Regional Novel In Britain And Ireland 1800 1990:

The Regional Novel in Britain and Ireland K. D. M. Snell, 1998-12-10 The Regional Novel In Britain and Ireland 1800 1990 will be of interest to literary and social historians as well as cultural critics British Literature in Transition, 1980-2000 Eileen Pollard, Berthold Schoene-Harwood, 2019 This volume shows how British literature recorded contemporaneous historical change It traces the emergence and evolution of literary trends from 1980 2000 The Literary North K. Cockin, 2012-06-07 According to Orwell the North was a strange country In an industrial landscape its inhabitants seem to inhabit a bleak world caught in the gaze of 1930s realism Such stereotypes have been tenacious This book challenges these stereotypes establishing the strategic and mobile nature of the North and the effects of literary realism

The Cambridge History of the English Novel Robert L. Caserio, Clement Hawes, 2012-01-12 The Cambridge History of the English Novel chronicles an ever changing and developing body of fiction across three centuries An interwoven narrative of the novel s progress unfolds in more than fifty chapters charting continuities and innovations of structure tracing lines of influence in terms of themes and techniques and showing how greater and lesser authors shape the genre Pushing beyond the usual period centered boundaries the History s emphasis on form reveals the range and depth the novel has achieved in English This book will be indispensable for research libraries and scholars but is accessibly written for students Authoritative bold and clear the History raises multiple useful questions for future visions of the invention and re invention of the novel

Modernity and the English Rural Novel Dominic Head, 2017-04-07 This book re evaluates the rural English novel in the twentieth century in relation to the recognised artistic responses to modernity It argues that the most important writers in this tradition have had a very significant bearing on the trajectory of English cultural life through the modernist period and beyond

British Short Fiction in the Early Nineteenth Century Dr Tim Killick, 2013-04-28 In spite of the importance of the idea of the tale within Romantic era literature short fiction of the period has received little attention from critics Contextualizing British short fiction within the broader framework of early nineteenth century print culture Tim Killick argues that authors and publishers sought to present short fiction in book length volumes as a way of competing with the novel as a legitimate and prestigious genre Beginning with an overview of the development of short fiction through the late eighteenth century and analysis of the publishing conditions for the genre including its appearance in magazines and annuals Killick shows how Washington Irving s hugely popular collections set the stage for British writers Subsequent chapters consider the stories and sketches of writers as diverse as Mary Russell Mitford and James Hogg as well as didactic short fiction by authors such as Hannah More Maria Edgeworth and Amelia Opie His book makes a convincing case for the evolution of short fiction into a self conscious intentionally modern form with its own techniques and imperatives separate from those of the novel

Anglo-Irish Identities, 1571-1845 David A. Valone, Jill Marie Bradbury, 2008 This book presents a series of essays that examine the ideological personal and political difficulties faced by the group variously termed the

Anglo Irish the Protestant Ascendancy or the English in Ireland a group that existed in a world of contested ideological political and cultural identities At the root of this conflicted sense of self was an acute awareness among the Anglo Irish of their liminal position as colonial dominators in Ireland who were viewed as other both by the Catholic natives of Ireland and by their English kinsmen The work in this volume is highly interdisciplinary bringing to bear examination of issues that are historical literary economic and sociological Contributors investigate how individuals experienced the ambiguities and conflicts of identity formation in a colonial society how writers fought the economic and ideological superiority of the English how the cooption of Gaelic history and culture was a political strategy for the Anglo Irish and how literary texts contributed to the emergence of national consciousness In seeking to understand and trace the complex process of identity formation in early modern Ireland the essays in this volume attest to its tenuous dynamic and necessarily incomplete nature David A Valone is an Assistant Professor of History at Quinnipiac University Jill Marie Bradbury is an Assistant Professor of English at Gallaudet University

