Domestic Violence in Victorian and Edwardian Fiction Jina Moon, 2016-04-26 This book opens the curtain on the crucial role played by Victorian and Edwardian novelists in changing views of domestic violence Examining the mechanisms of domestic violence through the historical lenses of the law crime and economics this study illuminates these novelists depictions of wife battering including scenes in which women witness their children being beaten or children witness their mothers beatings This book also shows how these representations interacted with changing paradigms of masculinity and femininity at the time Extending from the decades before the 1857 Divorce Act to the Suffrage era the book details the changing circumstances of conjugal violence and divorce in England William Makepeace Thackeray's The Memoirs of Barry Lyndon Esq 1844 and Caroline Norton's Stuart of Dunleath A Story of Modern Times 1851 expose the impact of class on reactions to domestic violence Wilkie Collins's The Law and the Lady 1875 and Ouida's Marie Louise de la Ram Moths 1880 depict proto New Women figures who resist domestic violence while traditional wife figures continue to fall victim In Mona Caird's The Wing of Azrael 1889 and Sir Arthur Conan Doyle's The Hound of the Baskervilles 1902 and The Adventure of the Abbey Grange 1904 protagonists exact their own justice on perpetrators of domestic violence By the Edwardian period it was clear that legislation alone could not solve the problems of domestic violence Constance Maud's No Surrender 1911 adroitly links wife battering with public violence against suffragettes exposing the underlying British socio cultural system that maintained women's subordination

Constructs of "home" in Gloria Naylor's Quartet Claudia Drieling, 2011 Psychoanalysis, Culture & Society, 2008 The Political in Margaret Atwood's Fiction Theodore F. Sheckels, 2016-02-24 Suggesting that politics and power are at the center of Margaret Atwood's fiction Theodore F Sheckels examines Atwood's novels from The Edible Woman to The Year of the Flood Whether her treatment is explicit as in Bodily Harm and The Handmaid's Tale or by means of an exploration of interiority as in Cat's Eye and The Robber Bride Atwood's persistent concern is with how the empowered act towards those who are constrained within the political economic and social institutions that facilitate power dynamics Sheckels identifies an increasing sophistication in Atwood's exposition of power over time that is revealed in the later novels engagement with social class postcolonialism and a globalism that merges science and commerce as issues relevant to politics and power Acknowledging that Atwood is not a political theorist but a novelist Sheckels does not suggest that her work should be viewed as political commentary but rather as a creative treatment of the laudable but ultimately only partially successful ways in which women and other groups resist the constraints placed on them by institutionalized oppression Report for the Year ... Jane Austen Society, 2000

Embodied Shame J. Brooks Bouson, 2010-07-02 How does physical emotional and sexual abuse shape women's perceptions of their bodies and identities How are women's psyches affected by the sexual racial and cultural denigration that occurs when women's bodies are represented as defective spoiled damaged or dirtied Embodied Shame skillfully explores these questions in the context of recent writings by North American women contributing to work in shame theory and to feminist analyses of the intersections of theories of the body affect emotions narrative and trauma By examining popular contemporary fictional and nonfictional texts including Alice Munro's Lives of Girls and Women Dorothy Allison's Bastard Out of Carolina Toni Morrison's The Bluest Eye Edwidge Danticat's Breath Eyes Memory and Lucy Grealy's Autobiography of a Face J Brooks Bouson illuminates how deeply entrenched bodily shame continues to operate in contemporary culture even as we celebrate the supposed freeing of the female body from the social and cultural constraints that have long bound it Melancholic Migrating Bodies in Contemporary Polish Women's Writing Urszula

