Regional Policy and Planning in Europe explores the ways regional policy and planning systems across Europe have been influenced by economic and monetary union the impending enlargement of the European Union the devolution of administrative power from central government to regional authorities the increased importance of environmental and urban issues Presenting a comprehensive overview of the economic basis of integration this book examines the evolution of various systems of government planning and forms of devolution Regional Policy and Planning for Europe Morgan Sant, 1974 Monograph of conference papers on theoretical issues objectives institutional frameworks and economic policies for regional planning in the UK and in EC countries includes industrial policies urbanization political systems labour markets and the role of central governments and EC mechanisms Conference held in Norwich 1973 September Spatial Planning Systems and Practices in Europe Mario Reimer, Panagiotis Getimis, Hans Blotevogel, 2014-02-05 Ideal for students and practitioners working in spatial planning the Europeanization of planning agendas and regional policy in general Spatial Planning Systems and Practices in Europe develops a systematic methodological framework to analyze changes in planning systems throughout Europe The main aim of the book is to delineate the coexistence of continuity and change and of convergence and divergence with regard to planning practices across Europe Based on the work of experts on spatial planning from twelve European countries the authors underline the specific and context dependent variety and disparateness of planning transformation focusing on the main objectives of the changes the driving forces behind them and the main phases and turning points the main agenda setting actors and the different planning modes and tools reflected in the different policy and planning styles Along with a methodological framework the book includes twelve country case studies and the comparative conclusions covering a variety of planning systems of EU member states According to the four ideal types of planning systems identified in the EU Compendium at least two countries have been selected from each of the four different planning traditions regional economic France Germany Urbanism Greece Italy comprehensive integrated Denmark Finland Netherlands Germany land use planning UK Czech Republic Belgium Flanders along with two additional case studies focusing on the recent developments in eastern European countries by looking at Poland and in southern Europe looking at Turkey Impacts of European Territorial Policies in the Baltic States Garri Raagmaa, Dominic Stead, 2017-10-02 Urban and regional development in the Baltic States and other Central and Eastern European countries has experienced rapid changes since their re independence at the beginning of the 1990s Meanwhile urban and regional planning institutions and organizational cultures in the Baltic States have only changed rather incrementally despite various national and European pressures for reform As a consequence the effects of European cohesion and structural policy measures have been quite modest and the ability of the planning systems in the Baltic states to manage contemporary trends in urban and regional development has become increasingly limited This book focuses on these issues and tensions of spatial planning and development in the Baltic States and their distinctiveness compared to other European countries It provides an overview of the historical and cultural context of spatial development a discussion of the processes of Europeanization of spatial planning in the specific context of the Baltic States and an analysis of whether these processes may be leading to policy convergence in the region This book was published as a special issue of European Planning Studies European Regional Planning Strategy Nicolas Momper, Council of Europe, European Conference of Ministers Responsible for Regional Planning, 1992-01-01 1 folded map col in back plastic pocket

Regional Development and Spatial Planning in an Enlarged European Union Neil Adams, 2016-04-01 The expansion of the European Union in 2004 has had significant consequences for both existing and new members of the Union New member states are assimilating into a new institutional and policy framework while the changing geography of Europe provides a different context for policy development in pre 2004 member states One of the more important fields in which these changes are impacting is regional development The admission of the new countries changes patterns of economic and social disparities across the territory of the European Union which in turn demands that existing approaches to regional development are reconsidered An approach which has proved to be one of the most innovative is spatial planning This book brings together a team of academics and policy makers from across the new Europe involved in regional development and spatial planning Providing insights into different approaches it offers a valuable opportunity to compare experiences across European borders

