Natoli, Linda Hutcheon, 1993-01-01 These readings are organized into four sections The first explores the wellsprings of the debates in the relationship between the postmodern and the enterprise it both continues and contravenes modernism Here philosophers social and political commentators as well as cultural and literary analysts present controversial background essays on the complex history of postmodernism The readings in the second section debate the possibility or desirability of trying to define the postmodern given its cultural agenda of decentering challenging even undermining the guiding master narratives of Western culture The readings in the third section explore postmodernism s complicated complicity with these very narratives while the fourth section moves from theory to practice in order to investigate in a variety of fields the common denominators of the postmodern condition in action A Quarter-century of Normalization and Social Role Valorization Robert John Flynn, Raymond A. Solution-based Casework William C. Barrett, 2020-08-13 Solution based casework is an approach to assessment case planning and case management that combines what we know from clinical social work with what we value about sound social work practice It is grounded in family centered social work and draws from clinical approaches within social work and mental health By integrating problem and solution focused approaches that form the clinical and social work traditions treatment partnerships are more easily formed between family caseworker and service provider Solution Based Casework is a skill based practice oriented text that provides the specific guidance that students and new practitioners need in order to make sense quickly of the complex tasks of assessment and case planning in child welfare The book flows out of a long practice experience and was developed in consultation with workers and supervisors who were attempting to remedy problems viewed as contributing to recurrent abuse and neglect It seeks to end adversarial relationships in casework and advocates case plans based on specific outcome skills rather than on those written with vague outcome goals measuring attendance in counseling It serves as a common conceptual framework for integrating disparate segments of a response network thereby allowing all providers in a therapeutic system to work toward common goals The text is divided into three sections In Section I the conceptual history and theoretical foundations of solution based casework are presented so that the reader can place this approach to casework within the ongoing professional conversation about what constitutes sound practice Section II addresses issues of assessment and case planning Section III focuses on case management issues and how treatment team members experience a solution based casework approach Patterns of Thought in Africa and the West Robin Horton, 1997-07-13 Robin Horton s critical and creative writings on African religious thought have influenced anthropologists philosophers and all those interested in the comparative study of religion and thought This selection of some of his classic papers with a new introduction and postscript by the author traces Horton's theoretical ideas over thirty years. In attempting to understand African religious thought he also tackles broader issues in the history and sociology of thought such as secularisation and modernisation. Part I is a critical assessment of two established interpretive approaches: the Symbolist and the Theological. Part II proposes an alternative Intellectualist approach that emphasises the structural and processual similarities between religious and scientific thinking. The postscript appraises the Intellectualist approach in the light of theorising about religion and world views. Rural Modernity, Everyday Life and Visual Culture Rosemary Shirley, 2016-03-03

Through the lens of the everyday this book explores the countryside as an inhabited and practised realm with lived rhythms and routines. It relocates the topography of everyday life from its habitually urban focus out into the English countryside. The rural is often portrayed as existing outside of modernity or as its passive victim. Here the rural is recast as an active and complex site of modernity, a shift which contributes alternative ways of thinking the rural and a new perspective on the everyday. In each chapter pieces of visual culture including scrapbooks, art works, adverts, photographs and films are presented as tools of analysis which articulate how aspects of the everyday might operate differently in non-metropolitan places. The book features new readings of the work of significant artists and photographers such as Jeremy Deller and Alan Kane. Stephen Willats, Anna Fox, Andrew Cross, Tony Ray Jones and Homer Sykes seen through this rural lens together with analysis of visually fascinating archival materials including early Shell Guides and rarely seen scrapbooks made by the Women's Institute. Combining everyday life, rural modernity and visual cultures, this book is able to uncover new and different stories about the English countryside and contribute significantly to current thinking on everyday life, rural geographies and visual cultures. Catalog of Copyright Entries. Everyday Life Richard Grallo, 2021-12-27. In Question and Insight in Everyday Life: A Blueprint for Transformative Problem Solving, Richard Grallo examines the nature and patterns of human problem solving. Grallo identifies four patterns of problem solving that together result in complex human learning and growth. The four patterns constitute a cycle that is transformative not only of problematic situations but of the problem solvers themselves. This book also explores the roles of questions, insights, the desire to know and social trust in problem solving. Its conclusions apply equally to the problems of everyday life as well as to challenges that arise in educational counseling, political engineering and science fields. The Soul in

Everyday Life Daniel Chapelle, 2003-09-25. The Soul in Everyday Life argues that modern psychology has given up on dealing with the idea of soul or psyche even though the field is named after it If psychology wishes to be truly satisfying it needs to be more than behavioral science according to Daniel Chappelle He concludes that psychology can only satisfy the deepest human needs when it can offer a sense of soul in everyday life He explores ways of restoring this sense of soul to everyday life by examining how talk about something as elusive as the soul is possible and by reanimating a sense for what the notion of soul can mean Working in the tradition of Nietzsche Freud Jung and Jung's student James Hillman Chappelle reaches back into millennia of Western thought to reanimate the dying sense of soul in everyday life and put the psyche back in psychology

Freedom and Dissatisfaction in the Works of Agnes Heller Lucy Jane Ward, 2016-12-27
Ward s book focuses on the work of the Hungarian philosopher Agnes Heller prominent member of the Budapest School a group of students who studied under the Marxist social theorist Gy rgy Luk cs For both Marx and Heller albeit in different ways dissatisfaction emerges as the inevitable result of the expansion of needs within modernity and as a catalyst for the development of anthropological wealth what Marx refers to as the human being rich in need Ward argues that dissatisfaction and the corresponding category of human wealth as both motif and method is central to grasping Heller's seemingly disparate writings While Marx postulates a radical overcoming of dissatisfaction Heller argues dissatisfaction is integral not only to the ongoing survival of modernity but also to the dynamics of both freedom and individual life In this way Heller's work remains committed to a position that both continually returns and departs is both with and against the philosophy of Marx This book will be of interest to scholars of political philosophy social theory critical theory and sociology
