Region In Transition:

Metropolis Region Transition Beverly Duncan, Stanley Lieberman, 1970-08 Bulletin, 1917 Regional Energy Transitions in Australia Gareth A. S. Edwards, John Wiseman, Amanda Cahill, 2024-12-03 This book provides an accessible and critical appraisal of Australia's regional energy transition initiatives. The book begins by situating Australian energy transition in the context of Australian and international debates about climate change and energy transition. It then explores how energy transition planning was made possible in Australia's regional energy heartlands even while public transition planning was impossible. The authors consider five case studies of key early transition initiatives in the Latrobe Valley, Victoria, Hunter Valley, NSW Central, Queensland, Queensland Port Augusta, South Australia, and Collie, Western Australia. They explore how transition came onto the agenda and outline the key actors, decision points, and actions. The authors critically assess the successes and failures of each initiative, drawing out key learnings for other regions. The book concludes by evaluating the key cross-cutting themes emerging from the five case studies and draws out the lessons they teach about how to achieve a just transition. This concise book will be of great interest to students and scholars of energy transitions, climate action, social justice, economic renewal, and regional transition challenges and strategies both in Australia and overseas.

Rheology and Processing of Polymeric Materials Chang Dae Han, 2007-05-16 Volume 1 presents first fundamental principles of the rheology of polymeric fluid, including kinematics and stresses of a deformable body, the continuum theory for the viscoelasticity of flexible homogeneous polymeric liquids, the molecular theory for the viscoelasticity of flexible homogeneous polymeric liquids, and the experimental methods for the measurement of the rheological properties of polymeric liquids. The materials presented are intended to set a stage for the subsequent chapters by introducing the basic concepts and principles of rheology from both phenomenological and molecular perspectives of structurally simple flexible and homogeneous polymeric liquids. Next, this volume presents the rheological behavior of structurally complex polymeric materials, including miscible polymer blends, block copolymers, liquid crystalline polymers, thermoplastic polyurethanes, immiscible polymer blends, particulate-filled polymers, organoclay nanocomposites, molten polymers with dissolved gas, and thermosets.

Surface Phenomena and Latexes in Waterborne Coatings and Printing Technology Mahendra K. Sharma, 1995-09-30 The current state of waterborne polymers, paints, coatings, inks, and printing technology is presented in the 16 papers addressed both to people who formulate and process them and people who use them. The topics include colloidal pigment dispersion for corrugated board, solid determination in the latex and latex-based coatings, the dynamic wetting of water-based inks in flexographic and gravure printing, and the three-dimensional characterization of active surfactants. The symposium was held in conjunction with an annual meeting of the Fine Particle Society. Annotation.
