Egalitarian Revolution in the Savanna Stephen A. Dueppen,2014-09-11 Many West African societies have egalitarian political systems with non centralised distributions of power Egalitarian Revolution in the Savanna analyses a wide range of archaeological data to explore the development of such societies The volume offers a detailed case study of the village settlement of Kirikongo in western Burkina Faso Over the course of the first millennium this single homestead extended control over a growing community The book argues that the decentralization of power in the twelfth century BCE radically transformed this society changing gender roles public activities pottery making and iron working Egalitarian Revolution in the Savanna will be of interest to students of political science anthropology archaeology and the history of West Africa The Cultural Foundations of Economic Development Emily Chamlee-Wright,2002-11-01 Chalmlee Wright argues that international aid programmes have often been unsuccessful because they are imported The economics of the Austrian School provide a far stronger theoretical framework which can introduce cultural analysis into questions of economic development and other market processes Understanding Africa's Rural Households And Farming Systems Joyce Lewinger Moock,2019-06-26 In this book the difficult problems of agriculture in sub Saharan Africa are examined by the farming systems approach which aims to improve food production under adverse conditions through agronomic and social science research conducted on the farm Particular attention is paid to household decision making processes that affect the way households Interpretations of Calamity K. Hewitt,2019-09-18 Originally published in 1983 Interpretations of Calamity provides a provocative critique of the dominant view of research into natural hazards Throughout the world there are now many people professionally engaged in the mitigation and control of risks hazards and the impact of continuing economic development will ensure that they are fully employed There is a wealth of perspectives in the book including weather and wheat yields in the Soviet Union and Canada an historical view of underdevelopment and hazards in Ireland and the impact of a response to drought in southern Africa the Sahel and the Great Plains of the USA The book reflects the major themes of hazards in the context of economic development and social change Most of the case studies are from the rural and agriculture scene This book provides a unique view of the vital importance of food production and of the considerable and sometimes calamitous impact that frost flood storm and drought have on the wellbeing of millions of people and on the stability of the international economic system Power of Articulation Matti Kortesoja,2023-06-12 This open access book is the first book that attempts to treat the notion of articulation as an important concept to be added to the lexicon of communication studies and social science It constitutes the first comprehensive and systematic discussion of articulation in English providing an introduction of its usages and what has occurred on its travels from one theoretical realm to another in political philosophy structural linguistics new economic anthropology cultural studies and post Marxist discourse theory The proposed research takes a relational approach to society and social action in a way that recognises their relative autonomy It entails an introduction of the discursive turn in the imagery of society and social change thereby proving that the relational concept of articulation Gliederung has potential to consider society as both a structured complex whole and a product of human interaction Fipa Families Kathleen R. Smythe,2006-05-30 Ufipa a labor reserve for Tanganyika witnessed minimal colonial development Instead evangelization by White Fathers Catholic missionaries began in the 1870s By the 1950s the missionaries had secured varying degrees of political economic and social authority in the region witnessed by the fact that the vast majority of Fipa had converted to Catholicism Fipa Families examines how this happened from the Fipa perspective Written primarily for scholars and students of African colonial history mission history and family and childhood history this study is based on a rich collection of oral and documentary sources Working with this wealth of information Smythe breaks new ground in placing African social and moral concerns parallel to those of missionaries resurrecting the study of the family rather than kinship lineage or clan within African history and demonstrating at the level of the family and village the ways in which ideas of socialization reproduction and education were challenged and re created in the colonial context in Ufipa Initially employees of the mission sought to oversee the education and moral upbringing of at least one child from each family substituting boarding school for the care relatives would otherwise have provided A few mission parents even opted to forego the multiple benefits of grandchildren so a child could pursue the celibate path of a religious vocation The opportunities of the Catholic Church complemented and competed with Fipa processes of social and biological reproduction and Catholicism became part of the fabric of Fipa society because of and despite its resonance with Fipa culture At the heart of both Fipa and missionary concerns were the processes of socialization social reproduction and biological reproduction processes carried out within the context of the family The Problem of Slavery as History Joseph C. Miller, 2012-03-27 Why did slavery an accepted evil for thousands of years suddenly become regarded during the eighteenth century as an abomination so compelling that Western governments took up the cause of abolition in ways that transformed the modern world Joseph C Miller turns this classic question on its head by rethinking the very nature of slavery arguing that it must be viewed generally as a process rather than as an institution Tracing the global history of slaving over thousands of years Miller reveals the shortcomings of Western narratives that define slavery by the same structures and power relations regardless of places and times concluding instead that slaving is a process which can be understood fully only as imbedded in changing circumstances Africa, Empire and World Disorder A. G.