Other Capitals of the Nineteenth Century Richard Hibbitt, 2017-10-17 This book rethinks the notion of nineteenth century capital s from geographical economic and symbolic perspectives proposing an alternative mapping of the field by focusing on different loci and sources of capital Walter Benjamin s essay Paris the Capital of the Nineteenth Century identifies the French capital as the epitome of modernity His consideration of how literature enters the market as a commodity is developed by Pierre Bourdieu in The Rules of Art which discusses the late nineteenth century French literary field in terms of both economic and symbolic capital This spatio temporal approach to culture also underpins Pascale Casanova s The World Republic of Letters which posits Paris as the capital of the transnational literary field and Greenwich Meridian of literature This volume brings together essays by specialists on Bayreuth Brussels Constantinople Coppet Marseilles Melbourne Munich and St Petersburg as well as reflections on local colour literature the Symbolist novel and the strategies behind literary translation Offering a series of innovative perspectives on nineteenth century capital and cultural output this study will be invaluable for all upper levels students and scholars of modern European literature culture and society

Not the Troubles Karen Lane, 2025-07-01 Belfast is often analysed as a divided society anchored in ethno politico religious differences amid a long history of conflict However shifting the focus of academic attention reveals a range of alternative narratives of city life Using storytelling as a leitmotif this ethnographic account explores the epistemological validity of engaging with strangers in a range of settings such as street corners a hairdresser s and a storytelling evening It considers how creative writers represent life in Belfast The author employs a variety of methods including a dog as a research assistant and storytelling on location which demonstrates how people can re shape and re narrate life in Belfast

Emyr Humphreys Diane Green, 2009-07-01 This book is an examination of the novels of Emyr Humphreys in the light of his ideas on Wales Welsh history Welsh culture and the importance of a separate Welsh identity It explores Humphreys practice in the light both of his own theories of culture and fiction and of a variety of models derived from postcolonial theory

Its main conclusions are that there are two particular techniques the use of Welsh history and of Celtic myth that have proved particularly central to Humphreys purposes throughout his career These have consistently been the principal ways in which he foregrounds for the reader both what it means to be Welsh and the importance for the nation of maintaining an understanding of its heritage And both these key strategies of his fiction should it is argued be read as typical postcolonial devices

George Mackay Brown and the Philosophy of Community Timothy C Baker,2009-06-23 In this book Timothy C Baker situates George Mackay Brown s work within a broad literary and philosophical context to articulate how his novels engage with the question of community

Literature of the 1950s: Good, Brave Causes Alice Ferrebe,2012-04-10 Challenges the myths about apathy and smugness surrounding British literature of the period Alice Ferrebe s lively study rereads the decade and its literature as crucial in twentieth century British history for its emergent and increasingly complicated politics of difference as ideas about identity authority and belonging were tested and contested By placing a diverse selection of texts alongside those of the established canon of Movement and Angry writing a literary culture of true diversity and depth is brought into view The volume characterises the 1950s as a time of confrontation with a range of concerns still avidly debated today including immigration education the challenging behaviour of youth nuclear threat the post industrial and post imperial legacy a consumerist economy and a feminist movement hampered by the perceivedly comprehensive nature of its recent success Contrary to Jimmy Porter s defeatist judgement on his era in John Osborne s 1956 play Look Back in Anger the volume upholds such concerns as good brave causes indeed

Loyalism and Radicalism in Lancashire, 1798-1815 Katrina

Navickas,2009-01-15 Loyalism and Radicalism in Lancashire 1798 1815 is a lively and detailed account of popular politics in Lancashire during the later years of the French Revolution and during the Napoleonic wars Drawing on a wide variety of sources such as letters diaries and broadside ballads it offers fresh insights into the complicated dynamics between radicalism loyalism and patriotism and emphasises Lancashire s distinctive political culture and its place at the heart of the industrial revolution This region witnessed some of the most intense disruptive and violent popular politics in this period and beyond Highly active and vocal groups emerged extreme republicans more moderate radicals Luddites early trade unionists and also strong networks of Church and King loyalists and Orange lodges Katrina Navickas explains how this heady mix created a politically charged region where both local and national affairs played their part She follows the inner workings of popular political activity in response to both internal and external threats including loyalist processions and civic events volunteer corps formed as defence against invasion food riots strikes by trade unions and both secret and public meetings on the key issues of peace and parliamentary reform Navickas argues for a distinct sense of regional identity that shaped not only local politics but also patriotism Lancastrians felt British in the face of the French but it was a particularly Lancastrian type of Britishness Austerity Britain, 1945-1951 David Kynaston, 2008-05-13 A people's history of post World War II England is a social profile that links everyday lives to period events while paying tribute to the nation's passionate dedication to its survival and rebuilding in an account that also traces the stories of such individuals as journalist Jon Arlott actress Glenda Jackson and writer Doris Lessing 10 000 first printing

