Romantic Revisions in Novels from the Americas Lauren Rule Maxwell, 2013-03-15 Why are twentieth century novelists from former British colonies in the Americas preoccupied with British Romantic poetry In Romantic Revisions Lauren Rule Maxwell examines five novels Kincaid's Lucy Atwood's The Handmaid's Tale McCarthy's Blood Meridian Fitzgerald's The Great Gatsby and Harris's Palace of the Peacock that contain crucial scenes engaging British Romantic poetry Each work adapts figures from British Romantic poetry and translates them into an American context Kincaid relies on the repeated image of the daffodil Atwood displaces Lucy McCarthy upends the American arcadia Fitzgerald heaps Keatsian images of excess and Harris transforms the albatross In her close readings Maxwell suggests that the novels reframe Romantic poetry to allegorically confront empire revealing how subjectivity is shaped by considerations of place and power Returning to British Romantic poetry allows the novels to extend the Romantic poetics of landscape that traditionally considered the British subject's relation to place By recasting Romantic poetics in the Americas these novels show how negotiations of identity and power are defined by the legacies of British imperialism illustrating that these nations their peoples and their works of art are truly postcolonial While many postcolonial scholars and critics have dismissed the idea that Romantic poetry can be used to critique colonialism Maxwell suggests that on the contrary it has provided contemporary writers across the Americas with a means of charting the literary and cultural legacies of British imperialism in the New World The poems of the British Romantics offer postcolonial writers particularly rich material Maxwell argues because they characterize British influence at the height of the British empire In explaining how the novels adapt figures from British Romantic poetry Romantic Revisions provides scholars and students working in postcolonial studies Romanticism and English language literature with a new look at politics of location in the Americas

Romantic Metropolis James Chandler, Kevin Gilmartin, 2005-10-13 This 2005 collection of essays challenges the traditional conception that British Romanticism was rooted in nature and rural life by showing that much of what was new about Romanticism was born in the city The essays examine the works and events of the Romantic period from the point of view of the urban world where rapid developments in population industry communication trade and technology set the stage and the tone for many of the great achievements in literature and culture The great metropolis appears as both fact and figure London is its paradigm but the metropolitan perspective is also borrowed and projected elsewhere In this volume some of the most exciting critics of Romanticism explore diverse cultural productions from poems and paintings to exhibition sites panoramas and political organizations to do long overdue justice to the place of the city both as topic and as location in British Romanticism

Romantic Sobriety Orrin N. C. Wang, 2011-08-30 Romantic Sobriety explores the relationship among Romanticism deconstruction and Marxism by examining tropes of sensation and sobriety in a set of exemplary texts from Romantic literature and contemporary literary theory Orrin N. C. Wang explains how themes of sensation and sobriety along with Marxist related ideas of revolution and commodification set the terms of narrative surrounding the history of Romanticism as a movement The book is both polemical and critical engaging in debates with modern thinkers such as Paul de Man Jacques Derrida Walter Benn Michaels and Slavoj i ek as well as presenting fresh readings of late eighteenth and early nineteenth century writers including Wordsworth Kant Shelley Byron Bront and Keats Romantic Sobriety combines deeply complex close readings with a broader reflection on Romanticism and its implications on literary study It will interest scholars who study Romanticism from a number of perspectives including those interested in bodily and social consumption the roles of addiction and abstinence in literature the connection between literary and visual culture the intersection of critical theory and Romanticism and the relationships among language historical knowledge and political practice The Romantic '90s Richard Le Gallienne,1925 Romantic Modernism

Wim Denslagen,2009 In the world of architectural conservation there is little tolerance for reconstructing or even protecting historic facades when everything behind is modern and even less for reconstructing a building that has been completely destroyed These offenses are considered lies against history In this thoughtful revealing work conservation expert Wim Denslagen traces this predilection for honesty to the legacy of Functionalism a Romantic era movement that denounced the building of pseudo architecture in favor of a new rational form of building With detailed analyses of headline making restoration projects from Bruges to Berlin Denslagen shows that the adoption of these romantic values by conservationists gave rise to a new wave of modern additions and transformations The Romantic Predicament Geoffrey
