Stalin Stephen Kotkin, 2017-10-31 Monumental The New York Times Book Review Pulitzer Prize finalist Stephen Kotkin has written the definitive biography of Joseph Stalin from collectivization and the Great Terror to the conflict with Hitler's Germany that is the signal event of modern world history In 1929 Joseph Stalin having already achieved dictatorial power over the vast Soviet Empire formally ordered the systematic conversion of the world's largest peasant economy into socialist modernity otherwise known as collectivization regardless of the cost What it cost and what Stalin ruthlessly enacted transformed the country and its ruler in profound and enduring ways Building and running a dictatorship with life and death power over hundreds of millions made Stalin into the uncanny figure he became Stephen Kotkin's Stalin Waiting for Hitler 1929 1941 is the story of how a political system forged an unparalleled personality and vice versa The wholesale collectivization of some 120 million peasants necessitated levels of coercion that were extreme even for Russia and the resulting mass starvation elicited criticism inside the party even from those Communists committed to the eradication of capitalism But Stalin did not flinch By 1934 when the Soviet Union had stabilized and socialism had been implanted in the countryside praise for his stunning anti capitalist success came from all quarters Stalin however never forgave and never forgot with shocking consequences as he strove to consolidate the state with a brand new elite of young strivers like himself Stalin's obsessions drove him to execute nearly a million people including the military leadership diplomatic and intelligence officials and innumerable leading lights in culture While Stalin revived a great power building a formidable industrialized military the Soviet Union was effectively alone and surrounded by perceived enemies The quest for security would bring Soviet Communism to a shocking and improbable pact with Nazi Germany But that bargain would not unfold as envisioned The lives of Stalin and Hitler and the fates of their respective dictatorships drew ever closer to collision as the world hung in the balance Stalin Waiting for Hitler 1929 1941 is a history of the world during the build up to its most fateful hour from the vantage point of Stalin's seat of power It is a landmark achievement in the annals of historical scholarship and in the art of biography Europe Central William T. Vollmann, 2005-11-14 WINNER OF THE NATIONAL BOOK AWARD A daring literary masterpiece of historical fiction that weaves together the gripping stories of those caught in the web of authoritarian rule Through interwoven narratives that paint a portrait of 20th century Germany and the USSR and the monstrous age they defined Europe Central captures a chorus of voices both real and fictional a young German who joins the SS to fight its crimes two generals who collaborate with the enemy for different reasons and the tumultuous life of Soviet composer Dmitri Shostakovich amidst Stalinist oppression In this magnificent work of fiction acclaimed author William T Vollmann turns his trenchant eye on these two authoritarian cultures to render a mesmerizing perspective on human experience during wartime

Architecture of Oblivion Andreas Schönle, 2011-06-01 Despite attempts to promote the aesthetics of ruins in Russia from Catherine the Great's construction of fake ruins in imperial parks to Josef Brodsky's elegiac meditations ruins have never achieved the status they enjoy in Western Europe While the Soviet Union was notorious for leveling churches post Soviet Russia has only intensified the practice of massive destruction and reconstruction Architecture of Oblivion examines the role of ruins in the development of Russia's historical consciousness from the eighteenth century to the present Investigating the meaning and functions ruins have acquired in Russian culture Sch nle looks at ideological reasons for the current disregard for the value of ruins and historical buildings in particular by political authorities and reveals how ruins have often become a site of resistance to official ideology and an invitation to map out alternative visions of history and of statehood An interdisciplinary study of Russia's response to ruins has never been attempted although the topic of ruins has garnered considerable interest in Western Europe and in the U S This original work from a leading authority on the subject will appeal to historians of Russian culture and thought literature and art scholars and general readers interested in ruins