Sustainable Development for Central and Eastern Europe Ulrich Graute, 2012-12-06 Central and Eastern European Countries are undergoing a difficult transition process with consequences for spatial development Europe needs a more balanced polycentric system of cities a new urban rural relationship parity of access to infrastructure and knowledge as well as prudent management and development of the natural and cultural heritage Dealing with these complex challenges and the need for sustainable development politicians requires qualified advice from experts To this end the German Ministry for Regional Planning Construction and Urban Development initiated the Network of Spatial Research Institutes in Central and Eastern Europe CEE Net in 1992 Exchange of knowledge and an open dialogue at all levels are pre conditions for the cooperative development of visions and strategies serving spatial development in Europe The annual conferences of the network have been a first steps towards closer cooperation The high interest shown in these conferences by academics and government representatives and the fact that several research projects have already crystallised out of the debates they engendered indicate that the network is meeting a need for exchange and cooperation. Decisions on spatial development do not stop at national borders and the discussion on spatial development in any European region has therefore to take the European context into consideration. A special advantage of this publication is that as well as focusing on spatial development and research in CEE regions it also discusses Central and Eastern Europe in a European context.

Regional Planning John Glasson, Tim Marshall, 2007-11-21. Regional Planning provides a comprehensive introduction to the concepts and theory of regional planning in the UK. Drawing on examples from throughout the UK it provides students and practitioners with a descriptive and analytical foundation for understanding this rapidly changing area of planning. The book includes four main sections covering the context and history of regional planning, theoretical approaches, evolving practice, future prospects. New questions and methods of theorizing are explored and new connections made with contemporary debates in geography, political science and planning theory. The elements of critical analysis allow both practitioners and more advanced students to reflect upon their activities in a contemporary context. Regional Planning is the essential up to date text for students interested in all aspects of this increasingly influential subject.

National Higher Education Reforms in a European Context Kwiek Marek, Maassen Peter, 2012-11-08. This book addresses the following research questions: What are the main transformations in European higher education? How do these transformations affect the national higher education systems of Norway and Poland? How do European level higher education policy processes affect national higher education policies in Norway and Poland, especially in the areas of funding and governance? Europe and the two countries are the units of analysis with different authors choosing different research foci and different disciplinary approaches.

Foreign Publications Accessions List United States. Department of Housing and Urban Development. Office of International Affairs, 1976. European Yearbook / Annuaire Europeen. Council of Europe Staff, 2013-12-01. The European Yearbook promotes the scientific study of nineteen European supranational organisations and the Organisation for Economic Co-operation and Development (OECD). Each volume contains a detailed survey of the history, structure and yearly activities of each organisation and an up to date chart providing a clear overview of the member states of each organisation. Each volume contains a comprehensive bibliography covering the year's relevant publications.

Bulgaria and Europe Stefanos Katsikas, 2011-10-01. Bulgaria and Europe: Shifting Identities offers a unique analysis of Bulgaria's relationship with the European continent. Katsikas examines how Bulgarian historiography and literature over the centuries have created differing conceptions of Europe and in the process shaped the country's own shifting identity. Through his analysis he provides the broader cultural context and historical perspective required in order to understand the country's EU accession process as well as its aftermath. This work ultimately addresses what has arguably been the key question facing Bulgaria in the post Cold War period: Are we European?

