Holton, Richard A. Swanson, 2005 This much acclaimed text has been fully updated to incorporate the latest advances in the field As leading authorities on adult education and training Elwood Holton and Dick Swanson have revised this edition building on the work of the late Malcolm Knowles Keeping to the practical format of the last edition this book is divided into three parts The first part contains the classic chapters that describe the roots and principles of andragogy including a new chapter which presents Knowles program planning model The second part focuses on the advancements in adult learning with each chapter fully revised updated incorporating a major expansion of Andragogy in Practice The last part of the book will contain an updated selection of topical readings that advance the theory and will include the HRD style inventory developed by Dr Knowles This new edition is essential reading for adult learning practitioners and students and HRD professionals It provides a theoretical framework for understanding the adult learning issues both in the teaching and workplace environments Provides a theoretical framework for understanding adult learning issues both in teaching and workplace environments Essential reading for a wide audience of practitioners and students in the field of adult learning and human resource development Incorporates Knowles classic theories on adult learning alongside the latest advances in the field International Encyclopedia of Adult Education L. English, 2016-04-30 The Encyclopedia of Adult Education is the first comprehensive reference work in this important and fast growing field and is an invaluable resource for adult educators who research and teach in the fields of higher education work in community based settings or practise in public or private organizations Its 170 articles written by an international team of contributors from over 17 countries detail the research and practice of the field from its emergence as a separate discipline to the present day covering key concepts issues and individuals and providing a cutting edge summary of ongoing debates across a wide range of perspectives from self directed learning to human resource development Entries are arranged A Z and extensive cross referenced with detailed bibliographies for each topic to facilitate further research Resources in Education ,1995 Bulletin Du Bureau International D'éducation ,1989

Computer-Supported Collaborative Learning in Higher Education Roberts, Tim S.,2004-09-30 This book addresses computer supported collaborative learning also known as CSCL particularly within a tertiary education environment It includes articles on theory and practice in this area including topics such as how can groups with shared goals work collaboratively using the new technologies What problems can be expected and what are the benefits In what ways does online group work differ from face to face group work And what implications are there for both educators and students seeking to work in this area Patterns of Learning Cyril Orvin Houle,1984-05-01 Patterns of Living Cyril O. Houle,1984

Third Age Learners of Foreign Languages Danuta Gabrys-Barker,2017-12-18 People are increasingly reaching the so called third age a period when seniors search for a renewed purpose to life and spend time undertaking activities that they consider motivating such as the learning of a foreign language The study of language learning among aging populations has become a fast growing area of research and this book is one of the first attempts to bring together what we know about this age group and their profiles as foreign language learners Contributors to the volume discuss the issue from various psychological neurological and pedagogical perspectives Each of the chapters provides an updated theoretical background and offers some initial conclusions on the basis of original empirical studies carried out Chapters challenge certain familiar preconceptions and assumptions about senior learners offer the reader ideas for future research in this under studied area and provide some practical advice for applying the proposals and solutions offered in real foreign language third age classrooms Issues in Web-Based Pedagogy Robert A. Cole,2000-06-30 There has been an explosion of Web based courses in higher education Aiming at an interdisciplinary audience the contributors draw upon diverse philosophical and empirical backgrounds to make claims about Web based pedagogy Among the points they raise is the concern that education is more easily commodified through Internet technologies implying that traditional faculty roles in teaching and research are at risk Moreover current understandings of what it means to be a teacher or a student are undergoing redefinition as a result of these new distance learning technologies The contributors note that Web based pedagogy is associated with sound instruction when particular strategies are adopted As a corollary this form of teaching is least effective when attempts are made to directly translate traditional styles of teaching Political social and economic interests are competing to shape the direction that online education will take The authors argue that opportunities exist for administrators and faculty to define the terms under which Web based learning will occur in their institutions
