Pacific War Revisited:

A Life Disturbed Merrel D. Clubb, Jr., 2011-06-01 An exceptional storyteller with an analytical eye Merrel Clubb has gathered the letters he sent his parents from the Pacific Theater of World War II and his subsequent reflections on that war and on his life into a kind of then and now memoir The letters are a treasure trove of humor anxiety and hope revealing a young man thrust into a war that he does not understand Through this exceptional portal on the past we learn of the tragic absurdity of war of a soldier trained for naval warfare but sent into land battle with weapons he'd never before fired of command post latrines at which even commanding officers were sitting ducks of the ghoulish trophies and mementos that soldiers collected from the battlefields The letters describe a vivid cast of characters from Clubb's childhood friend who instilled a love of poetry in his comrades to the hillbilly singer and the prostitute with whom the young Clubb had varied amorous adventures But the most compelling figure in this narrative is of course Clubb himself an intellectual who carried Jane Austen and Joseph Conrad along with his tommy gun who used books as a fortification for his foxhole discovering upon waking one morning that Ouspensky stopped a bullet and who in a darkly humorous moment wrote home that Plato is pretty consoling because I can always think that somewhere there is a perfect hell of a navy of which this is but an imitation or representation Returning to these letters years later prompts Clubb to look again at the Second World War and at the atomic bomb that ended it In an analysis as useful to understanding our own historical moment as it is to reconsidering the past Clubb counters the conventional wisdom shared by veterans and civilians alike particularly regarding the concept of a just war For Clubb as for so many veterans the war does not end with the victory over Japan Despite the intervening years Clubb finds that the haunting episodes experienced over half a century ago echo still Even in the solitude of the forest in the hunting parties he meets in the animals he himself kills he hears again the sound of battle sees again the faces of the victims of war Part letters part memoir and part scholarly analysis this volume ranges over a vast colorful and weighted territory From the battles and respites in the Pacific Islands to the night clubs and call girls of mainland San Francisco and San Diego from the relative quiet of his aptly named hometown Stillwater to the similarly quiet Montana backcountry Clubb's narrative explores the psychological terrain of a life disturbed and forever changed by war

The Pacific War Revisited Kanji Akagi, 1999? America's Fighting Admirals William Tuohy, 2007 American naval actions of World War II comprise the most widespread complex and dramatic battles in the history of sea warfare The fighting took place over vast distances in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans as well as in the constricted spaces of the Mediterranean and Solomon seas Each of the major actions had an admiral the commander in charge who led the battle In combat the abilities and determination of these commanders at sea were put to the most severe test America's Fighting Admirals describes the course of U S sea action in World War II It examines the skills strengths weaknesses and personalities of the American admirals who fought the battles at sea It examines the effect that stress tension and responsibility have on commanders making vital decisions in the red hot
