century This is the first book devoted exclusively to Street and his greatest work the Royal Law Courts in the Strand In The Law Courts David Brownlee makes extensive use of the vast archives of the Public Record Office to document a monument that embodies both the professional controversies surrounding architectural theory and the personal conflicts of an architect caught between two generations of style More than an examination of a single building the book is also a history of political and legal reform in the middle of Queen Victoria's reign In the course of describing the Law Courts in their urban and architectural context Brownlee also discusses the nature of the bureaucracy that oversaw official patronage of the arts and the demands of clients whose interests often conflicted He describes the competition in which Street attempted to unite the irregular vigor of Gothic with the quasi classical symmetry and monumentality appropriate for a public building the long series of revised designs which increasingly displayed the picturesque qualities of the new Queen Anne taste and the actual construction of the Courts This book is volume 8 in the Architectural History Foundation Series
