Martyrdom and Persecution in the Early Church W. H. C. Frend, 2014-04-15 Although the story of the triumphant rise of Christianity has often been told it was a triumph achieved through blood and tribulation The literal meaning of the term martyr meant witness but among early Christians it quickly acquired a harsher meaning one who died for the faith and that witness through death was responsible for many conversions including those of Justin Martyr who himself offered just such witness and perhaps even Tertullian Persecution was seen by early Christians as by later historians as one of the crucial influences on the development of the early church and Christian belief Why did the Roman Empire persecute Christians Why did thousands of Christians not merely accept but welcome martyrdom In his classic work Martyrdom and Persecution in the Early Church the late W H C Frend explores the mindset of Christians who suffered persecution as well as the motivations of those who persecuted them He shows the critical importance of Jewish ideas to early Christians heavily influenced as they were by the story of Daniel and the revolt of the Maccabean He argues that the Christian concept of martyrdom held in such high regard among early Christians can only be understood as springing from Jewish roots Frend explores a number of major persecutions to show both common themes and variations and examines also the relationship between the heavenly kingdom of Christ and the rule of the earthly emperor In doing so he shows how persecution formed an essential part in a providential philosophy of history that has profoundly influenced European political thought
