Rome The North Studies In Mediterranean Archaeology Literature:

Making Agreements in Medieval Catalonia Adam J. Kosto, 2001-05-03 This study examines the role of written agreements in eleventh and twelfth century Catalonia and how they determined the social and political order By tracing the fate of these agreements or convenientiae from their first appearance to the late twelfth century it is possible to demonstrate the remarkable stability of the fluid structures which they engendered in what is generally thought of as feudal society The process of documentary change reveals the true nature and pace of the transformation of the year 1000 Analysis of the convenientia as an instrument of power and its interaction with oral practices contributes to a deeper understanding of the role of the written word in medieval societies Finally a broad historiographical context establishes the significance of this study of Catalonia for a more general appreciation of the medieval Mediterranean world Legal Culture in the Early Medieval West Patrick Wormald, 1999-01-01 Wormald's essays seek to establish that legal history is not just the history of law nor even that of society but also that of elite and popular culture in complex and creative symbiosis This collection will appeal to all interested in the institutions and ideologies of the premodern world BOOK JACKET The Beginnings of English Law Lisi Oliver, 2012-10-30 The laws of thelbert of Kent ca 600 Hlohere and Eadric 685x686 and Wihtrred 695 are the earliest laws from Anglo Saxon England and the first Germanic laws written in the vernacular They are of unique importance as the only extant early medieval English laws that delineate the progress of law and legal language in the early days of the conversion to Christianity thelbert's laws the closest existing equivalent to Germanic law as it was transmitted in a pre literate period contrast with Hlohere and Eadric's expanded laws which concentrate on legal procedure and process and again contrast with the further changed laws of Wihtrred which demonstrate how the new religion of Christianity adapted and changed the law to conform to changing social mores This volume updates previous works with current scholarship in the fields of linguistics and social and legal history to present new editions and translations of these three Kentish pre Alfredian laws Each body of law is situated within its historical literary and legal context annotated and provided with facing page translation Labor in Cross-Cultural Perspective Society for Economic Anthropology (U.S.). Meeting, 2006 This excellent new volume in the series from the Society for Economic Anthropology focuses on the role of labor in world economies Contributors offer a range of case studies illustrating labor processes in both western and nonwestern societies Individual sections include discussions on household labor firms and corporations and state and transnational conditions This book will be a valuable resource for scholars students and interested readers of international economics anthropology development issues labor studies and sociology Identity Formation and Diversity in the Early Medieval Baltic and Beyond, 2017-01-05 In Identity Formation and Diversity in the Early Medieval Baltic and Beyond the Viking World in the East is made more heterogeneous Baltic Finnic groups Balts and Sami are integrated into the history dominated by Scandinavians and Slavs Interaction in the region between Eastern Middle Sweden Finland Estonia and North Western Russia is set against varied cultural expressions and Germany In the Footsteps of the Etruscans Graeme Barker, Tom Rasmussen, 2023-10-12 In the Footsteps of the Etruscans describes the archaeology of the countryside within a ten km radius of the small town of Tuscania near Rome throwing light on the unrecorded lives of the generations of farmers and shepherds who have lived there What was the character of prehistoric settlement prior to Etruscan urbanization How did urbanization shape the lives of the ordinary Etruscans working the land hardly ever addressed in Etruscan archaeology What was the impact on these people of being absorbed into the expanding Roman empire and its globalised economic structures How did the empire's collapse and the subsequent emergence of the nucleated medieval village affect Tuscania's rural population The project's 7500 year archaeological history from the first farmers to those grappling with globalisation today contributes eloquently to our understanding of how Mediterranean peoples have constantly shaped their landscape and been shaped by it American Journal of Archaeology, 1925 Reconstructing a Maritime Past Matthew Harpster, 2022-12-30 Reconstructing a Maritime Past argues that rather than applying geo-ethnic labels to shipwrecks to describe Greek or Roman seafaring a more intriguing alternative emphasizes a maritime culture's valorization of the Mediterranean Sea Doing so creates new questions and research agendas to understand the past human relationship with the sea This study makes this argument in three sections Chapters 1 and 2 contrasting intellectual histories of maritime archaeological interpretive approaches common in Northern Europe and the Mediterranean propose that the former perspective which embodies contemporary and fluid perceptions of culture is a better theoretical framework for future research Chapters 3-5 re-interpret the corpus of submerged sites in the Mediterranean Sea with this approach arguing that this dataset does not represent Phoenician Muslim or Byzantine seafaring but the practices of a maritime culture Key to this section is the author's method that utilizes superimposed polygons to model patterns of maritime activity generating centennial results at different scales Having built the models of a maritime culture's valorization of the Mediterranean Sea Chapter 6 contains the first comparisons of these models to other datasets questioning the relevance of textual media to understand maritime activity while finding closer analogues with other archaeological corpora By deconstructing interpretive methods in maritime archaeology offering a new synthesizing interpretive approach that is scalable and decoupled from past perceptions and critically examining the applicability of various media to illuminate the past maritime experience this book will appeal to scholars at various stages of their careers Hittite Landscape and Geography Mark Weeden, Lee Z. Ullmann, 2022-05-20 In Hittite Landscape and Geography Mark Weeden and Lee Ullmann have gathered 28 specialist authors to present an up to date account of research on the Geography of Late Bronze Age Anatolia second half of the second millennium BC using information both from cuneiform texts and from archaeological excavation and survey The study of texts and archaeology require different specialisms This is the first time an attempt has been made to present a co-ordinated monograph length view of Hittite geography since 1959 and the first time that any work has tried to balance archaeological and textual data for the same geographical areas The result is a foundational research tool which will put scholarship on Hittite Geography on a firm footing for the future The Early Bronze Age Seal-Impressed Vessels from Ḫirbet ez-Zeraqōn Valentina Tumolo, 2024-10-31

Sealing practices were widespread across the Mediterranean and Southwest Asia from prehistoric to historic times This study is based on the author's analysis of the large assemblage of impressed ceramics from the site of Ḫirbet ez Zeraq n in northern Jordan