Chowaniec, 2015-10-13 Reading contemporary women's writing as melancholy texts highlights their often under explored neuralgic nature and emancipatory value These strangers in their own lands as most recent Polish women writers and their work were described are the subject of detailed analysis in this book and are also positioned as the mirrors in which those lands are reflected From this perspective the melancholic strands in women's writing are drawn together to provide a diagnosis of the current situation in Poland taking into account unwanted discourses unwelcomed subjects and unresolved problems Melancholic Migrating Bodies offers the first systematic overview of Poland's literary and cultural environment after 1989 from the perspective of women's writing It critically surveys the various political and social transformations of this period through a close reading of the foremost Polish female novelists In this original way the book adopts a fresh perspective on some of the country's key questions such as Catholicism nationalism the patriotic ethos history romantic mythology and the problem of memory Reimagining Advocacy Elizabeth C. Britt, 2018-05-17 Domestic violence accounts for approximately one fifth of all violent crime in the United States and is among the most difficult issues confronting professionals in the legal and criminal justice systems In this volume Elizabeth Britt argues that learning embodied advocacy a practice that results from an expanded understanding of expertise based on lived experience and adopting it in legal settings can directly and tangibly help victims of abuse Focusing on clinical legal education at the Domestic Violence Institute at the Northeastern University School of Law Britt takes a case study approach to illuminate how challenging the context aims and forms of advocacy traditionally embraced in the U S legal system produces better support for victims of domestic violence She analyzes a wide range of materials and practices including the pedagogy of law school training programs interviews with advocates and narratives written by students in the emergency department and looks closely at the forms of rhetorical education through which students assimilate advocacy practices By examining how students learn to listen actively to clients and to recognize that clients have the right and ability to make decisions for themselves Britt shows that rhetorical education can succeed in producing legal professionals with the inclination and capacity to engage others whose values and experiences diverge from their own By investigating the deep relationship between legal education and rhetorical education Reimagining Advocacy calls for conversations and action that will improve advocacy for others especially for victims of domestic violence seeking assistance from legal professionals

British Romanticism and the Science of the Mind Alan Richardson, 2001-07-26 In this provocative and original study Alan Richardson examines an entire range of intellectual cultural and ideological points of contact between British Romantic literary writing and the pioneering brain science of the time Richardson breaks new ground in two fields revealing a significant and undervalued facet of British Romanticism while demonstrating the Romantic character of early neuroscience Crucial notions like the active mind organicism the unconscious the fragmented subject instinct and intuition arising simultaneously within the literature and psychology of the era take on unsuspected valences that transform conventional accounts of Romantic cultural history Neglected issues like the corporeality of mind the role of non linguistic communication and the peculiarly Romantic understanding of cultural universals are reopened in discussions that bring new light to bear on long standing critical puzzles from Coleridge s suppression of Kubla Khan to Wordsworth s perplexing theory of poetic language to Austen s interest in head injury

Risking Difference Jean Wyatt, 2012-02-01 Risking Difference revises the dynamics of multicultural feminist community by exploring the ways that identification creates misrecognitions and misunderstandings between individuals and within communities Drawing on Lacanian psychoanalysis Jean Wyatt argues not only that individual psychic processes of identification influence social dynamics but also that social discourses of race class and culture shape individual identifications In addition to examining fictional narratives by Margaret Atwood Angela Carter Sandra Cisneros Toni Morrison and others Wyatt also looks at nonfictional accounts of cross race relations by white feminists and feminists of color