We Saw Spain Die Paul Preston,2012-03-01 The war in Spain and those who wrote at first hand of its horrors From 1936 to 1939 the eyes of the world were fixed on the devastating Spanish conflict that drew both professional war correspondents and great writers Ernest Hemingway John Dos Passos Josephine Herbst Martha Gellhorn W H Auden Stephen Spender Kim Philby George Orwell Arthur Koestler Cyril Connolly Andr Malraux Antoine de Saint Exup ry and others wrote eloquently about the horrors they saw at first hand Together with many great and now largely forgotten journalists they put their lives on the line discarding professionally dispassionate approaches and keenly espousing the cause of the partisans Facing censorship they fought to expose the complacency with which the decision makers of the West were appeasing Hitler and Mussolini Many campaigned for the lifting of non intervention revealing the extent to which the Spanish Republic had been betrayed Peter Preston's exhilarating account illuminates the moment when war correspondence came of age Aesthetic

Temporalities Today Gabriele Genge,Ludger Schwarte,Angela Stercken,2020-09-03 This volume is dedicated to the interrelation between temporality and representation It presumes that time cannot be conceived of as an abstract chronometric order but that it is referring to materiality being measured represented expressed recognized experienced and evaluated and therefore is always closely related to cultural contexts of perception and evaluation The contributions from various disciplines are dedicated to the present and its plural conditions and meanings They provide insights into the state of research with special emphasis on the global present as well as on art and aesthetics from the 18th century until today The anthology includes contributions by Mieke Bal Stefan Binder Maximilian Bergengruen Iris D rmann Gabriele Genge Boris Roman Gibhardt Boris Groys Maria Muhle Johannes F Lehmann Nkiru Nzegwu Francesca Raimondi Christine Ross Ludger Schwarte Angela Stercken Samuel Strehle Timm Trausch Patrick Stoffel and Christina Wessely The Holocaust Ryan Barrick,Abigail S Gruber,David Misal,2014-04-11 This book is a collection of seventeen scholarly articles which analyze Holocaust testimonies photographs documents literature and films as well as teaching methods in Holocaust education Most of these essays were originally presented as papers at the Millersville University Conferences on the Holocaust and Genocide from 2010 to 2012 In their articles the contributors discuss the Holocaust in concentration camps and ghettos as well as the Nazis methods of exterminating Jews The authors analyze the reliability of photographic evidence and eyewitness testimonies about the Holocaust The essays also describe the psychological impact of the Holocaust on survivors witnesses and perpetrators and upon Jewish identity in general after the Second World War The scholars explore the problems of the memorialization of the Holocaust in the Soviet Union and the description of the Holocaust in Russian literature Several essays are devoted to the representation of the Holocaust in film and trace the evolution of its depiction from the early Holocaust movies of the late 1940s early 1950s to modern Holocaust fantasy films They also show the influence of Holocaust cinema on feature films about the Armenian Genocide Lastly several authors propose innovative methods of teaching the Holocaust to college students The younger generation of students may see the Holocaust as an event of the distant past so new teaching methods are needed to explain its significance This collection of essays based on new multi disciplinary research and innovative methods of teaching opens many unknown aspects and provides new perspectives on the Holocaust