Crime Fiction and National Identities in the Global Age Julie H. Kim, 2020-05-05 To read a crime novel today largely simulates the exercise of reading newspapers or watching the news The speed and frequency with which today's bestselling works of crime fiction are produced allow them to mirror and dissect nearly contemporaneous socio political events and conflicts This collection examines this phenomenon and offers original critical essays on how national identity appears in international crime fiction in the age of populism and globalization These essays address topics such as the array of competing nationalisms in Europe Indian secularism versus Hindu communalism the populist rhetoric tinged with misogyny or homophobia in the United States racial religious or ethnic others who are sidelined in political appeals to dominant native voices and the increasing economic chasm between a rich and poor More broadly these essays inquire into themes such as how national identity and various conceptions of masculinity are woven together how dominant native cultures interact with migrant and colonized cultures to explore insider outsider paradigms and identity politics and how generic and cultural boundaries are repeatedly crossed in postcolonial detective fiction

Literature of the 1950s Alice Ferrebe, 2015-09-30 This lively study challenges the myths about apathy and smugness surrounding British literature of the period It rereads the decade and its literature as crucial in twentieth century British history for its emergent and increasingly complicated politics

Across the margins Glenda Norquay, Gerry Smyth, 2018-07-30 This electronic version has been made available under a Creative Commons BY NC ND open access license The concept of margins denotes geographical economic demographic cultural and political positioning in relation to a perceived centre This book aims to question the term marginal itself to hear the voices talking across borders and not only to or through an English centre The first part of the book examines debates on the political and poetic choice of language drawing attention to significant differences between the Irish and Scottish strategies It includes a discussion of the complicated dynamic of woman and nation by Aileen Christianson which explores the work of twentieth century Scottish and Irish women writers The book also explores masculinities in both English and Scottish writing from Berthold Schoene which deploys sexual difference as a means of testing postcolonial theorizing A different perspective on the notion of marginality is offered by addressing Englishness in relation to migrant writing in prose concerned with India and England after Independence The second part of the book focuses on a wide range of new poetry to question simplified margin centre relations It discusses a historicising perspective on the work of cultural studies and its responses to the relationship between ethnicity and second generation Irish musicians from Sean Campbell The comparison of contemporary Irish and Scottish

fiction which identifies similarities and differences in recent developments is also considered In each instance the writers take on the task of examining and assessing points of connection and diversity across a particular body of work while moving away from contrasts which focus on an English norm Thomas Hardy's Shorter Fiction Sophie Gilmartin,2007-12-15 This critical study of Hardy s short stories provides a thorough account of the ruling preoccupations and recurrent writing strategies of his entire corpus as well as providing detailed readings of several individual texts It relates the formal choices imposed on Hardy as contributor to Blackwood s Magazine and other periodicals to the methods he employed to encode in fiction his troubled attitude towards the social politics of the West Country where most of the stories are set No previous criticism has shown how the powerful challenges to the reader mounted in Hardy s later stories reveal the complexity of his motivations during a period when he was moving progressively in the direction of exchanging fiction for poetry Unique in providing a comprehensive criticism of Hardy s entire output of short stories Full detailed close readings of a number of key stories make this useful as a potential teaching resource Draws on the work of social historians to make clear the background of social and political unrest in Dorset that is partly uncovered and partly hidden in Hardy s portrayals of his fictional Wessex Offers fascinating insights into Hardy s near obsession in his mature phase with the marriage contract and with its legal binding of erratic men and women Sources of Regionalism in the Nineteenth Century Linda Van Santvoort,Tom Verschaffel,2008 KADOC Artes 9Architectural concepts and styles seem to flourish on a variety of levels from the most local of contexts to the global This book investigates regionalism which is often conceived today as a late nineteenth century phenomenon because of the preservation and restoration movements that arose during that period Derived from the workshop The Sources of Regionalism held by the FWO research group World Views Cultural Identities and Architecture in Western Europe 1815 1940 the essays in this book examine the meaning of regionalism in architecture art and literature its sources and its cultural and historical background The contributors focus on the nineteenth century and the years of the twentieth century before World War I and focus geographically on Western Europe with an emphasis on Belgium France and England Together their essays provide a thorough examination of the complexity and multilayered quality of regionalism
