Torrance* Paul D.

Molnar, 2016-02-17 This book provides an important study of the theology of Thomas F Torrance who is generally considered to have been one of the most significant theologians writing in English during the twentieth century with a view toward showing how his theological method and all his major doctrinal views were shaped by his understanding of the doctrine of the Trinity Torrance pursued a theology that was realist because he attempted to think in accordance with the unique nature of the object that is known In holding to such a methodology he drew an analogy between theology and natural science This book demonstrates how for Torrance God relates with humanity within time and space so that creation finds its meaning in relation to God and not in itself this enabled him to avoid many theological pitfalls such as agnosticism subjectivism and dualism while explaining the positive implications of various Christian doctrines in a penetrating and compelling manner This book offers an important resource for students of theology and for scholars who are interested in seeing how serious dogmatic theology shapes and should shape our understanding of the Christian life Towards African Missiology

Francis Anekwe Oborji, 2020-11-22 This volume reflects on a credible and a new language of Christian mission in Africa The author's thoughts and approaches not only provide a missiological insight which contribute to the repertoire of expanding fresh ideas in the missiological studies but also serves the purpose of highlighting the active participation of Africans in the missionary mandate of Jesus Christ In other words the scope of missiology needs a contextualized interpretation Thus he proposes a proactive language for missiology in Africa thereby underlining Africans as normal and full members of the human family In the light of the Vatican II mission theology the new language should be based on the fact that Africans will grow and do better in admiration and not in sympathy Interestingly the arguments in this volume opens the space for the on going discussions in the mission of the church in the era of secularization and post modernity Consequently a new language for missiology in Africa will come from the retrieval and modernization of our African cultural matrix pursued from the point of view of the daily struggles of the Africans themselves for survival which also addresses Africans in the spirit of cooperation

Cocksworth,2015-08-27 Ashley Cocksworth presents Karl Barth as a theologian who not only produces a strong and vibrant theology of prayer but also grounds theology itself in the practice of prayer Prayer and theology are revealed to be integrally related in Barth s understanding of the dogmatic task Cocksworth provides careful analysis of a range of key texts in Barth s thought in which the theme of prayer emerges with particular interest He analyzes Barth s writings on the Sabbath and uncovers an unexpected theology of contemplative prayer the doctrine of creation of the Church Dogmatics and explores its prioritization of petitionary prayer and the ethics of the doctrine of reconciliation in which a turn to invocation is charted and the final resting place of Barth s theology of prayer is found Through the theme of prayer fundamental questions are asked about the relation of human agency to divine agency as conceived by Barth and new insights are offered into his understandings of the nature and task of theology pneumatology sin baptism religion and sanctification The result is a rich engagement with Barth s theology of prayer an advancements of scholarship on Karl Barth and a constructive contribution to the theology of prayer The Trinitarian Dharma Pabitra Mani Bhandari,2025-02-25 As the gospel continues to spread to the farthest corners of the world the Christian faith encounters an array of diverse cultures religions philosophies and belief systems This encounter serves as a catalyst for transformation as Christianity both influences and is influenced by the new frontiers it reaches The book at hand endeavors to explore this dynamic process particularly focusing on the Trinitarian theology as a potent force for transformation Moreover it seeks to uncover the resonance between Christian concepts and the rich tapestry of Dharma thereby enhancing our understanding of the Trinity In essence this book serves as a pivotal example of how abstract theological ideas can be made relevant and meaningful in the context of a multicultural and multireligious world It embodies an approach to Christian theology that is both interreligious and interdisciplinary emanating from a global Christian perspective that embraces diversity and dialogue The Modern Theologians David Ford,1989

The Protestant Reformation and the Church and the World John Witte, Amy Wheeler, 2018-09-04 From a distinguished assembly of twelve internationally acclaimed scholars comes this rich interdisciplinary study that explores the Protestant Reformation and its revolutionary impact on the church and the world. The Reformation revolutionized the church and spiritual life as well as art, music, literature, architecture, and aesthetics. It transformed economics, trade, banking, and more transformations that shifted power away from the church to the state, unleashing radical new campaigns for freedom, equality, democracy, and constitutional order. In this authoritative but accessible study, the authors analyze the kaleidoscopic impact of the Reformation over the past 500 years, for better or worse, for richer or poorer, for the West and increasingly for the world.

Evangelical Christian Responses to Islam Richard McCallum, 2024-02-08 Do Christians and Muslims worship the same God? Who was Muhammad? How does the Israeli-Palestinian conflict affect Christian-Muslim relations? This is a book about Evangelical Christians and how they are answering challenging questions about Islam. Drawing on over 300 texts published by Evangelicals in the first two decades of the twenty-first century, this book explores what the Evangelical micro-public sphere has to say about key issues in Christian-Muslim relations today. From the books they write, the blogs they post, and the videos they make, it is clear that Evangelical Christians profoundly disagree with one another when discussing Islam. Answers to the questions range from seeing Muslims as the enemy posing an existential threat to Christians, through to welcoming them as good neighbours or even as close cousins.

Reasons to Hope Werner G. Jeanrond, 2020-02-20 Werner G. Jeanrond approaches hope from the perspective of a theology of love. He distinguishes human hopes from the hope which God has given to humanity. Jeanrond discusses the challenges of a Christian praxis of hope in today's world and invites both a new conversation on a future with God and a reassessment of the potential of hope for Christian discipleship. Jeanrond argues that memory is important for hope and that nobody can hope for herself or himself alone. Hope thus invites personal, communal, political, and global participation and transformation. Moreover, it gives rise to a powerful constellation of symbolic expressions including judgement, heaven, hell, and purgatory that call for ongoing interpretation. Ranging from radical hope and the hope for salvation to the power of judgment and contemporary fears about the future of nations, humankind, and the world, Jeanrond's latest work offers a theological contribution to the multireligious conversation on hope, death, and the human future in our universe. Postmodernity and Univocity Daniel P. Horan O.F.M., 2014-12-01

Nearly twenty-five years ago John Milbank inaugurated Radical Orthodoxy, one of the most significant and influential theological movements of the last two decades. In Milbank's Theology and Social Theory, he constructed a sweeping theological genealogy of the origins of modernity and the emergence of the secular, counterposed by a robust retrieval of traditional orthodoxy as the critical philosophical and theological mode of being in the postmodern world. That genealogy turns upon a critical point: the work of John Duns Scotus as the starting point of modernity and progenitor of a raft of philosophical and theological ills that have prevailed since. Milbank's account has been disseminated proliferously through Radical Orthodoxy and even beyond, and is largely uncontested in contemporary theology. The present volume conducts a comprehensive examination and critical analysis of Radical Orthodoxy's use and interpretation of John Duns Scotus. Daniel P. Horan O.F.M. offers a substantial challenge to the narrative of Radical Orthodoxy's idiosyncratic take on Scotus and his role in ushering in the philosophical age of the modern. This volume not only corrects the received account of Scotus but opens a constructive way forward toward a positive assessment and appropriation of Scotus's work for contemporary theology.
