects of habitat fragmentation Given their strong associations with structural complexity in forests martens and the fisher are often considered as useful barometers of forest health and have been used as ecological indicators flagship and umbrella species in different parts of the world Thus efforts to successfully conserve and manage martens and fishers are associated with the ecological fates of other forest dependent species and can greatly influence ecosystem integrity within forests that are increasingly shared among wildlife and humans We have made great strides in our fundamental understanding of how animals with these unique life history traits perceive and utilize habitats respond to habitat change and how their populations function and perform under different forms of human management and mismanagement This knowledge enhances our basic understanding of all species of Martes and will help us to achieve the goal of conserving viable populations and representative distributions of the world's Martes their habitats and associated ecological communities in our new millennium The Biology and Conservation of Wild
