Painful Inheritance:

Pain Genetics Inna Belfer, Luda Diatchenko, 2013-11-15 Pain Genetics Basic to Translational Science is a timely synthesis of the key areas of research informing our understanding of the genetic basis of pain. The book opens with foundational information on basic genetic mechanisms underlying pain perception and progresses recently discovered complex concepts facing the field. The coverage is wide ranging and will serve as an excellent entry point into understating the genetics of pain as well as providing a single resource for established researchers looking for a better understanding of the diverse strands of research going on in the area. With contributors painstakingly selected to provide a broad range of perspectives and research, Pain Genetics will be a valuable resource for geneticists, neuroscientists and biomedical professionals alike.

Unpalatable Carrie Helms Tippen, 2025-01-15 The cookbook genre is highly conventional with an orientation toward celebration and success. From glossy photographs to heartwarming stories and adjective rich ingredient lists, the cookbook tradition primes readers for pleasure. Yet the overarching narrative of the region is often one of pain, loss, privation, exploitation, poverty and suffering of various kinds. While some cookbook writers go to great lengths to avoid reminding readers of this painful past, others invoke that pain as a marker of southern authenticity. Still others use stories of southern suffering as an opportunity to make space for reconciliation, reparation or apology for past wrongs. In Unpalatable Stories of Pain and Pleasure in Southern Cookbooks, author Carrie Helms Tippen attempts to understand the unique rhetorical situation of the southern cookbook as it negotiates a tension between the expectations of the genre and the prevailing metanarratives of the southern experience: one focused on pleasure and the other rooted in pain. Through an analysis of commercially published southern cookbooks from the 1990s to the present, Tippen examines the range of rhetorical purposes and strategies writers have employed, some of which undermine the reality of a painful past and cause harm or violence and others which serve as tools for truth and reconciliation.

Feminist Spiritualities Joshua R. Deckman, 2023-07-01 Feminist Spiritualities aims to complicate contemporary debates surrounding Black Latinx experiences within a critical framework of decolonial thought, women of color feminisms, politicized emotional structures and anti-imperial politics. Joshua R. Deckman considers literary and cultural productions from Puerto Rico, the Dominican Republic, Haiti, Cuba and their diasporas in the United States, exploring epistemic spaces that have historically been marked as irrational and inconsequential for the production of knowledge, including social media posts, song lyrics, public writings, speeches and personal interviews. Analyzing works by Yolanda Arroyo Pizarro, Mayra Santos Febres, Rita Indiana, Hernández Ana Maurine Lara, Elizabeth Acevedo, María Teresa Fernández Nitty Scott, Lxs Krudxs Cubensi and Ibeyi, Deckman shows how these authors develop afro epistemologies grounded in Caribbean feminist spiritualities and manifest a commitment to finding joy and love in difference. Literary anthropological and more Feminist Spiritualities weaves through a series of fields and methodologies in an undisciplined way to contribute new close readings of recent works and fresh assessments of well-known ones.

Transforming Pain to Power Daniel Beaty, 2014-03-04 Pain doesn't last always Sometimes only for a night Try not to resist It hurts the more we fight Overcoming life's difficulties is daunting At times it seems the burdens that we bear are too painful to overcome They keep us from even trying to accomplish the things we want most It seems the only way to outlast the pain is to ignore it when in truth the only way to discover the unlimited potential inside of us all is to embrace the pain face the Authentic Self at our core and use the strength therein to triumph over any obstruction in our way Based on his powerful true journey from a childhood rife with poverty incarceration addiction and rage to the successful adult life he achieved award winning performer writer and motivational speaker Daniel Beaty presents the tools that readers need to overcome any obstacle and tap into their full capabilities By outlining an alternative mode of thinking especially for the modern African American man bombarded by negative stereotypes in the media Beaty empowers the individual and encourages readers of all backgrounds to learn from their cultural and family heritage while forgiving and letting go of the negative so that only the positive remains Beaty's story supported by deeply personal advice from notable mentors such as Bill Cosby Leontyne Price Sydney Poitier Ossie Davis and Ruby Dee serves as a strong reminder that success is ultimately possible not in spite of struggles but as a result of lessons learned and power drawn from those lessons
