European Cities in the Modern Era, 1850-1914

Friedrich Lenger,2012-08-17 In European Cities in the Modern Era 1850-1914 Friedrich Lenger offers an account of Europe's major cities in a period crucial for the development of much of their present shape and infrastructure

The Cambridge Social History of Britain, 1750-1950 F. M. L. Thompson,1990 Whilst in certain quarters it may be fashionable to suppose that there is no such thing as society historians have had no difficulty in finding their subject The difficulty rather is that the advance has occurred through such an outpouring of research and writing that it is hard for anyone but the specialist to keep up with the literature or grasp the overall picture In these three volumes as is the tradition in Cambridge Histories a team of specialists has assembled the jigsaw of recent monographic research and presented an interpretation of the development of modern British society since 1750 from three complementary perspectives those of regional communities of the working and living environment and of social institutions Each volume is self contained and each contribution thematically defined contains its own chronology of the period under review Taken as a whole they offer an authoritative and comprehensive view of the manner and method of the shaping of society in the two centuries of unprecedented demographic and economic change

Urban Planning in a Changing World Robert Freestone,2000 Urban planning in today's world is inextricably linked to the processes of mass urbanization and modernization which have transformed our lives over the last hundred years Written by leading experts and commentators from around the world this collection of original essays will form an unprecedented critical survey of the state of urban planning at the end of the millennium

Urban Planning in a Changing World Freestone,2000-06-22 Urban planning in today's world is inextricably linked to the processes of mass urbanization and modernization which have transformed our lives over the last hundred years Written by leading experts and commentators from around the world this collection of original essays will form an unprecedented critical survey of the state of urban planning a

A Mobile Century? Colin G. Pooley,Jean Turnbull,Mags Adams,2017-03-02 For most people in the developed world the ability to travel freely on a daily basis is almost taken for granted Although there is a large volume of literature on contemporary mobility and associated transport problems there are no comprehensive studies of the ways in which these trends have changed over time This book provides a detailed empirical analysis of mobility change in Britain over the twentieth century Beginning with an explanatory theoretical overview setting the UK case studies within an international context the book then analyses changes in the journey to school the journey to work and travelling for pleasure It also looks at the ways in which changes in mobility have interacted with changes in the family life cycle and assesses the impact of new transport technologies on everyday mobility It concludes by examining the implications of past mobility change for contemporary transport policy

Reconstituting Rurality Jonathan Murdoch,Terry Marsden,2013-10-11 The second in the Restructuring Rural Areas series this work presents an examination of the way in which the rural and the concept of rurality is being reconstructed within urban regions It argues that the rural is not a fixed category but the outcome of political economic and socio cultural pressures These pressures are exacerbated in southeast England an area dominated by London and the patterns of growth associated with that city Through close analysis of key land development processes and a series of village studies the authors give a forceful demonstration of the way in which certain social groups are becoming increasingly influential in determining the material and social shape of rural areas in the United Kingdom The formation of class identity it is argued is closely bound up with the formation of certain local spaces class and space must be considered as combined elements in the development of rural locales To illustrate this the authors document in detail the means by which dominant groups represent themselves within the development process and show how the exclusion of certain kinds of development leads to the exclusion of certain social groups Atlas of British Social and Economic History Since c.1700 Mr Rex Pope, Rex Pope, 2002-03-11 All students of history use maps This atlas is designed specifically to enhance the understanding of British history since 1700 as well as emphasizing social as well as economic change The contributors are all subject specialists who have taught in higher education institutions and a large proportion of both maps and text is based on their own original research The combination of maps and text is intended to illustrate not only historical developments such as the spread of agriculture or the growth of an integrated transport system but also regional contrasts at points in time The end product offers support for those historians who question the usefulness of thinking in terms of national economic histories Metropolitan Planning in Britain Peter Roberts, Kevin Thomas, Gwyndaf Williams, 2014-02-04 Metropolitan Planning in Britain is the first comparative analysis and assessment of metropolitan areas and their strategic planning for almost two decades Changes in population distribution styles of local government business practices and attitudes to the environment have all had an impact on cities in recent years which planners and other policy makers must take into consideration Based on a series of research projects and the activities of a study group supported by the Regional Studies Association the book examines in detail nine major urban areas their specific characters and requirements and how metropolitan planning is adapting to fulfil those requirements It also discusses the possible future evolution of metropolitan planning especially in the light of new regional arrangements and devolution Manchester John J. Parkinson-Bailey, 2000 This work offers an examination of Manchester s architecture from its origins to the present day rebuilding of the city centre It follows Manchester s growth from a village to what many see as England s second city Consumer Society and the Post-modern City David B Clarke, 2004-03 Working through the often controversial ideas of the consumer society s most influential theorists Jean Baudrillard and Zygmunt Bauman this book assesses the ways in which consumerism is reshaping the nature and meaning of the city Popular Conservatism and the Culture of National Government in Inter-War Britain Geraint Thomas, 2020-11-05 A radical reading of British Conservatives fortunes between the wars exploring how the party adapted to mass democracy after 1918 The Urban Geography Reader Nicholas R. Fyfe, Judith T. Kenny, 2005 Drawing on a rich diversity of theoretical approaches and analytical strategies urban geographers have been at the forefront of understanding the global and local processes shaping cities and of making sense of the urban experiences of a wide variety of social groups Through their links with those working in the fields of urban policy design urban geographers have also played an important role in the analysis of the economic and social problems confronting cities Capturing the diversity of scholarship in the field of urban geography this reader presents a stimulating selection of articles and excerpts by leading figures Organized around seven themes it addresses the changing economic social cultural and technological conditions of contemporary urbanization and the range of personal and public responses It reflects the academic importance of urban geography in terms of both its theoretical and empirical analysis as well as its applied policy relevance and features extensive editorial input in the form of general section and individual extract introductions Bringing together in one volume classic and contemporary pieces of urban geography studies undertaken in the developed and developing worlds and examples of theoretical and applied research it provides in a convenient student friendly format an unparalleled resource for those studying the complex geographies of urban areas

