Painting Ghosts Australian Women Artists In Wartime:

Painting Ghosts Catherine Speck, 2004 Examines the art and life stories of numerous women in the Second World War including Grace Cossington Smith Dora Meeson Margaret Preston Jacqui Hicks Dorrit Black and Amie Kingston Some women became official war artists producing an alternative set of national images every bit as compelling as those of their male counterparts International Women Artists and War, 1560-2023 Deborah A. Deacon, 2024-09-19 Like many of their male peers women artists have used their chosen mediums to explore and express their reactions to the violence of war which they frequently experienced firsthand The 345 named artists discussed in this book come from diverse backgrounds across hundreds of years The book divides the 652 covered works of art into five general categories those that provide support for the war effort those that oppose war and or support peace those that document the impacts of war on the individuals who fight and the civilians who experience it those that commemorate and memorialize the events and participants in war and general representations of those who fight While most of the women who documented the impact of war on those who experienced it were professional artists self taught artists have told equally compelling stories in their works Whether working in a studio or on the battlefield the women s professionalism and dedication allowed them to convey the impact of war powerfully Australian Women War Reporters Jeannine Baker, 2015-09-01 This is the hidden story of Australian and New Zealand women war reporters who fought for equality with their male colleagues and filed stories from the main conflicts of the twentieth century In Australian Women War Reporters Jeannine Baker provides a much needed account of the pioneering women who reported from the biggest conflicts of the twentieth century Two women covered the South African War at the turn of the century and Louise Mack witnessed the fall of Antwerp in 1914 Others such as Anne Matheson Lorraine Stumm and Kate Webb wrote about momentous events including the rise of Nazism the liberation of the concentration camps the aftermath of the atomic bombing of Hiroshima and the Cold War conflicts in Korea and Southeast Asia These women carved a path for new generations of female foreign correspondents who have built upon their legacy Jeannine Baker deftly draws out the links between the experiences of these women and the contemporary realities faced by women journalists of war including Monica Attard and Ginny Stein allowing us to see both in a new light Nora Heysen: A Portrait Anne-Louise Willoughby, 2019-04-01 Hahndorf artist Nora Heysen was the first woman to win the Archibald Prize and Australia s first female painter to be appointed as an official war artist A portraitist and a flower painter Nora Heysen s life was defined by an all consuming drive to draw and paint In 1989 aged 78 Nora re emerged on the Australian art scene when the nation s major art institutions restored her position after years of artistic obscurity Extensively researched and containing artworks and photographs from the painter s life this is the first biography of the artist and it has been enthusiastically embraced by the Heysen family This authorized biography coincides with a major retrospective of the works of Nora and her father landscape painter Hans Heysen to be held at the National Gallery of Victoria in March 2019 Constructing the Memory of War in
