Past and Present James Chapman, 2005-09-23 This ground breaking book takes as its focal point director Ken Loach's view that the only reason to make films that are a reflection on history is to talk about the present. In the first book to take on this major genre in all its complexity James Chapman argues that historical films say as much about the times in which they are made as about the past they purport to portray. Through in depth case studies of fourteen key films spanning the 1930s up to the turn of the twenty first century from The Private Life of Henry VIII and Zulu to Chariots of Fire and Elizabeth Chapman examines the place of historical films in British cinema history and film culture. Looking closely at the issues that they present from gender class and ethnicity to militarism and imperialism he also discusses controversies over historical accuracy and the ways in which devices such as voice overs title captions and visual references to photographs and paintings assert a sense of historical verisimilitude. Exploring throughout the book the dialectical relationship between past and present Chapman reveals how such films promote British achievements but also sometimes question them and how they project images of Britishness to audiences both in the UK and internationally.

The Cinema and Ireland Anthony Slide, 1988 Robert Goldstein and 'The Spirit of '76' Robert Goldstein, 1993-06 An essay and collection of primary documents on the making of the 1917 film The Spirit of 76 and the arrest and trial of its producer Goldstein for treason. The Slide Area Anthony Slide, 1992-12 The Slide Area is a monthly book review column by film historian Anthony Slide which has appeared in Classic Images since January 1989. This anthology collects over 300 reviews published in the column through December 1991. For each book the reviewer provides bibliographic data information as to content and his own inimitable commentary which combines both a thorough knowledge of the subject to hand and an understanding of each title's relative merit. Lillian Gish has called Slide "Our preeminent historian of the silent film era" and the Los Angeles Times has described him as a one man publishing phenomenon. This anthology will be useful both to librarians and to researchers in tracking down film and television books of the past three years many of which have not been reviewed in library oriented publications.

Gay and Lesbian Characters and Themes in Mystery Novels Anthony Slide, 1993 Perhaps John Jasper in Charles Dickens' The Mystery of Edwin Drood 1870 was the first homosexual in a mystery novel. For over 100 years thereafter depictions of gay men and lesbians were generally unsympathetic. Over 500 novels with homosexual characters or themes both mainstream and those specifically for gays and lesbians are examined in the present work. Each entry includes a plot synopsis and critical commentary. Where appropriate biographical information is provided on the author.