Twentieth-Century British Theatre Claire Cochrane, 2011-10-27 In this book Claire Cochrane maps the experience of theatre across the British Isles during the twentieth century through the social and economic factors which shaped it Three topographies for 1900 1950 and 2000 survey the complex plurality of theatre within the nation state which at the beginning of the century was at the hub of world wide imperial interests and after one hundred years had seen unprecedented demographic economic and industrial change Cochrane analyses the dominance of London theatre but redresses the balance in favour of the hitherto marginalised majority experience in the English regions and the other component nations of the British political construct Developments arising from demographic change are outlined especially those relating to the rapid expansion of migrant communities representing multiple ethnicities Presenting fresh historiographic perspectives on twentieth century British theatre the book breaks down the traditionally accepted binary oppositions between different sectors showing a broader spectrum of theatre practice

Cultural Studies Ien Ang, David Morley, 2005-08-03 This special issue of Cultural Studies from 1989 looks at European Identities The editor remakes that putting together a European Issue for this journal proved to be a very intriguing task not least because of the complexity of what Europe means Europe is not just a geographical site it is also an idea an idea inextricably linked with the myths of western civilization and its implications not only of culture but also of colonialism Twentieth century Europe is also a political and historical reality that continues to be marked by the deeply traumatic experiences of World War II and the drawing of the Iron Curtain a continent whose century long world hegemony was gradually taken over by the United States on the one side and the Soviet Union on the other

Reconstruction Neal Shasore, Jessica Kelly, 2023-02-23 Commendation the Colvin Prize 2023 Society of Architectural Historians of Great Britain Reconstruction explores the impact of the First World War on the built environment examining the immediate and longer term aftermath of the Great War on the architecture of Britain and the British Empire during the interwar years While much attention has been paid by historians to post war architectural reconstruction after 1945 the earlier developments of the interwar period 1919 1939 have been comparatively overlooked This volume reveals how the architectural developments of this period not only provided important foundations for what happened after 1945 they are also of real significance in their own right Sixteen essays written by leading and emerging scholars bring together new and diverse approaches to the period a period of reconstruction fraught with the challenges of modernity and democratisation The collection considers the complex effects of reconstruction on design discourse practice and professionalism and deals with the full spectrum of architectural styles and approaches privileging neither Modernism nor traditional styles like the neo Georgian It brings to the fore social and political histories of the built environment and makes important postcolonial interventions into the architectural history of British Imperialism at home and in its far reaches in Cairo South Africa Australia and India Patrick Geddes Helen Meller, 2005-08-02 This recent analysis of Patrick Geddes life and work reviews his ideas and philosophy of planning providing a scholarly yet accessible account for students of the history of planning urban design social theory and British history European Cities, Planning Systems and Property Markets J.N. Berry, W.S. McGreal, 2003-09-02 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of the interaction between the planning systems and property markets in 17 key European cities Capital Cardiff 1975-2020 Alan Hooper, John Punter, 2006 Examining how the city of Cardiff has managed to transform itself in recent years this book analyses the way in which its local governments have promoted an economic social cultural physical and environmental transformation through a wide range of policy initiatives and partnerships with governments agencies and enterprises Rebuilding Europe's Bombed Cities Jeffry M. Diefendorf, 2015-12-30 An exploration of Europe's urban reconstruction after World War II this volume contains 12 essays based on new research which examine the significant architectural continuities in pre war and post war building They highlight the unusual character of rebuilding in several case studies