Gender and Governance Lisa D. Brush, 2003-07-28 States are where the power lies and power is gendered With these simple statements Lisa Brush turns a gendered lens on states power and governance showing the inherent inequalities in political systems and gender systems and how they intersect Her gender lens allows a clear assessment of the different effects state power and social policies have on men and women highlighting both difference and dominance in the governance of gender She then turns her eye on the way in which state power supports male dominance the gender of governance Her nuanced arguments supported by cases from the American and other western political systems will make this book a useful antidote to traditional textbooks on government the state politics and social policy Subject Guide to Books in Print ,2001 Hard Knocks Janice Haaken,2010-06-10 This book draws on interviews carried out over a period of eight years as well as novels films and domestic violence literature to explain the role of storytelling in the history of the battered women s movement The author shows how cultural contexts shape how stories about domestic abuse get told and offers critical tools for bringing psychology into discussions of group dynamics in the domestic violence field The book enlists psychoanalytic feminist theory to analyse storytelling practices and to re visit four areas of tension in the movement where signs of battle fatigue have been most acute These areas include the conflicts that emerge between the battered women s movement and the state the complex relationship between domestic violence and other social problems and the question of whether woman battering is a special case that differs from other forms of social violence The volume also looks at the tensions between groups of women within the movement and how to address differences based on race class or other dimensions of power Finally the book explores the contentious issue of how to acknowledge forms of female aggression while still preserving a gender analysis of intimate partner violence In attending to narrative dynamics in the history of domestic violence work Hard Knocks presents a radical re reading of the contribution of psychology to feminist interventions and activism The book is ideal reading for scholars activists advocates and policy planners involved in domestic violence and is suitable for students of psychology social work sociology and criminology Lacan in America Jean-Michel Rabate,2020-09-08 This interdisciplinary compilation of essays is a welcome tonic for the jet lag or cultural gap between Lacanian discourse s warm reception in Latin countries and the resistance Lacanian clinical applications have met with in the Anglophone world Lacan in America illuminates important and dynamic debates within a cultural context that Lacan himself has modified Rather than a made simple approach this dynamic collection invokes some of the hesitations contradictions and evolutions that appear to be the most exciting part of his legacy in polylogical discussions by Lacanians who are not averse to a critical reexamination of major concepts or textual and political issues Topics include a regressive sexual science and a postmodern condition technological mediation through seduction and resistance the partisan issues beneath some of the resistances met by Lacanian discourse and Lacan s revelations as responses to Freudian riddles Demonstrating the vitality of Lacanian thought and its impact on disciplines from mathematics to gay lesbian studies Lacan in America works to edify the fruit of Lacan s endless revision an infinitely propagated transfiguration of his search for the meanings of truth Lucid and nonpartisan this collection successfully takes the ideas and issues at the heart of Lacan's work and legacy and reinspects them through the lens offered by their transportation across the Atlantic illustrating what has happened to them in their translation and mistranslation into and through American intellectual and cultural life Daniel Gunn Department of Comparative Literature and English The American University of Paris Kristeva's Fiction Benigno Trigo, 2013-11-01 Psychoanalytic perspectives on Kristeva's fiction A Concise Companion to Psychoanalysis, Literature, and Culture Laura Marcus, Ankhi Mukherjee, 2014-03-31 This concise companion explores the history of psychoanalytic theory and its impact on contemporary literary criticism by tracing its movement across disciplinary and cultural boundaries Contains original essays by leading scholars using a wide range of cultural and historical approaches Discusses key concepts in psychoanalysis such as the role of dreaming psychosexuality the unconscious and the figure of the double while considering questions of gender race asylum and international law queer theory time and memory Spans the fields of psychoanalysis literature cultural theory feminist and gender studies translation studies and film Provides a timely and pertinent assessment of current psychoanalytic methods while also sketching out future directions for theory and interpretation Lacan and Contemporary Film Todd McGowan, 2020-09-08 This unique volume collects a series of essays that link new developments in Lacanian psychoanalytic theory and recent trends in contemporary cinema Though Lacanian theory has long had a privileged place in the analysis of film film theory has tended to ignore some of Lacan's most important ideas As a result Lacanian film theory has never properly integrated the disruptive and troubling aspects of the filmic experience that result from the encounter with the Real that this experience makes possible Many contemporary theorists emphasize the importance of the encounter with the Real in Lacan's thought but rarely in discussions of film By bringing the encounter with the Real into the dialogue of film theory the contributors to this volume present a new version of Lacan to the world of film studies These essays bring this rediscovered Lacan to bear on contemporary cinema through analysis of a wide variety of films including Memento Eyes Wide Shut Breaking the Waves and Fight Club The films discussed here demand a turn to Lacanian theory because they emphasize the disruptive role of the Real and of jouissance in the experience of the human subject There is a growing number of films in contemporary cinema that speak to film's power to challenge and disturb the complacency of spectators and the essays in Lacan and Contemporary Film analyze some of these films and bring their power to light Because of its dual focus on developments in Lacanian theory and in contemporary film this collection serves as both an accessible introduction to current Lacanian film theory and an introduction to the study of contemporary cinema Each essay provides an accessible jargon free analysis of one or more important films and at the same time each explains and utilizes key concepts of Lacanian theory The collection stages an encounter between Lacanian theory and contemporary cinema and the result is the enrichment of both
