Palaeolithic Archaeology In Iran:

Philip Edward Lake Smith, 1986 The Archaeology of Iran from the Palaeolithic to the Achaemenid Empire Roger Matthews, Hassan Fazeli Nashli, 2022-06-30 The Archaeology of Iran from the Palaeolithic to the Achaemenid Empire is the first modern academic study to provide a synthetic diachronic analysis of the archaeology and early history of all of Iran from the Palaeolithic period to the end of the Achaemenid Empire at 330 BC Drawing on the authors deep experience and engagement in the world of Iranian archaeology and in particular on Iran based academic networks and collaborations this book situates the archaeological evidence from Iran within a framework of issues and debates of relevance today Such topics include human environment interactions climate change and societal fragility the challenges of urban living individual and social identity gender roles and status the development of technology and craft specialisation and the significance of early bureaucratic practices such as counting writing and sealing within the context of evolving societal formations Richly adorned with more than 500 illustrations many of them in colour and accompanied by a bibliography with more than 3000 entries this book will be appreciated as a major research resource for anyone concerned to learn more about the role of ancient Iran in shaping the modern world Methodological Aspects of Iranian Archaeology Kamal Aldin Niknami, 2000 This book offers an overview of the history and present state of archaeology in Iran taking the Palaeolithic as a case study The first goal is to evaluate the distinctively national characteristics of archaeology in Iran specifically developments in the 1960s and 1970s in relation to the New Archaeology in the USA Not all of that agenda was adopted and because it was pioneered by anthropologists on relatively recent and simple New World sites it is not totally applicable to the long historical sequence of complex Iranian mounds The author argues that Iranian archaeology was in a sense left behind out of date and generally atheoretical as its traditional authority structure prevented discussion of new ideas it is predicted that the future will see a move to smaller projects deliberately designed to answer specific problems together with a necessary focus on conservation and heritage management New Investigations Into the Palaeolithic Archaeology of Iran in Context of the Western Asia Mohammad Javad Shoaee, 2024* This thesis explores Iran s Palaeolithic history focusing on environmental impacts and dispersal routes influencing hominin populations across the Iranian Plateau and Zagros Mountains Located at a key Western Asian crossroads Iran provides unique insights into hominin evolution cultural adaptations and interspecies interactions Through archaeological palaeohydrological and environmental analyses this research addresses major gaps in our understanding of hominin dispersals lithic technology transitions and notable site findings including Pebdeh Cave A review of Iran s Palaeolithic sites reveals critical gaps especially in the Middle to Upper Palaeolithic MP UP transition The study examines lithic assemblages combining MP and UP traits contributing to an understanding of the Initial Upper Palaeolithic IUP in Iran The palaeohydrological study identifies 115 palaeolakes and over 145 000 km of river systems emphasizing water s role as a corridor for early settlements and movements Key findings from

Pebdeh Cave dated to 42 000 36 000 years ago suggest its role as a hunting station The unique lithic assemblage blending MP and UP traits provides insights into transitional phases in the Zagros Compared broadly Pebdeh s tools align with IUP definitions displaying elongated points and volumetric blade production Bayesian modeling places Pebdeh within a period of rapid technological evolution 44 000 38 000 years ago This research positions Iran as essential for understanding hominin dispersals and evolution Challenges like limited stratified sites sparse chronological data and geopolitical restrictions underscore the need for interdisciplinary approaches to unlock Iran s archaeological potential This thesis advances knowledge on hominin history in Western Asia revealing migration adaptation and ecological context in early hominin evolution

The Archaeology of Iran from the Palaeolithic to the Achaemenid Empire Roger Matthews,Hassan Fazeli Nashli,Amy Richardson,2022 The Archaeology of Iran from the Palaeolithic to the Achaemenid Empire is the first modern academic study to provide a synthetic diachronic analysis of the archaeology and early history of all of Iran from the Palaeolithic period to the end of the Achaemenid Empire at 330 BC Drawing on the authors deep experience and engagement in the world of Iranian archaeology and in particular on Iran based academic networks and collaborations this book situates the archaeological evidence from Iran within a framework of issues and debates of relevance today Such topics include human environment interactions climate change and societal fragility the challenges of urban living individual and social identity gender roles and status the development of technology and craft specialisation and the significance of early bureaucratic practices such as counting writing and sealing within the context of evolving societal formations Richly adorned with more than 500 illustrations many of them in colour and accompanied by a bibliography with more than 3000 entries this book will be appreciated as a major research resource for anyone concerned to learn more about the role of ancient Iran in shaping the modern world

