

MYTHS

Myths are traditional narratives that often involve gods, heroes, and supernatural beings, explaining the origins of the world, natural phenomena, and human behavior.

OVERVIEW

Myths are deeply rooted in cultural and religious beliefs, shaping the collective identity and values of a society. Myths serve as a means of understanding and interpreting the world, conveying moral lessons, and providing a framework for societal norms and rituals. They tend to vary across cultures and may contain elements of both fact and fiction.

EXAMPLE

Pandora's Box: In Greek mythology, Pandora, the first woman on earth, was given a box by Zeus, but was instructed never to open it. Overcome by curiosity, Pandora finally opened the box, inadvertently releasing all manner of evils, diseases, and pain into the world. The only thing left inside was Hope, symbolizing humanity's solace in the face of adversity.

together 15 articles divided into four sections on the role of nationalism in transitions to democracy the application of theory to country case studies and the role played by history and myths in the forging of national identities and nationalisms The book develops new theories and frameworks through engaging with leading scholars of nationalism Hans Kohn's propositions are discussed in relation to the applicability of the term civic with no ethno cultural connotations to liberal democracies Rogers Brubaker over the usefulness of dividing European states into civic and nationalizing states when the former have historically been nationalizers Will Kymlicka on the applicability of multiculturalism to post communist states and Paul Robert Magocsi on the lack of data to support claims of revivals by national minorities in Ukraine The book also engages with transitology over the usefulness of comparative studies of transitions in regions that underwent only political reforms and those that had quadruple transitions implying simultaneous democratic and market reforms as well as state and nation building A comparative study of Serbian and Russian diasporas focuses on why ethnic Serbs and Russians living outside Serbia and Russia reacted differently to the disintegration of Yugoslavia and the USSR The book dissects the writing of Russian and Soviet history that continues to utilize imperial frameworks of history analyzes the re writing of Ukrainian history within post colonial theories and discusses the forging of Ukraine's identity within theories of Others as central to the shaping of identities The collection of articles proposes a new framework for the study of Ukrainian nationalism as a broader research phenomenon by placing nationalism in Ukraine within a theoretical and comparative perspective

Focus: Music, Nationalism, and the Making of the New Europe Philip V. Bohlman, 2010-09-13 Two decades after the fall of communism in Eastern Europe and one decade into the twenty first century European music remains one of the most powerful forces for shaping nationalism Using intensive fieldwork throughout Europe from participation in alpine foot pilgrimages to studies of the grandest music spectacle anywhere in the world the Eurovision Song Contest Philip V Bohlman reveals the ways in which music and nationalism intersect in the shaping of the New Europe Focus Music Nationalism and the Making of the New Europe begins with the emergence of the European nation state in the Middle Ages and extends across long periods during which Europe's nations used music to compete for land and language and to expand the colonial reach of Europe to the entire world Bohlman contrasts the national and the nationalist in music examining the ways in which their impact on society can be positive and negative beneficial for European cultural policy and dangerous in times when many European borders are more fragile than ever The New Europe of the twenty first century is more varied more complex and more politically volatile than ever and its music resonates fully with these transformations gained its independence and started on a path towards a free market economy and democratic governance After four successive presidents and the Orange Revolution the question of exactly which national model Ukraine should embrace remains an open question Constructing the Narratives of Identity and Power provides a comprehensive outlook on Ukraine as it is presented through the views of intellectual and political elites Based on extensive field work in Ukraine Karina V Korostelina describes the complex process of nation building Despite the prevailing belief in a divide between two parts of Ukraine and an overwhelming variety of incompatible visions Korostelina reveals seven prevailing conceptual models of Ukraine and five dominant narratives of national identity Constructing the Narratives of Identity and Power analyzes the practice of national self imagination Karina V Korostelina puts forward a structural functional model of national narratives that describes three major components dualistic order mythic narratives and normative order and two main functions of national narratives the development of the meaning of national identity and the legitimization of power Korostelina describes the differences and conflicting elements of the national narratives that constitute the contested arena of nation building in Ukraine

National Myths in Greece Hercules Millas, 2023-01-01 The national myths and the efforts to refute them are reliable sources in obtaining a holistic picture of a modern society My starting point which was to present the national myths in Modern Greece turned into questioning our human capacity to live in a world distant from myths A myth may mean from a false story to a philosophical metaphor and form a lie to a unifying social story Myths are so widespread that one suspects that they constitute the norm of human existence The whole endeavour is related to the construction of modern social identities and to the national perceptions vis vis the self and the Other The case of Greece illuminates drives that may be encountered in all present day societies One may read this book as a guide to get in acquaintance the Greeks as well The questions posed in this study are more numerous than the reached conclusions For example an unanswered but meaningful question is the following The grownups create stories that differ from the stories of children but still stories that by others may be evaluated as myths What is the difference between the belief in going to the moon riding a broom to meet a prince and the conviction of going to heaven accompanied by an angel to meet a god
