Roman And Christian Imperialism:

Roman and Christian Imperialism John Westbury-Jones,1939 Roman and Christian Imperialism, Reissued J. Westbury-Jones,1971 Paul's Letter to the Romans and Roman Imperialism Ian E Rock,2017-05-25 Ian E Rock demonstrates that the Letter to the Romans may be seen as an attempt by a subordinate group to redress actual and potential issues of confrontation with the Empire and to offer hope even in the face of death Paul demonstrates that it is God's peace and not Rome's peace that is important that loyalty to the exalted Jesus as Lord and to the kingdom of God not Jupiter and Rome leads to salvation that grace flows from Jesus as Christ and Lord and not from the benefactions of the Emperor If the resurrection of Jesus the crucified criminal of the Roman Empire demonstrates God's power over the universe and death the very instrument of Roman control then the Christ believer is encouraged to face suffering and death in the hope of salvation through this power Paul's theology emerges from and is inextricably bound to the politics of his day the Scriptures of his people and to the critical fact that the God who is One and Lord of all is still in charge of the world

Acts of the Apostles and the Rhetoric of Roman Imperialism Drew W. Billings,2017 Orality, Literacy, and Colonialism in Antiquity Jonathan A. Draper,2004 Religious scholars take up various questions relating to the relationship between orality and literacy in the context of colonized people in antiquity and explore the role of orality in relation to this hegemony Among the topics are theoretical and methodological foundations Mithra's cult as an example of religious colonialism in Roman times th Roman Imperialism Sir John Robert Seeley,1871 Roman Defeat, Christian Response, and the Literary Construction of the Jew David M. Olster,2015-09-28 Olster explores Byzantine Christian reactions to the catastrophic Persian and Arab invasions challenging long held assumptions that divided religious from secular literature and exempted religion from contemporary social political and intellectual discourse Journal of Greco-Roman Christianity and Judaism, Volume 15 Stanley E. Porter,Matthew Brook O'Donnell,Wendy Porter,2020-11-19 Volume 15 2019 This is the fifteenth volume of the hard copy edition of a journal that has been published online www.jgrchj.net since 2000 As they appear the hard copy editions replace the online materials The scope of JGRChJ is the texts language and cultures of the Greco Roman world of early Christianity and Judaism The papers published in JGRChJ are designed to pay special attention to the larger picture of politics culture religion and language engaging as well with modern theoretical approaches

Christianity, Empire, and the Making of Religion in Late Antiquity Jeremy M. Schott,2013-04-23 In Christianity Empire and the Making of Religion in Late Antiquity Jeremy M Schott examines the ways in which conflicts between Christian and pagan intellectuals over religious ethnic and cultural identity contributed to the transformation of Roman imperial rhetoric and ideology in the early fourth century C E During this turbulent period which began with Diocletian's persecution of the Christians and ended with Constantine's assumption of sole rule and the consolidation of a new Christian empire Christian apologists and anti Christian polemicists launched a number of literary salvos in a battle for the minds and souls of the empire Schott focuses on the works of the Platonist philosopher and anti Christian polemicist Porphyry of Tyre and his Christian respondents the Latin rhetorician Lactantius Eusebius bishop of Caesarea and the emperor Constantine Previous scholarship has tended to narrate the Christianization of the empire in terms of a new religion s penetration and conquest of classical culture and society The present work in contrast seeks to suspend the static essentializing conceptualizations of religious identity that lie behind many studies of social and political change in late antiquity in order to investigate the processes through which Christian and pagan identities were constructed Drawing on the insights of postcolonial discourse analysis Schott argues that the production of Christian identity and in turn the construction of a Christian imperial discourse were intimately and inseparably linked to the broader politics of Roman imperialism

Christianity, The Other, and The Holocaust Michael R. Steele, 2003-02-28 According to the author Christianity offers a powerful system of rewards and incentives to create cultural uniformity Those who do not join in this cultural uniformity become anathematized oppressed marginalized and ultimately removed from the Christian circle of moral obligation Using culture studies as a framework for analysis Steele investigates the ways in which Christianity created cultural conditions based on a theology of violence and the use of sacred violence to foster behaviors that would lead to the involvement of millions of perpetrators and bystanders during the many instances of extreme violence used against the Other over the centuries As the original Disconfirming Other in the Christian cultural world Jews often served as the primary target Thus there was a system of definitions rewards incentives and victims already in place when the Nazis came to power Calling for a re evaluation of the cultural practices and values that have developed within Christianity over time this important new book helps account for the phenomenon of the Nazi perpetrators and bystanders during the Holocaust Framing the Holocaust as a late but logical development in a long series of violent responses by Christianity to the Other those who stand outside the Christian world either by geographical accident religious tradition or some other factor the author attempts to show how the Holocaust while not a specifically Christian event was nevertheless sanctioned and conditioned by other events in the history of Christianity Using culture studies to frame his analysis Steele focuses on historical antecedents that help account for the apathy of bystanders and point to the preexistence of a moral framework supporting and empowering the perpetrators of the Holocaust This unique perspective concludes that the Nazis invented almost nothing with regard to the Shoah and that instead a long standing insistence on cultural hegemony played a much bigger role in the attempted destruction of the Jewish community

The Oxford Handbook of Postcolonial Biblical Criticism R. S. Maier,Katharina Waldner,2020-12-16 Martyrs create space and time through the actions they take the fate they suffer the stories they prompt the cultural narratives against which they take place and the retelling of their tales in different places and contexts The title Desiring Martyrs is meant in two senses First it refers to protagonists and antagonists of the martyrdom narratives who as literary characters seek martyrs and the way they inscribe certain kinds of cultural and social desire Second it describes the later celebration of martyrs via narrative martyrdom acts monuments inscriptions martyria liturgical commemoration pilgrimage etc Here there is a cultural desire to tell or remember a particular kind of story about the past that serves particular communal interests and goals By applying the spatial turn to these ancient texts the volume seeks to advance a still nascent social geographical understanding of emergent Christian and Jewish martyrdom It explores how martyr narratives engage pre existing time space configurations