Soviet Judgment at Nuremberg Francine Hirsch, 2020 The Nuremberg Trials IMT most notable for their aim to bring perpetrators of Nazi war crimes to justice in the wake of World War II paved the way for global conversations about genocide justice and human rights that continue to this day As Francine Hirsch reveals in this new history of the trials a central part of the story has been ignored or forgotten the critical role the Soviet Union played in making them happen in the first place While there were practical reasons for this omission until recently critical Soviet documents about Nuremberg were buried in the former Soviet archives and even Russian researchers had limited access Hirsch shows that there were political reasons as well The Soviet Union was regarded by its wartime Allies not just as a fellow victor but a rival and it was not in the interests of the Western powers to highlight the Soviet contribution to postwar justice Stalin s Show Trials of the 1930s had both provided a model for Nuremberg and made a mockery of it undermining any pretense of fairness and justice Further complicating matters was the fact that the Soviets had allied with the Nazis before being invaded by them The Molotov Ribbentrop Pact of 1939 hung over the courtroom as did the fact that the everyone knew that the Soviet prosecution had presented the court with falsified evidence about the Katyn massacre of Polish officers attempting to pin one of their own major war crimes on the Nazis For lead American prosecutor Robert Jackson and his colleagues focusing too much on the Soviet role in the trials threatened the overall credibility of the IMT and possibly even the collective memory of the war Soviet Justice at Nuremberg illuminates the ironies of Stalin s henchmen presiding in moral judgment over the Nazis In effect the Nazis had learned mass suppression and mass murder techniques from the Soviets their former allies and now the latter were judging them for crimes they had themselves committed Yet the Soviets had borne the brunt of the fighting and the losses in World War II and this gave them undeniable authority Moreover Soviet jurists were the first to conceive of a legal framework for viewing war as a crime and without that framework the IMT would have had no basis In short there would be no denying their place at the tribunal nor their determination to make the most of it Illuminating the shifting relationships between the four countries involved the U S Great Britain France and the U S S R Hirsch's book shows how each was not just facing off against the Nazi defendants but against each other and offers a new history of Nuremberg Hitler's Fall K.R.M. Bulletin ,1947 Information Bulletin Soviet Union. Posol'stvo (U.S.),1947 From Internationalism to Postcolonialism Rossen Djagalov,2020-03-19 Would there have been a Third World without the Second Perhaps but it would have looked very different From Internationalism to Postcolonialism recounts the story of two Cold War era cultural formations that claimed to represent the Third World project in literature and cinema and offers a compelling genealogy of contemporary postcolonial studies First Films of the Holocaust Jeremy Hicks,2019-12-03 Most early Western perceptions of the Holocaust were based on newsreels filmed during the Allied liberation of Germany in 1945 Little however was reported of the initial wave of material from Soviet filmmakers who were in fact the first to document these horrors In First Films of the Holocaust Jeremy Hicks presents a pioneering study of Soviet contributions to the growing public awareness of the horrors of Nazi rule Even before the war the Soviet film Professor Mamlock which premiered in the United States in 1938 and coincided with the Kristallnacht pogrom helped reinforce anti Nazi sentiment Yet Soviet films were often dismissed or even banned in the West as Communist propaganda Ironically in the brief 1939 1941 period of Nazi and Soviet alliance such films were also banned in the Soviet Union only to be reclaimed after the Nazi attack on the Soviet Union in 1941 and suppressed yet again during the Cold War Jeremy Hicks recovers much of the major film work in Soviet depictions of the Holocaust and views them within their political context both locally and internationally Overwhelmingly wartime films were skewed to depict Soviet resistance Red funerals and calls for vengeance rather than the singling out of Jewish victims by the Nazis Almost no personal testimony of victims or synchronous sound was recorded furthering the disconnection of the viewer to the victims Hicks examines correspondence scripts reviews and compares edited with unedited film to unearth the deliberately hidden Jewish aspects of Soviet depictions of the German invasion and occupation To Hicks it s in the silences gaps and ellipses that the films speak most clearly Additionally he details the reasons why Soviet Holocaust films have been subsequently erased from collective memory in the West and the Soviet Union their graphic horror their use as propaganda tools and the postwar rise of the Red Scare in the United States and anti Semitic campaigns in the Soviet Union Seeking Accountability for Nazi and War Crimes in East and Central Europe Irina Tcherneva, Vanessa Voisin, Eric Le Bourhis, 2022 The thirst for post World War II justice transcended the Cold War and mobilized diverse social groups This is a story of their multilayered and at times conflictual interactions In this edited collection sixteen historians develop a new approach to the trials against persons accused of war crimes and mass murder in Europe during the ascendancy of Nazism and the Second World War 1933 1945 Focusing on the social aspects of the demand for justice and making use of previously underexploited local and international sources contributors put to the test the notion of show trials and explore a range of judicial and political cultures from Germany to the Soviet Union Essays uncover the expectations around accountability and forms of mobilization on the part of a range of citizens involved in the trials survivors witnesses perpetrators Nazi hunters and civic activists In addition to the perspective of these citizens contributors invoke the expertise of reporters filmmakers historians investigators and prosecutors who shaped public representations of justice These shaping efforts the authors show often supported the desire of political authorities to benefit from the publicity of the trials and to contain the spontaneous dissemination of information The book s close examination of interactions between citizens and authorities thus demonstrates the extent and limits of what might be called a coproduction of justice in the process shedding light on the interdependence between historical knowledge and legal prosecution of mass crimes Esfir Shub Ilana Shub Sharp, 2021-12-30 Esfir Shub was the only prominent female director of nonfiction film present at the dawning of the Soviet film industry She was in fact the first woman both to write critical texts on cinema and then practically apply these theorisations in her own films As such her syncretism of cinema theory and praxis inspired her to ask questions regarding both the nature of nonfiction film such as the problem of authenticity and reality and the function of the artist in society issues which are still relevant in contemporary discussions about the documentary Accordingly this book demonstrates Shub s position not only as a significant filmmaker and recognised member of the early Soviet avant garde but also as a key figure in global cinema history Shub deserves recognition both as the founder and ardent promoter of the compilation film genre and as a pioneer of the theory and practice of documentary filmmaking Soviet Internationalism after Stalin Tobias Rupperecht, 2015-08-06 The Soviet Union is often presented as a largely isolated and idiosyncratic state Soviet Internationalism after Stalin challenges this view by telling the story of Soviet and Latin American intellectuals students political figures and artists and their encounters with the other from the 1950s through the 1980s In this first multi archival study of Soviet relations with Latin America Tobias Rupperecht reveals that for people in the Second and Third Worlds the Cold War meant not only confrontation with an ideological enemy but also increased interconnectedness with distant world regions He shows that the Soviet Union looked quite different from a southern rather than a Western point of view and also charts the impact of the new internationalism on the Soviet Union itself in terms of popular perceptions of the USSR's place in the world and its political scientific intellectual and cultural reintegration into the global community

