Hart, S.J. Batenburg, B.T. Huber, G.D. Price, N. Thibault, M. Wagreich, I. Walaszczyk, 2025-04-02 The Cretaceous was first mentioned in the legend of a geological map largely centred on France published in 1822 by Jean Baptiste Julien d Omalius d Halloy Two hundred years of research have demonstrated that the Cretaceous records some of the highest sea levels atmospheric temperatures and extreme events in Earth history It was also a time of significant palaeogeographical changes and continental fragmentation This volume draws together a collection of papers that demonstrate these particularly Cretaceous events of warm climates sea level change and the impact of major volcanic events on the fauna and flora of the time Geochemical and stable isotope data are used to interpret these changing environments and their impact on the Cretaceous ecosystem The volume closes with a description of the recent drilling of the Chicxulub bolide impact site Climate Change in Deserts Martin Williams, 2014-08-11 Reconstructing climatic changes in deserts and their margins at a variety of scales in space and time this book draws upon evidence from land and sea including desert dunes wind blown dust river and lake sediments glacial moraines plant and animal fossils isotope geochemistry speleothems soils and prehistoric archaeology The book summarises the Cenozoic evolution of the major deserts of the Americas Eurasia Africa and Australia and the causes of historic floods and droughts The book then considers the causes and consequences of desertification and proposes four key conditions for achieving ecologically sustainable use of natural resources in arid and semi arid areas Climate Change in Deserts is an invaluable reference for researchers and advanced students interested in the climate and geomorphology of deserts geographers geologists ecologists archaeologists soil scientists hydrologists climatologists and natural resource managers When the Sahara Was Green Martin Williams, 2023-11-07 The little known history of how the

Sahara was transformed from a green and fertile land into the largest hot desert in the world The Sahara is the largest hot desert in the world equal in size to China or the United States Yet this arid expanse was once a verdant pleasant land fed by rivers and lakes The Sahara sustained abundant plant and animal life such as Nile perch turtles crocodiles and hippos and attracted prehistoric hunters and herders What transformed this land of lakes into a sea of sands When the Sahara Was Green describes the remarkable history of Earth s greatest desert including why its climate changed the impact this had on human populations and how scientists uncovered the evidence for these extraordinary events From the Sahara s origins as savanna woodland and grassland to its current arid incarnation Martin Williams takes us on a vivid journey through time He describes how the desert s ancient rocks were first fashioned how dinosaurs roamed freely across the land and how it was later covered in tall trees Along the way Williams addresses many questions Why was the Sahara previously much wetter and will it be so again Did humans contribute to its desertification What was the impact of extreme climatic episodes such as prolonged droughts upon the Sahara s geology ecology and inhabitants Williams also shows how plants animals and humans have adapted to the Sahara and what lessons we might learn for living in harmony with the harshest driest conditions in an ever changing global environment A valuable look at how an iconic region has changed over millions of years When the Sahara Was Green reveals the desert s surprising past to reflect on its present as well as its possible future Oklahoma Geology Notes ,1980