Cohesion, Coherence, Cooperation: European Spatial Planning Coming of Age? Andreas Faludi, 2010-10-18. Since its foundation the European Union has gradually developed policies that are aimed at achieving increased economic and social cohesion This book examines the most recent of these the concept of territorial cohesion Territorial cohesion is the pursuit of balanced development competitiveness sustainable development and good governance These concerns are most readily addressed by the formulation of spatial strategies under the umbrella of spatial planning that brings together a multitude of public and private actors in a process that requires cohesion coherence and co operation This book traces the development of spatial planning at European level and argues that spatial planning can become a vehicle not only for territorial cohesion but for EU policy generally Making European Space Ole B. Jensen, Tim Richardson, 2004-08-02 Making European Space crystallises and critically examines the key policy ideas emerging in the new field of European spatial planning and explores the arguments surrounding policy themes such as polycentric development sustainability Understanding Geographies of Polarization and Peripheralization Thilo Lang, Sebastian Henn, Kornelia Ehrlich, Wladimir Sgibnev, 2015-08-31 This book presents a multifaceted perspective on regional development and corresponding processes of adaptation and response focusing on the concepts of polarization and peripheralization It discusses theoretical and empirical foundations and presents several compelling case studies from Central and Eastern Europe and beyond Territorial Development, Cohesion and Spatial Planning Neil Adams, Giancarlo Cotella, Richard Nunes, 2012-08-06 This book examines some of the evolving challenges faced by EU regional policy in light of enlargement and to assess some of the approaches and trends in terms of territorial development policy and practice that are emerging out of this process Focusing on the experiences on Central and Eastern Europe these chapters reflect on the diversity of approaches to spatial planning and the the politics of policy formation and multi level governance operations from local to trans national agendas Promoting increased awareness and understanding of these issues is the main purpose of the book as well as harnessing the extensive capacity and knowledge within these countries that can greatly enrich the discourse within an enlarged epistemic community of European spatial planning academics practitioners and policy makers The recently acquired CEE dimension provides a unique opportunity to examine the evolution of existing epistemic communities as well as to explore the potential emergence of new ones The European Territory Jacques Robert, 2014-05-09 Originally published in French as Le territoire europ en des racines aux enjeux globaux this book reflects the enormous changes that Europe has seen in the past half century In a period of immense upheaval the continent has experienced increased integration largely through the development of the European Union heightened urbanization and a changing rural landscape while economic and commercial activities have impressed their stamp on the whole scene In this book Jacques Robert deploys the experience amassed throughout his 35 years experience as adviser to European institutions in the field of territorial and regional development The chapter on cities explains the emergence of the European urban hierarchy and the driving forces and inertia behind its evolution while a following chapter looks at the changing role of rural areas This material provides a historic overview of relevant policies and a discussion of future challenges The third chapter discusses evolving paradigms of regional economic development and their impact on European regions Next there is a chapter on the historical roots and current processes within territorial integration The book concludes with an examination of Europe's place in the world at large focussing particularly on globalization effects climate change and new energy paradigms which will present real challenges for decades to come The book is unique in its combination of in depth analysis of the evolution of European territorial policies and paradigms but also in its geographically comprehensive approach integrating the experience of both Western and Eastern Europe It will be of interest to academics and professionals within territorial development and spatial planning

The European Dimension of British Planning Mark Tewdwr-Jones, Richard H. Williams, 2005-07-08 The UK government of Tony Blair is committed to fostering a European dimension of planning practice Significant developments in relation to planning within Europe are occurring The creation of the European Spatial Development Perspective the reform of the Structural Funds and the implementation of programmes to foster trans national co operation between governments will all impact on UK government and on planning system in particular Even within the UK devolution and regionalisation will bring new pressures for overall co ordination on the issue of European spatial planning Issues concerning the revisions of the Structural Funds in 2000 and 2006 and funding opportunities for local authorities are closely connected with the theme of this book More importantly it is expected that the link between funding and spatial policy within British planning will become more clearly defined during this period The European dimension of British planning as a consequence may grow significantly over the next few years The authors tackle four key issues in their discussion of this topic British political attitudes to Europeanisation issues The changing relationships between different arms of the state The often complex interdependencies between tiers of governance The rapidly changing definition of British urban and regional planning

The Making of Regions in Post-Socialist Europe — the Impact of Culture, Economic Structure and Institutions Melanie Tatur, 2012-12-06 The study combines the debate on regionalisation with transformation research It regards the formation of regional actors and institutions not primarily from the perspective of formal organisational structures but also a consequence of the macro political transformation regime and region specific opportunity structures These structures include economic restrictions historical legacies and cultural resources that are conveyed in present informal mechanisms personal networks discourses and development strategies The qualitative empirical approach offers a vivid picture of regional developments The two volumes cover Malopolska and Silesia Poland Hajdu Bihar County Hungary Timis County Romania and the Lviv and Donetsk regions Ukraine