Filming the End of the Holocaust John J. Michalczyk, 2014-10-23

Filming the End of the Holocaust considers how the US Government commissioned the US Signal Corps and other filmmakers to document the horrors of the concentration camps during the April-May 1945 liberation The evidence of the Nazis genocidal actions amassed in these films some of them made by Hollywood luminaries such as John Ford and Billy Wilder would go on to have a major impact at the Nuremberg Trials they helped to indict Nazi officials as the judges witnessed scenes of torture human experimentation and extermination of Jews and non Jews in the gas chambers and crematoria These films some produced by the Soviets were integral to the war crime trials that followed the Holocaust and the Second World War and this book provides a thorough close analysis of the footage in these films and their historical significance Using research carried out at the Museum of Jewish Heritage the US National Archives and the film collection at the National Center for Jewish Film at Brandeis University this book explores the rationale for filming the atrocities and their use in the subsequent trials of Nazi officials in greater detail than anything previously published Including an extensive bibliography and filmography Filming the End of the Holocaust is an important text for scholars and students of the Holocaust and its aftermath

Moscow, the Fourth Rome Katerina Clark, 2011-11-15

In the early sixteenth century the monk Filofei proclaimed Moscow the Third Rome By the 1930s intellectuals and artists all over the world thought of Moscow as a mecca of secular enlightenment In Moscow the Fourth Rome Katerina Clark shows how Soviet officials and intellectuals in seeking to capture the imagination of leftist and anti fascist intellectuals throughout the world sought to establish their capital as the cosmopolitan center of a post Christian confederation and to rebuild it to become a beacon for the rest of the world Clark provides an interpretative cultural history of the city during the crucial 1930s the decade of the Great Purge She draws on the work of intellectuals such as Sergei Eisenstein Sergei Tretiakov Mikhail Koltsov and Ilya Ehrenburg to shed light on the singular Zeitgeist of that most Stalinist of periods In her account the decade emerges as an important moment in the prehistory of key concepts in literary and cultural studies today transnationalism cosmopolitanism and world literature By bringing to light neglected antecedents she provides a new polemical and political context for understanding canonical works of writers such as Brecht Benjamin Lukacs and Bakhtin Moscow the Fourth Rome breaches the intellectual iron curtain that has circumscribed cultural histories of Stalinist Russia by broadening the framework to include considerable interaction with Western intellectuals and trends Its integration of the understudied international dimension into the interpretation of Soviet culture remedies misunderstandings of the world historical significance of Moscow under Stalin