Dorothy Garrod and the Progress of the Palaeolithic William Davies,Ruth Charles,2017-03-20 Dorothy Garrod opened many doors not only was she the first female professor at Cambridge University but she illuminated and in some cases initiated some of prehistoric archaeology s most central issues The quiet yet self possessed woman was best known as a fieldworker often venturing into dangerous regions such as Kurdistan Her first and highly successful excavation revealed fragments of Neanderthal fossils in Gibraltar This volume reviews modern research on this site as well as exploring other issues which interested the Disney Professor of Archaeology hominid remains from Mount Carmel Palaeolithic sites in the Zagros Mountains Bulgaria and Britain and the cultural evidence for the beginning of Near Eastern food production which Garrod called Natufian Also included are papers concerned with her life background and published work The topics span and continuing relevance are testament to Dorothy Garrod s remarkable character and great achievements

The Middle and Upper Paleolithic Archeology of the Levant and Beyond Yoshihiro Nishiaki,Takeru Akazawa,2017-12-06 This volume is a compilation of results from sessions of the Second International Conference on the Replacement of Neanderthals by Modern Humans which took place between November 30 and December 6 2014 in

Hokkaido Japan Similar to the first conference held in 2012 in Tokyo the 2014 conference RNMH2014 aimed to compile the results of the latest multidisciplinary approaches investigating the issues surrounding the replacement of Neanderthals by modern humans The results of the sessions supplemented by off site contributions center on the archeology of the Middle and Upper Paleolithic of the Levant and beyond The first part of this volume presents recent findings from the Levant while the second part focuses on the neighboring regions namely the Caucasus the Zagros and South Asia The 13 chapters in this volume highlight the distinct nature of the cultural occurrences during the Middle and Upper Paleolithic periods of the Levant displaying a continuous development as well as a combination of lithic traditions that may have originated in different regions This syncretism which is an unusual occurrence in the regions discussed in this volume reinforces the importance of the Levant as a region for interpreting the RNMH phenomenon in West Asia

The Paleolithic Prehistory of the Zagros-Taurus Deborah Olszewski, 1993-01-29 Situated between Europe Asia and the Levantine corridor to Africa the Zagros Taurus region has enormous potential for the study of human adaptation and population movement during the Pleistocene While archaeological work was done in this area 40 years ago much of it remains unpublished The political situation restricts research by archaeologists This volume includes new data and major syntheses of the Paleolithic prehistory of the region with reports of key sites and industries By filling a major gap in our understanding of this area it represents an essential reference for Near Eastern and Paleolithic specialists University Museum Symposium Series V

The Neolithisation of Iran Hassan Fazeli Nashli, 2013-12-11 The period c 10 000 5000 BC witnessed fundamental changes in the human condition with societies across the Fertile Crescent shifting their alignment from millennia old practices of seasonally mobile hunting and foraging to year round sedentism plant cultivation and animal herding The significant role of Iran in the early stages of this transition was recognised more than half a century ago but has not been to the fore of academic consciousness in recent decades In the meantime investigations into Neolithic transformation have proceeded apace in all other regions of the Fertile Crescent and beyond Here 18 studies attempt to redress that balance in re assessing the role of Iran in the early neolithisation of human societies These studies many of them by Iranian scholars consider patterns of change and or continuity across a variety of topographical landscapes investigate Neolithic settlement patterns the use of caves animal exploitation and environmental indicators and present new insights into some well known and some newly investigated sites The results re affirm the formative role of this region in the transition to sedentary farming

The Epipalaeolithic and Neolithic in the Eastern Fertile Crescent Tobias Richter, Hojjat Darabi, 2023-11-30 This volume brings together the latest results and discussions from research carried out in the eastern Fertile Crescent the so called hilly flanks and adjacent regions as well as providing key historical perspectives on earlier fieldwork in the region The emergence of sedentary food producing societies in southwest Asia ca 10 000 years ago has been a key research focus for archaeologists since the 1930s This book provides a balance to the weight of work undertaken in the western Fertile Crescent namely the Levant and southern Anatolia This preference has led to a heavy emphasis on these regions in discussions about where when and how the transition from hunting and gathering to plant cultivation and animal domestication occurred Chapters assess the role of the eastern Fertile Crescent as a key region in the Neolithization process in southwest Asia highlighting the key and important contributions people in this region made to the emergence of sedentary farming societies This book is primarily aimed at academics researching the transition from hunting and gathering to agriculture in southwest Asia It will also be of interest to archaeologists working on this transition in other parts of Eurasia
