Patricia De Lille:

View from City Hall Patricia De Lille, Craig Kesson, 2017-09-07 The 21st century belongs to cities especially those of a rapidly urbanising Africa South Africa experienced a historic change in city government in 2016 when three major metros changed political leadership The realities that city governments must confront range from dynamic population growth to the potential presented by breakthroughs in digital innovations In View from City Hall Patricia de Lille and Craig Kesson scrutinise the complexities of governing a growing city including what it means to run a modern city with a particular historical context like Cape Town and the choices that must be made for a better future

A House Divided Crispian Olver, 2019-10-10 It's 2018 and Cape Town is wracked by its worst drought on record The prospect of Day Zero when the taps will run dry is driving citizens into a frenzy Then the ruling Democratic Alliance removes control of the water issue from Mayor Patricia de Lille While politicians turn on each other revealing deep lying faultlines and new enmities it raises a critical question who will lead the Mother City through the crisis Against this fraught backdrop author and academic Crispian Olver resolves to explore how the city of his childhood is run and he sets his sights in particular on the relationship between local politicians and property developers Interviewing numerous people including many dropped from the City administration in often questionable circumstances he uncovers a Pandora's box of backstabbing infighting and backroom deals Olver explores dodgy property developments in the agriculturally sensitive area of Philippi on the scenic West Coast and along the glorious and lucrative Atlantic Seaboard delves into attempts to hijack civic associations and exposes the close yet precarious relationship between the mayor and City Hall's laptop boys And in blistering detail he gets to grips with the political meltdown within the DA and the defection of De Lille to form her own party

Patricia de Lille Charlene Smith, 2002 Nelson Mandela called her his favourite opposition politician she is a very strong principled woman he said of her Many say they would vote for her if she decided to run for president She has consistently been voted South Africa's favourite politician after Mandela in recent years Although she represents a small party with a primarily radical black support base her appeal eclipses that of her party the Pan Africanist Congress Among the letters of support in her files are those from opposition politicians and parliamentarians to messages of approval from old white grandmothers and radical young black trade unionists The belief of Robert Sobukwe founder of the Pan Africanist Congress that an African was anyone who gave allegiance to Africa regardless of their skin colour resonated with me It gave me an identity and a home Rhoda Khadalie a former ANC stalwart and Human Rights Commissioner says I am convinced she can start a new political party on the basis of diverse popular support across race lines She is a critical voice in South Africa She is compassionate she cries about things but more than that she gets out of parliament and goes to communities she listens to people she works for them she is unlike any other politician at this stage in South Africa She lives her democratic principles

The Oxford Handbook of Food, Water and Society Tony Allan,Brendan Bromwich,Martin Keulertz,Anthony Colman,2019-09-27 Food water and society what is managed by whom and with what impacts Our food supply chains are at risk Water resources sometimes scarce often damaged and always under valued are among the major reasons why food and water security rank high every year in the World Economic Forum s major global risk analysis A stable and sustainable food system is critical to society s survival This Handbook shows that keeping the food system stable comes at the expense of the environment especially of water resources and those who consume and manage them The way the food system operates reflects hard political realities Rather than pay for the environmental costs of sustainable production society expects food at ever lower prices Governments reflect their electorates in this regard Given that farm production may account for as little as 10% of the food value chain in wealthy economies it is striking that governments have been unwilling or unable to put in place the essential laws and accountability that would enable famers to ensure both production and stewardship Corporate food traders food manufacturers and retailers on the other hand operate in markets that make profits and pay taxes But these corporations are not contractually bound to utilize highly nutritious sustainably produced food commodities The articles in this Oxford Handbook have been written by water and food system scientists and professionals including farmers rarely heard voices who understand the problems of food producers food manufacturers and regulating markets and public policy The articles address the blind spots of society and its public policymakers demonstrating the importance of informing society about the consequences of its food preferences and the heroic challenges it is beginning to face The damage we are doing to our water and soil ecosystems is as important as the damage we do to the atmosphere Impressed by the technical and organizational advances of the past two centuries the contributors featured in this book also take note of where economic inefficiencies and cultural deadlock in a 4 000 year old system are putting our critical food supply chains at risk

Democracy in Practice S. Rai, R. Johnson, 2014-12-09 This collection makes a compelling case for the importance of studying ceremony and ritual in deepening our understanding of modern democratic parliaments It reveals through rich case studies that modes of behaviour the negotiation of political and physical spaces and the creation of specific institutional cultures underpin democracy in practice Mmusi Maimane S'Thembiso Msomi, 2016-07-01 Mr Maimane good evening to you and with the greatest of respect who are you This is how journalist Jeremy Maggs began his television interview with Mmusi Maimane in 2011 when he was unveiled as the Democratic Alliance s mayoral candidate for Johannesburg Since then the charismatic Maimane s rise from obscurity to leader of the DA in 2015 has been nothing short of meteoric His anointment as leader of the DA made history marking the completion of this political party s transformation from a white political party to one whose new leader shared similar experiences to those of the majority of voters Yet there are those even within the party who denounce Maimane as nothing more than a puppet dancing to the tune of former leader Helen Zille and Eastern Cape leader Athol Trollip So who is the real Maimane Experienced political reporter S'Thembiso Msomi goes behind the scenes to examine how and why Maimane rose to head up the opposition party He delves into Maimane s formative years his time at the pulpit in the church and his family to bring substance to the man Msomi also examines Maimane s first year as head of the DA in the run up to the local government elections assessing how this young man has negotiated the often treacherous waters of political power Finally the author attempts to answer these burning questions is Maimane his own man and can he deliver the electorate that the DA so fervently desires
